BRYAN BUMPED BY UNDERWOOD ON MONEY TRUST

BRYAN'S "YOKE" SPURNED BY THE HOUSE DEMOCRATS

Resolution for Special Committee to Probe Money Trust Defeated 115 to 66—Regular Committees Will Do Probing—Powerful Speech by Underwood in Defense.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C February 7.—(Special.)—Representative Oscar Underwood was sustained by a vote of 115 to 66 tonight in defying Mr. Bryan and his lash and in providing that the regular committees of the house should undertake the investigation into the "money trust" of the country.

The house caucus on the resolution which has been a bone of contention for many weeks lasted for three hours, and finally adopted the Underwood substitute for the Henry resolution by a vote of 115 to 66.

Georgians Supported Underwood.

The Georgia delegation supported Mr. Underwood, Representative Brantley being one of the leaders in the fight and making a strong and ringing appeal in behalf of the course of procedure favored by the house leader.

Through editorials in The Commoner, and by means of telegrams to Washington, William J. Bryan has urged a special committee to probe financial conditions with especial reference to the control of the money market. Those who opposed his plan were said to be in the control of the money trust. But his appeals were powerless. The house democrats refused to follow his advice but chose instead to let the regularly organized committees of the house do the work.

The caucus then instructed the standing committees of the house on banking and currency, judiciary, interstate commerce and elections to proceed with the inquiry.

Sharp Criticism of Bryan.

The democrats adopted the plan offered by Representative Underwood, the majority leader, as a substitute for the special investigating committee asked for in the resolution submitted by Representative Henry, of Texas. Sharp criticism of William J. Bryan for his imputations that the banking and currency committee of the house leaned toward the financial interests and the passage of a resolution expressing confidence in that committee characterized the debate.

A roll call, enforced under a new rule, was made public after the caucus. Among those who supported the Underwood resolution were Speaker Clark, Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee, Clayton of the judiciary committee, Adamson of the interstate commerce committee, Pujo of the banking and currency committee and members of those committees. The Henry resolution was supported by Representatives James, of Kentucky; Burleson, of Texas, chairman of the caucus; Stanley, of Kentucky; Moss, of Indiana; Rainey, of Illinois, and the Bryan democrats of the house.

It Was Bryan and Anti-Bryan.

The caucus was the liveliest the democrats have had in years and certainly the most spirited since the party has been in control of the house. From the beginning there was a fight between the Bryan and the anti-Bryan democrats.

Chairman Henry, in urging the appointment of a special committee to investigate the "money trust," made a vehement appeal for the adoption of his plan. Mr. Henry denied he was inspired by Mr. Bryan to demand a special committee. He emphasizes the influence of the "money trust" over the capital of corporations, railroads and banks, and its influence in national elections and in legislation.

Majority Leader Underwood made a powerful appeal for the adoption of his substitute for the Henry resolution. His plan set forth primarily that all matters of legislation and investigation of the character proposed should be confined to the standing committees of the house, and provided specifically that the subject suggested for inquiry in the Henry resolution be referred respectively to the committees on banking and currency, election of president, vice president and repre-

JAMES J. HILL IS BEING CHASED BY CONGRESS SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

Washington, February 7.—James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad, was sought tonight by a deputy sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives, with a subpoena from the Stanley steel trust investigating committee, returnable next Monday. Deputy Sergeant-at-arms White was despatched with it to Jekyl Island, Ga., where Mr. Hill was reported to be sojourning.

Several days ago it was publicly reported that the Stanley committee desired the attendance of Mr. Hill as a witness in the inquiry, but he could not be found. A search for his whereabouts was then instituted.

After White had been en route to Jekyl Island several hours word came to the committee that Mr. Hill, instead of going to Jekyl Island, had come to Washington and was visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Hill. At the Hill home, it was said that Mr. Hill was not in Washington.

From another source word was communicated to the headquarters of the committee that Mr. Hill, knowing of the subpoena, had agreed to accept service, and would appear next Monday.

The committee seeks information from Mr. Hill regarding the Lake Superior ore fields, the so-called Hill lease of those fields to the United States Steel Corporation, which recently was ordered canceled in 1915, and the transportation facilities of the steel corporation.

Hill on Jekyl Island.

Brunswick, Ga., February 7.—Information was obtained here late tonight that James J. Hill, with his secretary, wife and daughter, are on Jekyl island. As soon as it became known here that there was some doubt as to Mr. Hill's whereabouts, an effort was made here to find him. It was stated in answer to queries that he is on the island, having reached there several days ago.

DR. M'ARTHUR WILL COME AS SUPPLY PASTOR

So States in Letter Read to Tabernacle Congregation Last Night.

OFFICIAL ANSWER WILL BE GIVEN FEBRUARY 12

That Dr. Henry Stuart MacArthur will come to Atlanta, in response to the call extended him by the Baptist Tabernacle, even though he should act only as supply pastor, is considered certain, from a letter received by the deacons of the church yesterday morning.

This was the announcement made to the congregation at the regular weekly prayer service held last night.

While the acceptance is not considered official, the letter has encouraged officials of the church to believe that the eminent divine will certainly come to Atlanta.

In this letter, which is dated London, and is in answer to the cables sent Dr. MacArthur by the deacons and Dr. Len G. Broughton, retiring pastor, the noted Baptist divine and president of the Baptist World's Alliance, states further that he will not make formal answer until his arrival in New York, on February 12. He expresses his thanks and appreciation of the offer, which he says was entirely unexpected. A copy of the letter was sent to Dr. Broughton.

"We feel quite sure that Dr. MacArthur will come to Atlanta, in the capacity of supply pastor. By this is meant a pastor for an indefinite time, until the pastorship is terminated by mutual consent. That is the difference between supply pastor and permanent pastor."

Dr. MacArthur states in the letter that he will consult further with his wife about the matter, who is now in Savannah. It is thought probable that he will go to that city at once. He is expected in Atlanta March 1, in readiness for the Bible conference, which he is to attend.

The arrival of Dr. MacArthur is anticipated with much joy and satisfaction by the members of the church, as they consider him the logical man for the place.

"Dr. MacArthur will be the real pastor in every sense of the word," said Dr. Broughton. "It will not be a case of any assistant doing the work, with MacArthur as a figurehead. He will be the true and real leader of the Baptist Tabernacle congregation."

NAGEL FOR SUPREME BENCH; NEGROES BEAT JUDGE HOOK

Washington, February 7.—The existing vacancy on the supreme court bench, the fifth that has occurred in the present administration, probably will be filled by the appointment of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Charles Nagel, of St. Louis.

President Taft is expected to send the nomination of Mr. Nagel to the senate within a few days. United States Judge William C. Hook, of Kansas, who until last night was most prominently mentioned for the vacancy, is said to have been eliminated from further consideration at an hour's session of the cabinet today. All of the lawyers in the cabinet except Mr. Nagel were present, and afterward it was learned the president had made clear his intention of appointing his secretary of commerce and labor.

This report was so generally credited tonight that rumor was busy with a possible successor to Mr. Nagel in the cabinet. Louis Marshall, of New York, and Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, were mentioned among those who would be considered.

Judge Hook's name was scratched from the president's list today almost at the eleventh hour. This action was said to be due to his concurrence in a "jim crow" law decision in an Oklahoma railroad case. Both the president and Attorney General Wickersham are understood to hold the opinion that Judge Hook "went too far" in this case, and Secretary of State Knox, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Interior Fisher, other lawyers present at the cabinet meeting, evidently agreed.

Strong protests against the appointment of Judge Hook were made by negroes.

According to Kansans at the white house today, the latest protests against Judge Hook have grown out of an Oklahoma case in which an attempt was made to secure dining car and sleeping car privileges for negroes.

The United States court, Judge Hook concurring, decided that it was optional with the railroad to furnish these cars for negroes. Representative Anthony, of Kansas, told President Taft today that many negroes in his state had withdrawn their protests against Judge Hook.

DID SPECULATORS IN FLORIDA LANDS CONTROL WILSON?

House Committee Says It Looks That Way and Will Order Thorough Probe.

CIRCULAR OF WARNING SUPPRESSED BY WILSON

This Circular Told the Truth About Everglades and It Is Alleged Speculators Didn't Want It Printed—McCabe Says Charges Against Wilson Are False.

Washington, February 7.—Thorough investigation of the charges that government reports on Florida Everglade lands were suppressed by officials of the department of agriculture at the instance of land speculators and that department engineers were dismissed because of controversies in this connection was determined upon today by the democratic members of the house committee on expenditures in the department of agriculture.

Formal Order for Probe.

After a conference, Representative Moss, of Indiana, chairman of the committee, declared that the formal order for the inquiry would be executed at a meeting of the full committee tomorrow.

"The committee has determined that there are circumstances in connection with this case which need thorough investigation," said Chairman Moss, "and we already have decided to subpoena as one of the first witnesses J. O. Wright, the chief drainage engineer of the state of Florida, formerly an engineer in the drainage division of the department of agriculture, who made charges against his former associate engineers in the department which resulted in their dismissal last Saturday by order of Secretary Wilson."

A statement issued tonight by Solicitor McCabe, of the department of agriculture, with the approval of Secretary Wilson, declares that the charges against the department are untrue, and that "the effort to besmirch the secretary of agriculture will fail."

Witnesses to Be Called.

The house committee tomorrow will plan the form of the investigation and probably the first witness will be the chief accountant of the department of agriculture. A. aZppone, who also was first to appear as a witness in the case against Dr. Wiley.

"C. G. Elliott, former chief engineer of the drainage division, and his assistant, A. D. Morehouse, who were dismissed upon recommendation of Solicitor McCabe, today engaged as counsel to represent them at the hearings Henry E. Davis, who defended Dr. Wiley.

The determination to sift to the bottom the circumstances concerning the department of agriculture's relations with the Florida land cases were preceded by a conference between Senators Duncan U. Fletcher and Nathan P. Bryan, of Florida, and Chairman Moss early in the day. The senators called upon the representative as soon as they learned of the proposed inquiry. Neither of them would make a statement, but both asked to be present at the hearings.

Statement by McCabe.

Solicitor McCabe's statement, approved by Secretary Wilson, follows:

"In a prejudiced, one-sided state-

YEAR'S WORK FOR PARKS OUTLINED

Committee Will Present Recommendations to Council Today.

Smaller Fresh Air Spots for Recreation and Pleasure To Be Improved as Well as Piedmont and Grant Parks in 1912.

All the important park work for this year was agreed upon by the park commission yesterday afternoon by the adoption of recommendations made by the committee on improvements. This work covers all the city parks, the small ones as well as Grant and Piedmont parks.

The recommendations of the committee, which were adopted by a unanimous vote, were as follows:

Mims Park: Grade the ground under contract, the work to be done under the supervision of the general manager. The committee also recommends that the park commission formally accept from the board of education the land in front of the Davis street school yard which now appears to be a part of the park.

At Howell Park.

Howell Park: The committee recommends that a cement coping be placed on the west side of the east walk of the park under the direction of the general manager; that a new drinking fountain be installed on the east side and that grass seed be purchased. All of this work to be done at a cost of not more than $150 to be taken from the $1,000 given for small parks.

Oakland City Park: Your committee recommends that the road in Oakland City park, as shown on the map on file in the office of the park department, be graded by contract under the supervision of the general manager according to a profile to be made by the chief of construction.

Trinity Triangle: Your committee recommends that the trees at this place be cared for by the forestry force, that seats and swings be purchased and that the wall around the triangle be repointed, the whole cost not to exceed $75 to be taken from the 1,000 given for small parks.

Springvale Park: At this park your committee recommends that the detail work be left to the supervision of the general manager.

Carey Park: Your committee recommends that a swing be placed here and that a marble yard be made for the boys of the neighborhood.

Recommendations Later.

Piedmont Park: We will make additional recommendations later for this park, but at present recommend

MAY APPEAL TO R. R. COMMISSION

Electric Light Committee Will So Recommend to Council.

To the railroad commission Atlanta will appeal for lower rates for electric lighting and power, if a recommendation of the committee on electric lights is approved by the general council this afternoon, and it is more than probable that such action will be taken.

In a lengthy petition to the railroad commission the city will set forth:

That the prices charged for electric current by the Georgia Railway and Electric Company are not reasonable and largely in excess of a fair return for the value of investment.

Among the allegations made are the following:

What Petition Shows.

Petitioner shows that said company charges the city of Atlanta for street arc lights $57 per annum per arc light.

For incandescent lights, for street lighting, $24 per annum for each light.

Petitioner shows that said company charges for electric current as follows:

For lighting current, 10 cents per K. W. H.

For power, 6 cents per K. W. H.

Minimum charge on second, $1 per month.

Your petitioner shows that said charges are excessive, and that a reasonable charge for such service would be as follows:

For arc lights not over $30 per annum for each arc light.

For incandescent lights, not over $12 per month for each light.

For lighting current, 3 cents per K. W. H.

For power, 1½ cents per K. W. H.

Where over 50 horse power is used, 1 cent per K. W. H.

Prices Unreasonable?

Petitioner shows that the charges last set forth are reasonable and fair, and would give the company fair and reasonable returns for their investment over and above the expenses for operation and depreciation in value of plant and cost of transmission.

Petitioner further shows that at the time of the consolidation of several companies the defendant issued bonds and stocks and that the stock at said time was of practically small value, being sold for a nominal sum.

Petitioner further shows that the income of said company, under this operation and from the prices charged, increased so rapidly that a few years since the company issued an addition-

LINCOLN QUOTED BY ROOSEVELT

Colonel Thinks He's Undergoing What Lincoln Did.

The Colonel Reads a Letter Written by Lincoln as Especially Applying to Conditions That Are Confronting Him Today.

New York, February 7.—With the correspondence of Abraham Lincoln as a text-book and six newspaper reporters as pupils, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt addressed today what he called his "first class in applied decent politics." Colonel Roosevelt prefaced his talk with the declaration that he had tried to take Lincoln's letters as a guide for himself and he thought that excerpts from many of the martyred president's letters would make proper replies to questions that are being asked him daily.

One of Lincoln's letters, especially, Mr. Roosevelt thought would apply to conditions today. This was a letter written at Springfield on April 6, 1860, to C. F. McNeil. The part emphasized by Mr. Roosevelt reads as follows:

"I have made this explanation to you as a friend; but I wish no explanation made to our enemies.

"What they want is a squabble and a fuss and they can have it if we explain; and they cannot have it if we don't."

That Reminds Roosevelt.

Another missive read by Colonel Roosevelt was Lincoln's confidential letter to A. Jonas, written on June 2d 1860. In part it said:

"And now a word of caution. Our adversaries think they can gain a point if they could openly force me to deny the charge by which some degree of defense would be given to the Americans. For this reason it must publicly appear that I am paying no attention to the charge."

"That reminds me of some more of

OFFICIALS FUSS; MAY LOSE JOBS

W. D. Greene and W. E. Dunn Air Troubles to Committee.

Two officials at the city hall are about to have both their jobs abolished because they fell out and could not work harmoniously in the same office. They are W. D. Greene, the street improvement collector, and his deputy, W. E. Dunn, Jr.

The finance committee held an investigation Thursday afternoon behind closed doors and heard statements from both parties concerned. There was a close vote, it is stated, on a motion to abolish both jobs and place the street collecting in the hands of the comptroller and tax collector. There was another close vote on a motion, it is understood, to abolish the office held by Mr. Dunn. The committee finally decided, so it was learned, to let the two officials hold on, if they can agree to work together, or otherwise get rid of both of them at an early date.

Mr. Dunn stated to the committee that he had grown tired of doing all the work, while Mr. Greene got $150 a month and he only $100 a month.

To others who were not at the meeting he said that Mr. Greene had an old, antiquated way of doing business and was too slow to accomplish much of anything.

"I do at least 95 per cent of the work," he stated, "and then loaf half of my time. I went to members of council and told them how things were going and requested an investigation."

Mr. Greene said:

"The trouble is that Ed Dunn has a most ungovernable temper. He has talked about me around the city hall and when I asked him about it he became very angry and I had to request him to leave the office. He stepped back and made a motion as if to draw a knife. I reminded him of the fact that I appointed him and was in charge of the office. It was at my request that the finance committee took the matter up."

The committee held a session that lasted over two hours and some very loud talking was heard through the closed doors. Several members were in favor of abolishing both jobs and only lost by a small majority. One member wanted to know if council was doing right by the taxpayers to retain an office when one of the employees testified that one man could do all the work and then loaf half the time.

After the meeting adjourned Alderman Candler, chairman of the committee, had a private talk with Mr. Greene and it is understood that he wanted to know if he and Mr. Dunn could keep working together for a few months longer, or until the matter could be settled without any drastic action being taken. Mr. Greene's reply is not known.

Unless some agreement is reached Thursday morning the whole matter may be thrashed out by council in the afternoon.

ALL READY FOR BIG AUTO SHOW

Sociability Run From Athens Will Be a Big Feature.

Famous Kilties Band and Reception Committee Are to Meet Northeast Georgians. Full Plans for Auto Week Arranged at Meeting.

There was an enthusiastic meeting of the Automobile and Accessories Dealers' Association held in the rooms of the Transportation Club last night at which time additional plans and features for the coming automobile show were completed.

Reports from the several committees showed that each and every detail looking to the profitable entertainment and the comfort of the guests had been cared for and all is now in readiness for the big opening next Saturday.

A feature of last night's session was the appearance of Alan Rogers, editor and general manager of The Athens Tribune, who has arranged for a sociability run in the name of this newspaper.

In response to an invitation, Mr. Rogers announced that while he had left early in the afternoon, entries for the trip which will leave The Athens Tribune building next Tuesday, afternoon, were coming in rapidly from many of the near-by towns as well as many cars from Athens.

"I am sure that this trip," continued Mr. Rogers, "will be truly representative of northeast Georgia in every way. I have been delightfully surprised at the way in which everyone seems to grow enthusiastic and not only enters his or her own car—quite a number of ladies will drive their own machines—but also gets right out and starts working on his neighbors for the purpose of securing their co-operation and presence on the trip.

"I have been assured that a number of the trades bodies from the cities in that section of the state will enter cars and many are now preparing decorations and banners setting forth some of the exceptional opportunities offered in northeast Georgia.

"In addition to entries coming in from Elberton, Commerce, Jefferson, Crawford, Lexington and other places, reports received before I left Athens show that more cars will be added to the party en route, including delegations from Bogart, Statham, Winder, Auburn, Norcross and Lawrenceville. The National highway, over which the cars will come, passes through most of these places and the others will

Have You Time to Write a Good Speech?

You want that speech or paper or report or whatever it is to be up-to-the-mark.

You are very busy. Or you can't seem to pull yourself and your thoughts together enough to get your ideas worked up into pleasing shape.

Or maybe, like the fellow in the good old joke, you can't express yourself and have, therefore, to go by freight.

In any of these cases, there's help at hand. We'll do the job for you. We'll do it to your taste, too. We guarantee a piece of work that you'll be proud of.

We've been planning this sort of thing for a long time because we've had a demand for it. The Department of Special Writing we are now announcing is the answer to many calls for expert service of this nature.

We are going to give really expert work. We positively won't undertake a piece of writing that we cannot do WELL. We propose to give high-class, careful, accurate effort. We mean that those who use this service shall be pleased to the utmost with what we give them.

This is what we will do:

Write speeches, debates, special advertisements, prepare papers, literary articles, reports, booklets, after-dinner talklets, toasts, and all that sort of thing.

All work done in strict confidence

NOT A PERJURER, SWEARS M'COWAN

But He Admits He Got $300 From Lorimer People.

Washington, February 7.—Charles McGowan, the young Canadian witness, denied before the senate Lorimer committee of investigation that he had ever admitted receiving money for "perjuring" himself before the committee last July. Instead of receiving $1,500 for "perjuring himself," as private detectives swore he told them, McGowan testified that he was paid only $300 by a check signed "Edward Hines Lumber Company, by C. F. Wiche, Secretary," to reimburse him for unexpected loss incident to his presence in Washington to testify for Wiche.

In the Hotel Room.

McGowan admitted that he was in a hotel room in Toronto, January 6, with Detective Bailey, of whom he said "he never had a suspicion that he was anything but what he pretended to be"—a claims agent. It was then that Bailey swore the $1,500 statement was made, and J. E. Sheridan swore he recorded such a statement as coming over a telephone apparatus from the room in which McGowan was alleged to have been speaking. Under cross-examination McGowan swore that no talk occurred in the room about the Lorimer investigation or anything connected with it.

"Nothing said about it by either you or Bailey?" inquired Senator Gamble.

"No, sir," responded McGowan.

"One of the last things you had talked about to Bailey was getting money from Wiche, and you had written Bailey you had had a settlement with Wiche, and yet Bailey never asked you how much you got?" inquired Senator Lea.

"No, sir."

McGowan's account of the time he was in the room varied from that given by the detectives.

Said Letter Was a Joke.

Members of the committee subjected McGowan to prolonged examination as to a letter he wrote to Bailey after having his settlement with Wiche. It was in this letter that McGowan said, in speaking of Hines people coming to McGowan's home in Toronto, that he had written "by gee, they would have been shown what forced hospitality was! The old shotgun would have been loaded with a couple of Peters No. 2. I made them come across, at that—not all I expected, though—and I had a hell of a time getting it, too. Had to threaten him with all kinds of exposure."

McGowan finally said that the suggestion of Senator Fletcher that the letter was a joke was correct. McGowan explained that "forced hospitality" and "come across" were expressions he learned from Bailey and the unfriendly references to the Hines people were made because the talk he had with Bailey when he last saw the detective was in that vein. He declared the threat of exposure was not made to Wiche, but to R. J. Shields.

The committee indicated to the attorneys today a desire to close the testimony soon. It has been arranged to have a test of J. E. Sheridan's stenographic ability at a closed session, to which only the attorneys are to be admitted. McGowan's examination will be continued tomorrow.

TRAITORS WORK TO RUIN MADERO

Alleged Mexic President Is Opposed by Cabinet Members.

Mexico City, February 7.—"For no reason will I change any of my ministers. The members of my cabinet are honorable men. They are patriots. I shall not permit any of them to be slandered as you are slandering them."

In these words President Madero today brought to a termination an interview sought by a committee from the anti-reelectionist party which was attempting to persuade him to dismiss from his cabinet the ministers of war and interior.

Cabinet Members Accused.

The conference had proceeded calmly up to the moment when the spokesman of the committee, in reply to a statement of the president that evil-minded Mexicans were aiding the rebels, declared that this was true, and that moreover the president knew these men, because they were members of his own cabinet.

The president then peremptorily ended the interview.

In line with the above incident, Alfredo Robles Dominguez, one of Madero's staunchest supporters during the revolution, publicly criticised the administration today, stating that in his opinion not even the removal of the entire cabinet could save the administration.

Madero's Friends Aiding Rebels.

The visit of the committee to President Madero was to interpellate him regarding the source of supplies issued to regular troops and bartered by them for drink and food and in turn bought up by the rebels. There are stories of Haciendades having furnished great quantities in return for immunity from robbery but the most serious report of all is that supplies have been sent from the government arsenals in the capital itself.

Scores of the president's most ardent supporters of six months ago are speculating on his ability to carry the country through the present crisis. The element which is giving the most trouble is that which followed Madero during the revolution. This party charges him with not putting into immediate effect reforms promised.

To be well groomed wash at the Capital City. We wash your linen and mend it, too.

Some Catfish, These.

New Orleans, February 7.—The annual catch of catfish from the waters of Louisiana totals 4,500,000 pounds, netting fishermen a total of $152,000, according to figures compiled by the board of commissioners for the protection of birds, fish and game of this state. Of this amount $9,000 is derived from the sale of catfish eggs, known to the commercial world as "Russian caviar."

WIDOW OF FIVE SOLDIERS WANTS AS MANY PENSIONS

Monroe, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Mrs. T. A. Partridge, an aged white woman of this county, is the widow of five confederate soldiers, having been five times married and each time to a man who was a soldier of the lost cause. Mrs. Partridge is in needy circumstances and an effort will be made to get her five pensions from the state.

A special act to this effect will be introduced in the next general assembly by the members from Walton. The pension commissioner has recently agreed to pay Mrs. Partridge one pension, but her relatives and friends feel that under the peculiar circumstances in which she is placed she is entitled to more than this.

ADVISED HIS SON TO LET WIFE GO

Fort Worth, Texas, February 7.—J. T. Sneed, father of John Beal Sneed, slayer of Captain Boyce, was the second witness the defense introduced in the effort to save the life of the wealthy Texas banker and ranchman today. The cross-examination of Captain Snyder, father of Mrs. Sneed, whose elopement with the son of the dead man was the cause of the tragedy, was concluded earlier in the day.

Captain Snyder's long session on the witness stand yesterday rendered him ill and delayed the opening of court today.

The elder Sneed testified as follows concerning his son after A. G. Boyce Jr.'s relations with the witness's daughter-in-law were known:

"I advised him (the witness' son) to leave her. I told him to let her go and we would take care of his children. He insisted that she was insane and said he intended to stay with her and protect his children. He said that if he left her, she would probably go off with that man and go to the dogs.

"I brought all the pressure I could to bear on him. I told him that my family could have nothing to do with his wife—that we could not receive her or recognize her. He said he couldn't help it."

Sneed testified further that Captain and Mrs. Boyce told him of one occasion when their son, A. L., who later eloped with Mrs. J. B. Sneed, was at J. B. Sneed's home while Sneed was away. Mrs. Sneed had asked them to "come up there, that A. L. had whisky rigor."

The witness said that he and Captain Boyce agreed that a separation between Mr. and Mrs. Sneed would be the best thing for all concerned. Later he testified, he had told his son, J. B. Sneed, of his "suspicions that Captain Boyce wanted Mrs. Sneed to separate and marry his son.

That Mrs. J. F. Sneed probably will not go on the stand in her husband's defense was indicated today by counsel for the defense.

American Life and Annuity Co.
Atlanta, Ga.

ment, given out by Representative Frank Clark, of Florida, on the Everglades controversy, it is sought to show that the reason the secretary of agriculture suppressed a circular of information which had been prepared by the office of drainage investigations and declined to print a complete report of the drainage work which the department had done in the Everglades, was because the secretary did not regard the circular and reports as sufficiently favorable to please the land promoters who were operating in the glades. In Mr. Clark's statement, it is further sought to show that the recent dismissal of Messrs. Elliott and Morehouse, drainage engineers, was for failure to show sufficient favors to the land promoters.

"Both of these statements are untrue, and Mr. Clark's effort to besmirch the secretary of agriculture will fail. The secretary refused to print the report of the work done in the glades because not only were his engineers, Mr. Wright and Mr. Elliott, in disagreement as to the correct interpretation of the work done by the department in the glades, but Mr. Elliott, without further investigation radically changed his position and the experts of the bureau of plant industry familiar with Florida conditions disagreed with both Mr. Wright and Mr. Elliott.

Why They Were Dismissed.

"Elliott and Morehouse were dismissed by the secretary of agriculture because they had certified and presented false accounts, knowing them to be false, on which the government had paid out moneys. Not only did they know the accounts were false, but they procured the persons to make the false accounts telling these persons that they would receive money for their trouble. They admit they did this; they concealed their unlawful acts from their chief, Dr. A. C. True, and when Dr. True discovered the facts, he recommended their dismissal. The secretary dismissed them and for a violation of law involved, sent all of the facts and papers in is possession to the attorney general for certification to the district attorney for prosecution and for such other action as the attorney general might deem proper.

"The department courts the fullest investigation of this matter and has irrefutable documentary evidence ready to present to the investigating committee at a moment's notice which clearly shows that the action of the secretary has been proper and consistent throughout. If the time has come when government employees may procure men to prepare false accounts, to secure moneys from the government, without fear of dismissal, or prosecution for their acts, that fact is unknown in the department of agriculture."

Charge Against Dismissed Men.

The charge against the dismissed men is that they misapplied an appropriation. Congress appropriates a lump sum for the drainage and irrigation divisions of the department of agriculture. The heads of these divisions divide it equally. In 1909, the drainage division lent to the irrigation division some of its unexpended appropriation and Engineer Elliott discovered soon afterward that he was some $900 short for completion of work under way in North Carolina and other states.

Rather than have the work stopped, citizens in the section interested in the completion of the projects advanced the money and later were carried on the payroll as employees under the appropriation for the next year.

With the money thus secured the men who advanced the money were reimbursed.

Former Department Engineer Wright, now in Florida, made the charges a few weeks ago.

Wilson's Defense.

At the department of agriculture today attention was directed to a printed circular which, it was said, Secretary Wilson had sent out to all who wrote to the department for information as to the agricultural value of the Everglades land.

"The department believes that the drainage of the Everglades is feasible from an engineering standpoint," the circular letter read, "but has no opinion to offer as to the value of the lands as to agriculture when drained. The department has never investigated advertising land companies, and is unable to furnish information as to the reliability of any of them.

"No one should invest money in land anywhere without seeing it first and studying all the surrounding conditions."

It developed today that a senate document ordered printed last summer relating to the Everglades did not contain the report made by former Department Engineer J. O. Wright, as revised by Chief Engineer Elliott, but contained a second revision made by Wright after he left the employ of the government to become chief engineer of the state of Florida.

In a letter to Secretary Wilson of November 25, 1911, Wright stated that in the revision of the report he had been aided by Senator Fletcher.

The senate document did not contain the circular to the public which it is charged was suppressed by Secretary Wilson.

How Report Was Changed.

In his letter to Secretary Wilson, Wright said:

"Senator Fletcher got permission from the last session of congress to publish this report as part of a senate document. A copy was procured from your department and sent to the government printing office. When the galley proof was struck off, Elliott received a copy and proceeded to rewrite the same. When it was returned to the committee it no longer appeared to be my report, but Elliott's report. My name had been stricken out and Elliott's inserted in many places. Page after page had been stricken out and many typewritten pages supplied to take their places. Matter had been injected that was not in the original report and conclusions drawn were not warranted by facts.

"Senator Fletcher was amazed and requested me to come to Jacksonville and go over the matter with him. I did this, and the report was corrected to conform to the manuscript secured from your department."

CHIEF DRAINAGE ENGINEER EXPLAINS ABOUT REPORT

Jacksonville, Fla., February 7.—J. O. Wright, chief drainage engineer, in charge of reclamation of the Florida Everglades, issued recently a reply to a letter written by C. G. Elliott, chief of drainage investigations of the United States department of agriculture, addressed to Secretary Wilson in which he gives a complete history of the alleged suppression of the report on Florida Everglades drainage.

Wright shows that Elliott was opposed from the beginning to the undertaking, the investigation, and when Wright was assigned to the work, he continued to "knock" the project.

In the summer of 1907 Meade resigned and Elliott became chief of the drainage investigations. In the fall of that year Elliott gave his consent for Wright to continue the work in Florida.

Wright returned to Washington in May, 1908, and at once began writing his report.

The report was completed and delivered to Elliott on February 25, 1909.

In his statement Wright says:

"In the spring of 1909, Henry Clay Hall, of Colorado, came to Washington and asked to see the report I had written. Elliott gave him the report to read, and he asked permission to copy it. This privilege was denied him. A day or two later he appeared with an order from Secretary Wilson directing Elliott to give him a copy of that portion of the report dealing with the drainage problem."

This was done.

Mr. Hall was attorney for a land syndicate which had purchased a large tract of Everglades land.

Mr. Wright then goes into details of how the report was held up, and claims that Elliott wanted him to stultify himself by changing the report, which he refused to do.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year,

Leaves Kidneys In Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more serious sickness, such as dreaded Bright's Disease. Local druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, free by mail, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50cts. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

THIS WEEK'S HAPPENINGS AT BRISCOE & ARNOLD'S BIG BUSINESS COLLEGE

A. C. BRISCOE,
President of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, the college of 46 years' standing.

Miss Kate Hardy has recently accepted a position with Duncan Mercantile Company, Douglasville, Ga.

Miss Emma Abelling has accepted a position in Dallas, Ga.

Mr. Rush S. Thompson has accepted a position with the Georgia Railway and Electric Company.

Miss Willie Nash has accepted a position with the Atlanta Phonograph Company and Miss Kittie Griggs with the Live Stock Insurance Company.

Mr. McCain has accepted a position in St. Louis.

Miss Bessie Brown has accepted a position with the Atlanta Gas Light Company.

Miss Dorothy Smith has accepted a position with the Empire Life Insurance Company.

Yesterday at the same moment two large firms had representatives at the Southern conferring with students about positions. In the mail were three other applications.

About twenty-five of the pupils have accepted positions since Christmas.

Mr. T. B. Higdon, banker, Franklin, N. C., came down last week to investigate schools, and placed his son with the Southern.

Mrs. Ella Busha, of Estenollee, Ga., has moved to Atlanta and placed her daughter with the Southern.

Mr. George L. Blanton, of Brunswick, entered last week.

Miss Dorothy Gilbert, one of the teachers of the city schools at Washington, Ga., came up and placed her nephew in the Southern this week.

Among others who have entered within the past few days are: Messrs. J. L. Tyson and R. L. Dearlso, of Sylvester, Ga.; G. W. Casey, of Murrayville; Miss Susie Crary, of Florida; Mrs. Beulah DeLoach, Ashburn, Ga.; Miss Flora Lovette, of Sparks, Ga.; S. J. Akers and W. G. Akers, of Sycamore, Ga.; Miss Geraldine Hood, Commerce, Ga.; Miss Mary Brittain, Nashville, Tenn.; Miss May Taylor, Boston, Ga.; Miss Dell Gilliam, Blue Ridge, Ga.

More than one hnudred have entered recently for the winter term, making the total enrollment over two hundred. Quite a number of others have arranged to begin between now and February 15.

Mr. Emmerson Ham, who took the prize in the adding machine contest in the Atlanta National bank, attended the Southern. Sometime ago nineteen employees were counted in that bank who attended the Southern.

The college is giving more prominence to typewriting than ever before. It is taught systematically, and with the seventy-five new machines, the school is able to do excellent work.

This is a splendid time to enter the Southern, as the spring of the year is approaching and pupils can put in longer time, and finish up for summer and fall positions.

Those who desire further information about the school should write to A. C. Briscoe, president; or L. W. Arnold, vice president; or Thos. L. Bryan, special representative, 10½ West Mitchell street, Atlanta, Ga. Phones, Bell Main 3873; Standard 1096.

PLEADED GUILTY, SENTENCED, RELEASED, WITHOUT SPEAKING

For the first time in the history of the city court of Atlanta a prisoner able to hear and speak, pleaded guilty, received a sentence and was released without speaking a word and without the assistance of a lawyer. All this happened before Judge Calhoun, during the regular session of the city court Wednesday morning.

During the entire process of the law in her case the defendant did not speak a word. Once she nodded her head and not until she left the court room did she open her mouth. In addition to all these facts she did not pay a fine.

Rebecca Ray, a negro "mammy" 80 years old, who lives in College Park, was the defendant. She was charged with selling a half pint of whisky. A genuine stir was manifested in the court room when she was brought in, her white head and wrinkled features attracting much attention.

The prosecutor turned defender.

"Judge, she's guilty, but I don't believe she knew it was against the law. She has an excellent reputation and is too old to serve a sentence," he declared.

A delegation of College Park citizens, prompted solely by their humane feelings, also appeared and one after another testified as to the old "mammy's" character.

"So you are guilty?" the judge demanded, peering over the rail at her. (She was not more than five feet tall and probably weighed 200 pounds.)

She nodded her head, apparently afraid to speak.

The judge sentenced her, suspended sentence, and she walked from the court room. When she got outside she spoke her first words.

"Dar now. Ah knowed all mah chilluns in College Pa'k wont gwine let meh go ter de pen'tenci'y. Jedge Cal'oun's er good ole man."

Then she pulled her shawl closer around her white old head and hobbled down the stairs to freedom.

Starvation Doctor Sentenced.

Seattle, Wash., February 7.—An indeterminate penitentiary sentence from two to twenty years was pronounced today at Port Orchard on Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, the fasting specialist convicted of manslaughter for having caused the death of Miss Claire Williamson, a wealthy English woman. Application for a new trial was overruled.

MANY CANDIDATES IN SUMTER COUNTY

Thirteen Make Formal Announcements and Plot Begins to Thicken.

Americus, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Formal announcement this morning of thirteen candidates for county offices in the forthcoming democratic primary created considerable interest in local politics, which will increase until the date of election, March 21. Sheriff Feagin is opposed by George Jones, while Harrison D. Watts opposes Patrick Williams for county treasurer. William M. Harper announces for judge of the city court of Americus, with three other prospective judiciary candidates coming. Solicitor Zach Childers has opposition of Eugenis A. Nisbet, at present one of Sumter's legislative representatives.

Three county commissioners are likewise to be elected. The announcement of Thomas G. Hudson, commissioner of agriculture, for congress in this district is expected daily. Charles R. Crisp and John W. Mercer are already actively in the congressional race.

BIDS FOR STREET WORK GO TO COUNCIL TODAY

Bids for street work for the year were inspected by the street committee of council yesterday afternoon and the lowest bid recommended to council which will meet Thursday afternoon.

The successful bids were as follows:

By Jamison & Hollowell, for tile paving, 92 cents a square yard; for sheet cement paving, $1.10 a square yard; for concrete curb, 29 cents a linear foot; for tile sidewalk repairs, 99 cents a square yard; for sheet cement repairs, $1.24 a square yard.

By A. T. Newsome, for grainte curb, 36¼ cents a linear foot.

By the Southern Tile and Stone Company, for brick sidewalks, 62 cents a square yard.

By R. O. Campbell, for cement, $1.11 a barrel.

By the Rockmart Brick and Slate Company, for Brick for repairs, $6.60 per thousand f. o. b. Atlanta.

By the Cement Stone and Tile Company, for tile repairs, 12½ cents per tile.

By the Pine Mountain Granite Company, for stone, 73 cents a ton for one man rubbie; No. 1 rubble, $1; No. 2 rubble, $1.15; for run of stone, $1.05.

The tile paving cost last year 94 cents and the concrete curb 30 cents, prices for both being cheaper this year. All the other prices were lower.

The bids will be approved by council Thursday afternoon.

TWO SLIP ON ICE AND BREAK LIMBS

Water freezing on sidewalks yesterday caused two falls, in which broken limbs resulted. The two persons, a woman and a man, were carried to the Grady hospital for treatment. Such accidents have been more frequent during this spell of cold weather than ever before.

M. D. Alexander, a carpenter, 54 years old, was walking on McAfee street about 1.30 o'clock, when he stepped on some ice formed by water from a leaking hydrant. He fell heavily and broke his leg. He lives at 352 Luckie street. Mrs. Shackelford, of 25 Ellis street, suffered a similar injury near Courtland and Ellis streets later in the afternoon. Both are resting well.

Cortelyou Is Summoned.

Washington, February 7.—George B. Cortelyou, former postmaster general, has been supoenaed to appear before the house committee on expenditures in the postoffice department, on Friday, to testify in the investigation into the issue of fraud orders against E. G. Lewis, of St. Louis, in the People's bank case.

MACON WILL BLOOM FOR OLD SOLDIERS

Thousands of Packages of Flower Seeds To Be Planted for Reunion.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Thousands of packages of flower seeds have been shipped from the United States department of agriculture at Washington to this city for planting here, so that the city will be a profusion of blooms for the reunion in May. Cecil Morgan, chairman of the city beautiful committee of the reunion association, addressed letters to practically every member of the senate and house, asking them for their quota of flower seeds. Many were unable to respond, as they had already given their seed away, but the majority of the others either ordered their regular distribution to be sent to Macon or procured extra amounts for this city.

The seeds will be given away to every school child and to every person who has a lawn or front yard. All will be in bloom before or by May 1. Scores of replies were received today to the effect that the seeds had been shipped and an immense warehouse has been engaged here for their temporary storage.

Winding Up Exchange Bank.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Within a few months the affairs of the Exchange bank—at the time of its failure the largest bank in Georgia south of Atlanta—will be liquidated, and the receivers, R. J. Taylor, B. P. O'Neal and C. T. King, will be discharged. The receivers have already paid 85 per cent in dividends to the creditors, and will be able to pay probably another 5 per cent. In addition, all expenses incident to the receivership, amounting to about $75,000, have been paid. It will be necessary to levy an assessment on the stockholders to make up the remaining 10 per cent. The exchange bank failed in July, 1907.

Philomon B. Avern Dies.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Philomon B. Avern, one of the largest millers in Georgia, and the owner of grist mills throughout this section, died today at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Jane P. Warren, 126 Coleman avenue, after a prolonged illness. He was 68 years of age. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Interment in Rose Hill cemetery.

Council After Power Company.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—The city council has rebelled against the service of the Macon Railway and Light Company, rather against that company's seeming disregard of council's orders. Aldermen Hay, Adamson, Bernd and Happ have severely criticised the railway and light company, and the former declared that the city of Macon seemed to be helpless in making that corporation obey orders, and that the company had everything its own way. The complaints are directed against bad tracks, poor schedules, insufficient tracks and miserable street lighting. Alderman Adamson charges that in installing fifty arc lights in South Macon the company used "second-hand junk" that was not worth the trouble of putting into service.

Dickens Commemorated.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—In the public schools at Macon and in Mercer and Wesleyan colleges today special Dickens' programs were held, commemorating the centennial of the great author's birth.

Officers Commended.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—The city council has adopted resolutions commending Policemen John Metz and Will R. Moseley for bravery in accomplishing the arrest of a negro fiend Saturday night. Both officers closed in on the negro while he was firing point-blank at them.

To Fix Reunion Prices.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—City council will shortly adopt an ordinance prohibiting the charging of exorbitant prices during the reunion, and fixing a scale of rates for restaurants and eating places.

Funeral of Mrs. Stetson.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—The funeral of Mrs. Josephine Molton Shaw Stetson, wife of Eugene W. Stetson, was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence on Arlington place. Interment was in Rose Hill. The Citizens' National bank and the chamber of commerce, both of which Mr. Stetson is president, closed today.

Georgia Bankers to Confer.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Secretary L. P. Hillyer, of Macon, of the Georgia Bankers' Association, will go to Atlanta to confer with Hon. R. F. Maddox and other members of the executive council for the purpose of fixing a date for the state convention which will be held in Savannah again this year.

Death of Infant.

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hunnicutt lost an infant daughter by death this morning. The child died at 7 o'clock, after a brief illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning from the residence at 1802 Second street.

BIRDMAN FOWLER MAKES A STOP IN THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Just as 4 o'clock sounded this afternoon, Eugene Fowler left Thomasville in his aeroplane for Jacksonville, the terminus of his long flight from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast. Fowler remained here about two hours, coming from Bainbridge, where he spent last night. He made a pretty flight, coming in and circling the town before landing.

Owing to adverse winds, he landed about half a mile beyond that appointed place at the baseball park. An immense crowd was on hand to see the first flying machine that has ever been to Thomasville. Fowler left Los Angeles on October 21, to compete for the Hearst prize of $50,000, but owing to an accident in the Rocky mountains, had to return and make a new start. An accident in Alabama last week delayed him about ten days. He reports a pleasant trip otherwise.

MILLEDGEVILLE JOINS RELIGIOUS MOVEMENT

Milledgeville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—J. K. Orr, of Atlanta, representing the men and religion forward movement, addressed an audience of men at the Presbyterian church this afternoon, and Milledgeville was organized as one of the twenty-four Atlanta auxiliary cities. The city will send a delegation to the convention in Atlanta that meets at the Baptist tabernacle February 21-28. Of the twenty-four auxiliary cities, Columbus, Eatonton and Milledgeville were assigned to Mr. Orr.

THEY WANT DAM ABATED AS NUISANCE

Jackson, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Through their attorney, Judge Henry M. Fletcher, of the city court of Jackson, thirty-three citizens of Jasper and Butts counties, residing in the vicinity of the big reservoir of the Central Georgia Power company on the Ocmulgee river, this county, have filed a petition with the ordinary of Butts county seeking to have the dam abated as a nuisance, alleging that it has created malarial conditions in the neighborhood where the petitioners reside and that the health of the people has been greatly injured thereby.

The Glidden trophy

The most coveted automobile trophy in the world—standing 50 inches high, valued at $3,000, will be at the Maxwell exhibit at the Automobile Show in the Auditorium-Armory. The car that wins it is designated "American Touring Champion." The Maxwell won it last fall by the best performance in the hardest Glidden Tour in history.

The Anderson, S. C., Trophy, valued at $1,200, which was awarded to Hon. Hoke Smith's Maxwell "Special" for the best individual score in the same tour, is also on display at the Maxwell exhibit.

COMMITTEE ON BOND ORDINANCE DISAGREE

The special committee of council, appointed to reach an agreement on amending the bond ordinance so some of the money could be used for purposes not mentioned in the ordinance, met yesterday afternoon and disagreed.

Councilmen Wood and Mason and Alderman Maddox voted for a substitute for the two amending ordinances and Alderman Johnson voted against such action and gave notice of a minority report to council.

The majority report will recommend the expenditure of $14,000, saved from the reservoir and filters, to purchase a mud basin to keep the washings from the filters from flowing into the lake of the Atlanta Steel Company. This will take place of ordinances using $12,000 of bond money which was set aside for a new clear water basin and $20,000 of the bond money to pay for private water mains now a part of the city's water system.

Council will act upon the report at a special session Thursday afternoon.

WET WEATHER BORROW OF UMBRELLA A CRIME

Hundreds of good natured souls, who are preyed on by their friends during rainy weather, no doubt wish that Judge Broyles could visit the land of lost umbrellas and overcoats and make legal restitution of their property. The crime of "borrowing" is "larceny after trust" in the eyes of the law, according to oa decision Judge Broyles made yesterday afternoon in sending up Charles B. Vogel to stand trial for this crime in the state courts.

Cold and inclement weather last Friday caused Vogel to request the loan of L. B. Cato's overcoat at the Eureka hotel, on South Forsyth street. It was to be returned by bed time. Days passed and the coat continued its absence, until it was found in a pawn shop and Vogel arrested. The word borrow was changed to larceny, and Vogel was sent up.

"I went out to the post that night and couldn't get back," said Vogel, "and then I just got broke and pawned it."

MORE VIOLENCE FEARED AROUND CEDAR CROSSING

Vidalia Ga., February 7.—(Special.) It has developed that two other negroes are dead from the result of a riot at Cedar Crossing Saturday night. Great excitement prevails among the negroes of that section, and it is feared that more mob violence will ensue among the friends of the killed.

J. Herman McCloskey was called to hold the inquest over the dead bodies. He has not yet returned to the city.

ENERGY BOILED DOWN

Plenty of Power and not a Grain Of It Goes to Waste

"Condensed Energy Reaches Its Limit" is a newspaper headline that might fitly apply to Ozomulsion.

The energy to overwhelm tuberculosis germs so that their progress in the lungs is stopped—

The energy to store up force for a time of need, like an attack of cold or such severe strain of work as undermines the strength—

The energy of clean, rich blood—

The energy for work or play, that comes with bountiful nourishment—

That is Ozomulsion-energy.

Chief of all is the Norway Gold Medal Cod Liver Oil, pure, fresh, wholesome, the richest product of the northern seas.

Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda and chemically-pure Glycerine add to the general fund of energy.

For all who are thin, pale, weak, worn or wasted, this is the most important news in the paper.

Sample Bottle Free by Mail

That those who are seeking health and strength for themselves, children, relatives or friends may experience the life-giving properties of this exclusive Norway gold medal ozonized cod liver oil medicinal food emulsion—as well as to know Ozomulsion superiority—in being most palatable and easy to take—a generous 3-oz. bottle will be sent by mail to those who send addresses by postcard or letter to Ozomulsion, 548 Pearl St., N. Y.

NEGRO WHO HAD 6 FINGERS DOUBLE-CROSSED ATTORNEY

"Them six fingers sho is convenient in court, boss," said Charlie Talley, a negro, who is now serving a jail sentence in the Tower for larceny.

He held out both his hands, and there on each of them was an extra digit, a small and perfectly formed finger, except for the fact that it had only one joint. He wiggled them appreciatively.

"You see it's dis way. I was 'rested and I wasn't guilty. Hones' to Gawd, boss, I wasn't. Dey had de wrong nigger dat time. De 'tectives had er man up dere to 'dentify me, an 'dey had tol' him, 'You kin sho rekarnise dat man by him fingers, 'cause he's got six on each han'.'

"Well, w'en de judge and de jury git togedder dey commences fer ter fix me. De man tells his story and I see myself goin' out ter de gang. Den dey axes him, how come you know dis nigger is de one?

"Right up answer dat man, 'Cause he got six fingers on each han'.' Den de lawyer brings in my brudder, we looks alike and de don't know us, and den he sees my brudder has six fingers, too. Dat fixes it.

"What dey had me fer dat time? Well, sir, dat time it was burg'ry, but dey had de wrong nigger!"

Talley says his extra fingers are a peculiarity which runs in his family, and that in addition to that he has six toes on each foot. He has never exhibited his feet to the court, however! His two brothers both have six fingers, as his mother has, but none of his sisters are thus supplied.

ITALIAN, CARRYING DYNAMITE IN POCKET, NOT WANTED HERE

When a man, and especially a Dago, begins carrying dynamite around with him as a pocket piece, it is a great deal better for the community to be rid of him than it is to sentence him to prison in that community. At least such is the opinion of Judge Andy Calhoun, of the city court, and he so informed Victor Zakas during the latter's trial Wednesday morning.

Victor was one of the few realizations of a cartoonist's conception of a "black-hander" ever seen in the city court of Atlanta. Hair black as jet, projecting chin, unshaven, with uncut hair and sullen black eyes, he aptly filled the description his neighbors gave him while testifying in the case.

He was being tried for wife beating. His wife, a beautiful woman, bore marks of blows which the neighbors said he had struck, and the judge sentenced him to twelve months. When one of the policemen began to tell of finding five sticks of dynamite in Victor's pocket when the arrest was made and of later discovering a large quantity of dynamite in the prisoner's trunk, Judge Calhoun became more thoughtful.

The prisoner refused to tell what he intended doing with the dynamite and said he found it in the street. When the prosecutor informed him that people did not leave dynamite strewn over the streets of a great city Zakas grew sullen and refused to talk. His neighbors declared that he was a "holy terror."

"Victor, I'll sentence you to twelve months at hard labor, but if you will get out of town in the next twenty-four hours and never return I'll suspend the sentence," said the judge.

C. P. Wilson Says Trouble Has Been Eradicated.

One sensational statement after another is being made in connection with "Tona Vita," the new tonic that is accomplishing such remarkable results in Atlanta. Mr. C. P. Wilson, salesman, residing at 27½ Pryor, city, had this to say recently:

"I have not been a well man for some time past, and for the last few months it has been hard for me to get about. My whole system seemed to be run down and debilitated. I could not sleep at night and would feel as fatigued in the morning as when I went to bed at night. My digestion became affected and I couldn't eat. Sometimes I would force myself to eat, and as a result I would suffer misery for hours afterwards. Attacks of violent headaches were frequent. My nervous system seemed all disordered and spells of dizziness were very common, and my back was very weak. I became very much discouraged after trying various remedies without result. Somebody told me of 'Tona Vita,' and I got a bottle of it. 'Tona Vita' is certainly making a new man of me. I can now eat and sleep like I haven't in years. My whole system has been built up and I feel strong and vigorous once more. The days are no more a period of depression for me. This is certainly a wonderful tonic and I heartily recommend it to all."

"Tona Vita" is now being introduced in Atlanta by specialists who can be found each day between the hours of 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. at the Jacobs' Pharmacy Company, Marietta Street.

"A tired, dragging feeling of the body, a sluggish mind and dull memory, depression of spirits, nervousness, stomach trouble, weak back, cold feet, headaches and bowel troubles are among the numerous symptoms of a condition from which thousands are suffering here in Atlanta," said one of these specialists yesterday afternoon. "This nervous, debilitated condition," continued he, "is more common in the large cities on account of the terrific strain of modern life. Experience has taught us that 95 per cent of all chronic ill health is caused by this condition. Stomach trouble, constipation, kidney and liver trouble, bad blood, nervousness, headache, dizziness and even rheumatism can be traced to nervous debility.

"'Tona Vita' will remove this condition. Thousands are now using our tonic in Atlanta and in each and every case the results are surprising. We are receiving scores of testimonials from those who have been benefited by the tonic. These testimonials come from men and women of unquestioned honesty and integrity, who feel grateful as a result of having found a permanent source of benefit." ***

1,000 HOMESEEKERS PASS THROUGH CITY

Homeseekers by the thousand are going to Florida and south Georgia.

More than 900 passed through the city yesterday afternoon and last night on the Southern railroad alone. Four solid trains came into the city late in the afternoon, stayed a short time and went on through.

Among those who are looking for homes in Dixie are farmers from every state in the northwest, and many from the middle west and Canada. Even Montana was represented, while the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska and others in that section furnished scores who went to make up the four train loads.

Georgia is getting far more attention this year from these home-seekers, according to the railroad men, than ever in the past. Heretofore the vast majority of the home-seekers went straight through to Florida, passing through south Georgia at night and knowing nothing of this section of the country.

This is not the case this season, however. Hundreds of the excursionists who passed through the city on the four special trains were booked for points in Georgia, particularly the southern part of the state. In fact, from Hazlehurst, which is just a few miles south of Fort Valley, in Houston county, on down to the Florida line, the country will receive close attention from many of these home-seekers.

And not a little of this attention, according to the home-seekers themselves, is the direct result of the Georgia exhibit at the International Land Show held in Chicago last fall. It was at this show, through the Georgia exhibit and the Georgia literature handed out, that these men of the west and northwest first came to realize that Georgia's agricultural possibilities are not surpassed by those of any other state in the union.

MASSEE SAYS HE WILL SELL CURRENT CHEAP

Retail consumers of electric current in Atlanta will be able to buy the same at 3 cents per kilowatt-hour on lighting current, and 2 cepts on power current, after the middle of next May, if a project to acquire the conduits of the Atlanta Telephone Company by W. J. Massee, president of the Central Georgia Power Company, is consummated. Mr. Massee made this statement to members of the city council while passing through Atlanta Tuesday on his way to Macon.

He stated further that this company would begin selling wholesale current in Atlanta not later than May 15. If everything goes through satisfactorily, they will be able to sell retail current also, and at a lower rate than consumers now pay the Georgia Railway and Electric Company.

C. J. Simmons, president of the Atlanta Telephone Company, stated yesterday that, under Judge Ellis' decision Tuesday, in litigation in which Mr. Simmons was involved, he would be able to sell all his stock in the telephone company, if he could raise sufficient money to pay off certain debts, which he indicated he could accomplish.

Ample facilities for underground distribution of electric current in the city will be ready for Mr. Massee's company, should it obtain the conduits of the telephone company, according to Capt. R. M. Clayton, Atlanta's chief of construction. He added, however, that he did not consider it best to use the conduits for both electrical distribution and telephone purposes.

FREIGHT GOES INTO DITCH NEAR WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Ten cars of a northbound freight on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic were ditched at Kettle creek, 3 miles from Waycross, today. A broken rail caused the accident. Brakemen escaped injury by jumping. The engine remained on the track.

Until the wreckage is cleared traffice between Waycross and Atlantic is being transferred at the scene of the wreck.

A slight freight wreck on the Atlantic Coast Line between Folkston and Jesup early today blocked the short line and caused all trains to detour via Waycross.

EMPEROR OPENS 13TH REICHSTAG

But Outlined German's Foreign Policy Only in a General Way.

Berlin, February 7.—Emperor William in person at noon today opened the thirteenth Reichstag which has assembled since the foundation of the German empire. As is customary, instead of going to the imperial parliament the emperor called the members to the palace, where he made his speech from the throne in the great white hall. The deputies present were for the most part in uniform or court dress.

After greeting the members of the imperial parliament in the name of the government of the confederated states of the empire, Emperor William affirmed his desire to augment the welfare of all classes of the people of Germany and maintain the strength and prestige of the nation. He appealed to the new parliament for its loyal co-operation in this work and then expressed the hope that by a strict adherence to the financial policy now in force, the imperial finances would soon be placed on a thoroughly sound basis.

New Commercial Treaties.

The emperor then referred to the new commercial treaties about to be entered into between Germany and other countries, and announced that the imperial government in negotiating them would adhere to the old bases of its tariff policy, under which trade, industry and agriculture had prospered so well.

Then came the part of the emperor's speech for which the members of the Reichstag were waiting with the utmost eagerness—that part in which he made references to the international situation and to the expected increase in the army and navy. There was partially disappointment, however, as the emperor merely announced the measures in a general way and did not give any details. He said:

"For the success of our work of peace at home and over seas the empire must remain powerful enough to defend at all times its national honor and its possessions as well as its just interests in the world. It is, therefore, my constant duty to maintain and strengthen, both on land and on sea, the defensive power of the German people, which does not lack young men capable of bearing arms.

Measures Being Prepared.

"Measures with this end in view are in preparation and will be submitted to you together with proposals for covering the additional cost. In helping this important work, gentlemen, you will be greatly serving the fatherland.

"In concluding our agreement with France, we have given new proof of our readiness to settle international difficulties amicably whenever such a course is consonant with the dignity and interests of Germany.

"Side by side with the maintenance of our alliance with Austria-Hungary and Italy, my policy has been steadily directed toward the cultivation of friendly relations with all the powers on the basis of mutual respect and good will.

"Trusting in the healthy force of the German people and relying on God's gracious assistance, I look with confidence beyond the struggles of today to the future of the empire.

"I greet you, gentlemen, at the opening of the new session of the imperial parliament in the hope that our work will be of service to the nation and to the people."

ATLANTA TURN VEREIN WILL HAVE BIG AFFAIR

On Thursday night, February 29, the Atlanta turn verein will observe its twenty-ninth anniversary with one of the most delightful entertainments the association has ever given.

A feature of the evening will be the reading by a charming daughter of one of the old members of a complete history of the Atlanta turners' association, as well as addresses by some of Georgia's most distinguished citizens—among them Hon. Jack Slaton, ex-governor of the state. The annual address will be by one of Atlanta's prominent citizens. There will be on the program musical numbers without limit, both instrumental and vocal. The Wedemeyer orchestra will be present and after the program shall have been completed dancing will be indulged in by the younger set. Newman Lassen, chairman of the program committee, is now working out the details of the evening.

CHILD EXPLAINS TRAGIC DEATH OF HER PARENTS

Dallas, Texas, February 7.—W. B. Barnes, a machinist, shot and killed his wife in their room at a boarding house here late today, and, turning the weapon on himself, fired a bullet into his own brain.

A 5-year-old daughter of the couple was the only witness to the shooting. "Mamma had been cross to papa," the child explained, "but papa had not been cross to mamma."

TO MAKE ARRESTS ALL ON SAME DAY

Close Watch Being Kept Over Alleged Dynamite Conspirators.

Indianapolis, February 7.—Instructions were sent to government agents in at least twenty cities today to keep watch over the men who have been charged in thirty-two indictments with complicity with the McNamaras and Ortie E. McManigal in the dynamite conspiracy.

The men indicted, who are said to number between thirty and forty are now scattered in cities as far distant as Boston, New York, New Orleans, Chicago, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Seattle, and it is the plan of the government to cause their arrest on one day. It is understood telegrams from the federal authorities here have informed the officials in the districts where the men reside that capiases have been issued and these with copies of the indictments are to be sent as soon as possible.

Meantime it is the government's purpose to guard against acquainting the accused men of the fact of their indictment and to watch their movements until they are taken into custody. The amount of the bond which each man may give for his appearance before federal Judge A. B. Anderson for arraignment here on March 12 is stated in the capiases. The aggregate amount of bonds asked, it is said, is $300,000.

In some instance capiases already have been sent, according to government officials, but many of the indictments are so voluminous that it will require several days to transcribe them so that copies can be be sent with the papers for the arrest. The indictments, some of which cover hundreds of pages certain more detailed charges than are usually written into true bills.

Many inquiries already have reached United States District Attorney Charles W. Miller's office requesting information about the indictments. It was said some of these came from men who wanted to know whether they have been involved.

ATLANTA FIRM WILL GET SEWER CONTRACT

Atlanta's sewers will be laid this year by the McCrary Excavating Company, of Atlanta, that firm having bid for the work on two sections. The lowest bid for the third section was by the Dysard Construction Company, but the McCrary company made such a convincing argument to the sewer committee, which had the bids under consideration Wednesday morning, that that company secured all the contracts.

The bids for all the sewer work recommended by the committee were as follows:

Iron castings to Southern Iron and Equipment Company, of Atlanta; cement to R. O. Campbell Coal Company, of Atlanta; sewer pipe to Bibb Sewer Pipe Company, of Macon; laying of sewers to McCrary Excavating Company, of Atlanta.

The bids of these firms were as follows, approximately: Castings, $75,000; cement, $10,000; sewer pipe, $50,000; laying of pipe, $100,000.

The bids will be approved by the general council Thursday afternoon.

THAT'S THE MURDERER, SHOUTED THE WITNESS

Pittsburg, Pa., February 7.—John Pippskin, a foreigner, was placed on trial for murder in the criminal court today, charged with killing David L. Steen, a mine superintendent and paymaster, during an attempted hold-up last September, when Steen was driving to the mines with his father with the weekly pay roll in a satchel in his buggy.

On the witness stand today the elder Steen made a scene in the court room when he took the witness stand and, dramatically shaking his finger at the prisoner, shouted:

"That's the man. That's the smaller of the two men who murdered my boy. Their faces are idelibly photographed on my mind. I could not forget them."

ALABAMA DRY COUNTIES CAN GET THEIR WHISKY

Montgomery, Ala., February 7.—Whisky can be shipped from a wet to a dry county in Alabama. Section 24 of the Fuller law enacted in 1909 was declared invalid today by Judge Gunter in the city court. This section provided that no liquors could be shipped from a wet county to one under prohibition laws. The court held that the Smith regulation bill supplants the old section.

TECH ELECTRICAL SHOW WILL BE BRILLIANT EVENT

The Senior Electrical Society at Georgia Tech is planning for an unusually interesting and instructive electrical exhibition on Friday evening next from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

The exhibition will include some of the most interesting experiments known in the modern electrical world, including the cooking of meats on a block of ice, the famous "Aztec sun," with its wonderful and varying colors; the "hoho effect," the dancing table and other interesting uses of the electric current.

One of the most remarkable features of the exhibition will be the condensing of smoke by a series of static electrical discharges. A model factory with smokestack has been secured for this experiment and the public will be much interested in seeing the test made. The shadowgraph will enable you to catch your own shadow. The electrical exhibit will demonstrate some other very unique uses of the electrical current and each experiment will be explained in non-scientific language by the lecturer. A delightful oyster luncheon will be served at the close of the evening, free of charge. A nominal charge of 25 cents will be made to cover incidental expenses of the exhibition. The public is cordially invited to attend the second annual electrical show given by the Tech Seniors on the evening of February 9 at the school. The Luckie street cars, with a ten-minute schedule, come within half a block of the campus.

HOOPER IS OUT FOR RE-ELECTION

Tennessee's Republican Governor Says He Will Enforce Prohi Law.

Nashville, Tenn., February 7.—In a statement reciting the forward steps, notably in the department of agriculture and in the penal system, which he claims for his administration and severely arraigning elements that have, he says, sought to discredit his efforts, Governor Ben W. Hooper, the first republican inaugurated governor of Tennessee in thirty years, today announced for re-election. He declares he has faithfully kept his promise to lend his influences to the enforcement of liquor laws, a material factor in the rural districts. For the large cities, he proposes additional legislation.

"The full program of the liquor machine," says Governor Hooper, "is the restoration of the legalized saloons in the cities, enactment of an election law that will put the control of state elections in the hands of the cities, which means into the hands of the liquor power, and the complete restoration of the whisky power to the entire state.

"If the people of Tennessee will back me up with the right kind of a legislature, we will demonstrate that the open saloon can be driven from every city in Tennessee."

The governor speaks with some assurance of the independent.

"Because," he continues, "the regular democratic primary of April 27 and the convention of May 16 will nominate a candidate and formulate a platform violative of every principle for which independents have fought for five years."

A MISSION THAT WE WILL PERFORM

A society organized for the purpose for lending money on jewelry, gold and silver-plate at a rate of interest which is not extortionate but fair to the borrower, is nothing short of philanthropy.

When this can be done and yield a handsome return to the stockholders on their investment, it becomes a business proposition appealing at once to all classes of investors.

The broad charter privileges of the society enable it to conduct a general banking business, and to own and operate a storage warehouse for merchandise. These and other important features of the business will be taken up in due course and carried to successful completion.

This enterprise, when finally completed and financed, will take its rightful place among the leading institutions of the state.

The Attention of Investors Is Directed to the 8% Guaranteed Preferred Stock of the Society

Which offers a most unusual opportunity to those in search of a high-class investment combining absolute safety with a high rate of earnings. A limited amount of this stock is now being offered to the public.

Remember! Only a Limited Amount of Stock Will Be Offered. We Reserve the Right to Return the Money When This Is Subscribed

Our Society

Many men have perfectly good collateral on which the banks will not loan money. To this class our plan especially appeals.

We loan money at a fair rate of interest on personal effects, and we thereby free the man and woman in need from extortion.

Our Society's plan is business tempered with justice.

We help the needy, and we assure our stockholders a very liberal return for their investments.

Similar Societies

In many other cities similar societies have been founded to help the poor.

In New York, for example, J. Pierpont Morgan, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Thomas F. Ryan—to name only a few—have put their money and their influence behind exactly the same sort of undertaking as that which we have now started in Atlanta.

The stock of the Provident Loan Society is as safe as a government bond.

The return is four times as great, and may be much greater.

The investment is in the cause of better citizenship.

CHAS. W. MORSE OFF FOR GERMANY

Will Spend Some Time in New York Recuperating and Then Sail Abroad in Hope for the Return of His Former Health.

Charles W. Morse, the ex-ice king and until recently prisoner at the federal penitentiary, has shaken the dust of Georgia from his feet, and in company with his wife and Dr. A. L. Fowler, left over the Southern railway on the 2:45 train yesterday afternoon for New York city. He traveled in a private drawing room.

The departure of the Morse party was not unexpected, as it was known last week they contemplated leaving in the next few days. The exact hour of leaving, however, had been closely guarded, and was known to no one outside the Morse family, Dr. Fowler and R. F. Taylor, assistant manager of the Piedmont.

The latter accompanied Mr. Morse from his room to the freight elevator of the hotel, assisting him by holding his arm. At the end of the short walk down the corridor, Morse was well-nigh exhausted, according to Mr. Taylor. They departed from the Forsyth street entrance of the hotel, and immediately on arrival at the Terminal station, where they were met by other members of the party, he was conducted to his private darwing room and the door was closed.

Morse Very Cheerful.

Mr. Taylor spent some time with Mr. Morse on the day of his departure, and stated later that the former ice king talked cheerfully and easily, in the main on trivial subjects. He expressed himself as being most favorably impressed with the kindly feeling of the southern people toward him, and most highly of his treatment while recently in the city of Atlanta.

"To look at Mr. Morse, would you consider him a dangerously ill man, one who might be dead in a month's time?" was asked Mr. Taylor.

"No, I would not. He doesn't look so badly. But his illness is an internal complaint," was the answer.

Great caution was observed throughout the stay of the Morse party at the hotel that no one should see Mr. Morse. When their rooms were being cleaned up he was moved from one to the other, so that even the chambermaids did not see him. Bell boys sent on messages to the suite were never admitted, but were received at the door and the receiving of telegrams or other business dispatched there.

Whenever a personal friend of Mr. Morse's called he was not allowed to enter the apartments without a written statement from Dr. Fowler, saying that he might enter.

Will Go to Europe.

Upon arrival in New York Mr. Morse will recuperate from his trip, and then sail for Germany with Mrs. Morse. They will go to Bad Nauheim, a resort 25 miles north of Frankfort-on-the-Main, noted for its baths, which are especially suited to patients suffering from heart complications. Mr. Morse has been there twice before and knows the value of the treatment.

He is suffering from a disease which it is believed cannot be cured in his case, but may be arrested for some time to come. The immense relief of mind, now that he is relieved of the perpetual anguish of realizing himself a prisoner, coupled with the beneficial effects of the German watering place, are expected and hoped to work great things for the banker. Whether he will ever again enter Wall stret or engage in large business enterprises is decidedly problematical.

History of Commutation.

On January 18 of this year Morse's prison sentence was commuted to the time he has already served by President Taft after a number of investigations conducted at the prison by physicians. He was removed to the army hospital at Fort McPherson by order of the government, where after further examination it was declared that his case was incurable, but not in immediate danger. Upon this report President Taft decided to take no action. After further examinations, which failed to bring the desired deliverance, an order came for Morse to be removed to Hot Springs, Ark., to be treated under the care of the army physicians there. It was determined, after consultation, however, that he was too ill to go there.

The president finally handed over all reports on Morse's condition to Surgeon General Torney, who made a report stating that if kept in confinement the prisoner would probably die within the month, and that even in the event of release, by commutation of his sentence, he would not live more than six months. On receipt of this report President Taft commuted Morse's sentence.

Morse Party at Charlotte.

Charlotte, N. C., February 7.—Charles W. Morse, accompanied by his wife, a physician and several friends, passed through here tonight on the Birmingham special, en route to the financier's home in New York city. The entire party had retired for the night when the train reached here at 11:20 o'clock and refused to be disturbed. It was learned from passengers on the train who had talked with members of the Morse party that the former banker will be taken to Carlsbad on the first ship out of New York, in an effort to prolong his life.

GOMEZ IS YIELDING TO CUBAN VETERANS

Havana, February 7.—President Gomez has issued a decree directing all the heads of the national and municipal departments to dismiss employees against whom evidence of former hostility to the cause of "Cuba libre" is presented by the veterans' association. The list of prescribed office holders comprises many hundreds of names.

Senor Machado, secretary of the interior, announces his intention to disregard the presidential order. Within the last forty-eight hours there have been many dismissals, especially from the treasury and public works departments, ostensibly for the sake of economy, but it is generally believed that this action is in response to the demands of the veterans.

MEN ARE FLOGGED BY STEEL TRUST

Congress Probers Bring Out Facts in Reference to Employment and Treatment of Convicts by Combine—Big Strap Used on the Men.

Washington, February 7.—Convict labor in the operation of subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation, particularly in Alabama, were taken up by the Stanley investigating committee today.

Shelby M. Harrison, of New York, a magazine writer, testified that he had made an investigation of the conditions. He told of the large number of state and county convicts in the camps in Alabama and of the minor offenses for which some of the men had been convicted and put at work in the mines. Men who walked on the right of way of a railroad, he said, had been arrested for misdemeanor and ordered into convict labor.

How Convicts Are Procured.

The committee inquired very minutely into the way in which the Tennessee Coal and Iron and Railroad company procured convicts. Mr. Harrison said the company agreed to take the convicts "old or young, black or white" and work them in the camps.

Attorney Reed, for the steel corporation reiterated that no state convicts were now being worked in Alabama by the company. Chairman Stanley replied that the company officials would be called to testify to that.

Mr. Harrison said that the warden who flogs convicts in labor camps is employed by the steel company. He said that he had seen a prisoner flogged with a three-ply leather strap and had seen black and blue marks on one convict's back. Failure to do the required tasks was punishable by flogging, solitary confinement and by other methods, he said.

How Men Are Flogged.

Mr. Harrison said that convict laborers were forced to lie flat on their faces to be flogged.

"Flogged with a thong as big as a wagon trace or tug?" suggested Mr. Stanley.

"By a strap five feet long."

"What's the usual punishment?"

"Fifteen lashes."

Representative Bartlett, of Georgia, a member of the committee, observed that the whole system of convict labor was wrong.

"I don't think there is any difference in the committee as to that," added Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts.

"No difference of opinion as to that with us," interjected Attorney Reed for the steel corporation, "and we are getting out of it as soon as possible."

Dry Cleaning cannot be done better than it is now being done at the Capital City.

STREET CAR MAN IS HELD FOR BOARD BILL

On a warrant charging beating a board bill, which he said had not yet fallen due, J. Boss, a young motorman of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, was pulled off his car Tuesday night without being allowed to complete his run, and lodged in jail, unable to mae bond. He is there now, awaiting trial in Judge Jackson's court.

The warrant was sworn out by John W. Dean, an ex-bailiff in Jackson's court.

When the arrest was made, between 8 and 9 o'clock, he was in charge of the Peachtree-Piedmont Park cars, one of the most important lines in the city. He asked to be allowed to go on until some one could be secured to relieve him. The bailiff who served the warrant acceded to this request.

The run to the park was completed and Boss started back to West End. At 11 o'clock, in the center of town, Boss was arrested for a bill which he said he was not supposed to pay until three days later and marched to the Tower. He was supposed to work until 1:07 o'clock.

The young man had not been able to make bond last night and said that he did not know what he would be able to do. His salary is, of course, stopped during his confinemnet. Boss said he had no intention of beating his board bill, and had asked the company for leave of absence for one day to visit his home.

PLUCKY WOMAN FIGHTS THREE YOUNG BANDITS

Attacked by three little negro boys, who grabbed her purse and attempted to run off with it, Mrs. C. V. Woodward, a widow living at 286 East Fair street, last night gave them a lively tussle until they were forced to flee without their prize.

Mrs. Woodward was quite out of breath when Call Officers West and Gallaher reached her and received a report of the occurrence. The fight had been a severe one, lasting some minutes, but in spite of that and her advanced age, she was able to proceed to prayer meeting where she had started when attacked by the young thieves.

On her way to church, shortly after 6 o'clock, Mrs. Woodward had reached Capitol avenue, when the three boys, none of them apparently over ten years old, ran toward her. One of them snatched her bag, which she carried by a strap. Instinctively she held on and began to pull away as the negro tugged at the bag.

Several times they circled round, and Mrs. Woodward began to lose ground. The two friends of the boy joined in and under their combined efforts the handle of the bag broke at one end. It slipped through Mrs. Woodward's fingers and the boy started off.

Another second and the little thieves would have been safely away, but Mrs. Woodward made a lunge, grabbed the collar of the boy who had the bag, and he went to the ground. She lost her hold, but he lost the bag, and when he regained his feet he took to his heels in fear.

Call Officers West and Gallaher made a search of the neighborhood, but the three boys had transferred themselves to safer regions. The bag contained quite a sum of money, according to the report, and articles of value to the owner.

MYSTIC RULING RUSSIAN CZAR

Influence of Gregory Rusputin Is Stirring Empire.

So Powerful Is the Reputed Holy Man at Court That the Duma Proposes to Investigate—Alleged Czar Does Everything Mystic Asks.

St. Petersburg, February 7.—The case involving the name of Gregory Rasputin, a reputed holy man and mystic, who is wielding immense influence at court, has grown to be an affair of national importance. The duma tonight adopted an urgent interpellation addressed to the minister of the interior as to why illegal pressure was applied on editors in St. Petersburg and Moscow, ordering them to print nothing concerning Rasputin, and on what grounds editions of The Novoe Vremya and The Golosmesky were confiscated and editors prosecuted.

Forced Bishop Into Exile.

It was said to be due to antagonism of Rasputin that Bishop Hermogenes, of the Saratov diocese and the abbot of Tsaritsin, Heliodorus, were ordered into exile. Commenting on this action of the emperor and the holy synod, the two papers mentioned published a denunciation of Rasputin, describing him as "a corruptor of bodies and souls." The editor of The Novoe Vremya, Boris Souvorin, is now under charges which may result in his imprisonment.

The interpellation introduced in the duma reproduces an open letter addressed to the hold synod by the religious writer, Novoseloff, in The Golosmesky, stating that "the criminal tragic comedy has been carried on for years by the corruptor of souls and bodies, Rasputin, before the eyes of the synod."

Empress One of His Devotees.

Rasputin resides at Tsarskoe-Solo, where he is the head of a cult. The empress is said to be one of his devotees.

M. Guchkoff, leader of the Octoberists and ex-president of the duma, during a speech on the question said that all Russia was passing through painful and depressing days and was stirred by the danger threatening the holy of holies, the altar and the throne.

Other deputies asked what was the cause of the elevation of Rasputin, who was a peasant occupying no force either in the church or the state, to a pedestal overtopping all. The deputies, with one exception, voted for the interpellation.

UNITED STATES FROWNS ON REBEL INVESTMENTS

Washington, February 7.—American citizens who invest in revolutionary movements cannot expect to find the United States government behind them as a protector of those investments. This was contained in a note today addressed by the Secretary of State Knox, to the German government through Ambassador Von Bernstorff. A copy of the note also was sent to France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and Russia. While the declaration dealt specifically with the Chinese situation it established a principle that is regarded as a long step toward the maintenance of international peace by shutting off in great measure, the procurement of funds with which to wage war. Secretary Knox in felicitating the powers on their adhesion to the agreement of joint action in China, intimated that much might be derived if all the powers should adopt the chief principle laid down in his note.

GRAVES WILL BE GEORGIAN EDITOR

Arrives Friday to Assume Duties With Hearst's Atlanta Paper.

John Temple Graves, Georgian, and for the past several years editor of William Randolph Hearst's New York American, will reach Atlanta Friday to take editorial charge of The Georgian, the latest addition to the New York publisher's string of newspapers and magazines.

This information was received in a telegram received yesterday by Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, from Mr. Graves. The message read: "In Mr. Hearst's behalf and my own, I thank you for your generous editorial of this morning. I shall be down on Friday to join Foster Coates, one of the greatest newspaper men of the entire Hearst service. We shall be glad to see you and to co-operate with you and The Constitution in every good cause for Georgia and the south. Fraternally yours,

"JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES."

Foster Coates, a veteran newspaper man in the Hearst service, arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon, and is stopping at the Georgian Terrace.

When seen last night, Mr. Coates stated that his stay in Atlanta would be for a few weeks, probably a month or so. He said further that he was direct from the Chicago office, and had not conferred with Mr. Hearst with regard to the future policy of The Georgian, which the latter recently purchased.

LUTHERAN LAYMEN MEET IN CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, N. C., February 7.—Delegates representing every state in the union and the Dominion of Canada, gathered at Salisbury this afternoon for the first general convention of the Lutheran Laymen's Missionary Movement. In round numbers there are three thousand ministers and laymen present, forming what is probably the greatest and most important religious gathering a southern town has ever entertained. Governor Kitchin welcomed the visitors and speakers of national repute in the Lutheran church filled out the program. Dr. E. T. Horn, of Philadelphia, addressed the convention on "The Awakening of the World," and Dr. J. Henry Harms, president of Newberry college, S. C., followed with an inspirational address on "The Supreme Opportunity of the Generation." Dr. S. P. Long, of Mansfield, Ohio, closed the meeting tonight with an address on "Inspiration for Conquest." Every home in Salisbury has been thrown open to the visitors and even then the accommodations are taxed to the limit.

AMERICAN BANKERS TO MEET IN DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., February 7.—The 1912 convention of the American Bankers' Association will take place in Detroit in the week beginning September 9. The date was decided upon today at a meeting of the associated banks of Detroit, attended also by Fred A. Farnsworth, of New York, secretary of the national association.

In all there is expected to be over thirty meetings, extending over five days. There are five departments of the association and each of them is subdivided. Detroit was selected for the coming convention at the 1911 meeting held in New Orleans, but the date was left to the local banking association.

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF THE TRAIN ROBBERS

Memphis, Tenn., February 7.—An all day search of the heavily wooded territory bordering the Mississippi river opposite Memphis in an effort to locate the five men who held up and robbed Rock Island passenger train No. 43 near Hulbert, Ark., this morning, was barren of results, so far as can be ascertained tonight. A score or more railroad and private detectives and several posses, under the direction of local officials, threshed the woods and underbrush today in the hope of finding the hiding place of the men. Trains passing through that area also were searched and officials of near-by towns scrutinized new-comers, but up to a late hour tonight no arrests had been made.

It was persistently reported today that a shipment of specie destined for an Oklahoma City bank was in the safe dynamited. This, however, is denied by express company officials. The amount of loot secured, they declare, is small. Postal officials assert that one pouch of mail is missing.

ACCUSED OF MURDERING BY POISONING COFFEE

Henderson, Ky., February 7.—The trial of Philip Burris, accused of the murder by poison of Henry T. Royster, a farmer near here, and his negro man servant, Retta Davis, last fall, got well under way today. Dr. Vernon Robins, of Louisville, who examined the viscera of the dead persons, testified that there was not enough strychnine in either stomach to cause death, although coffee he analyzed contained more than "thirty fatal doses" of the poison. The state, which was trying to prove death resulted from poison, which Burris is said to have bought, will seek to show that Burris mailed the coffee to the Roysters from Goodlettsville, Tenn.

Miss Blanche Royster, the eldest daughter, and the only member of the family not made ill, testified that she and Burris, formerly employed on the Royster farm, were to be married "after his (Burris) wife died." She told of her fondness for Burris and how she gave him all her money. She will be recalled tomorrow.

Burris, on his way from court to jail, passed hundreds of people today, to some of whom he nodded, smiling. Many country people brought their lunches and ate them in the courtroom. The nature of the defense has not been divulged.

Americans Meet Kaiser.

Berlin, February 7.—By special request of the emperor conveyed to the ministry of education the American exchange professors, Dr. Theobald Smith, of Harvard, and Dr. Paul Reinsch, of the University of Wisconsin, and Professor Edmund J. James, president of the University of Illinois, were presented to the emperor and empress at the court ball tonight.

Guilty of Whitecapping.

Bloomington, Ind., February 7.—Silas Adams, charged with having "whitecapped" Harvey McFarland, a farmer, last May, was found guilty by a jury here today. Three of the jurors are members of the faculty of Indiana university. Tom B. Snoddy, the first to be called for the whitecapping, was found guilty last week. The cases of six others are pending.

PENALIZING THE FARMER-BORROWER.

Between fifty and a hundred million dollars a year is wasted by small borrowers upon country and city lands in this country. The estimate is conservative, for it comes from no less a financial authority than Frank Bailey, vice president of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, of New York city. Mr. Bailey's ideas are developed in an article recently published in The Review of Reviews, in which he outlines the handicap imposed on the small borrower of this country, as distinguished from the large borrower, and points the way out.

Mr. Bailey shows, as did The Constitution recently in commenting upon the Raiffersen system, which has been in effect for a century or more in Germany, that while all the old-world countries have lifted the ban against land and real estate generally as security for small, long-time loans, we still cling in this country to the ancient usage which brings the city or the country borrower on real estate into the money market upon terms of total inequality as contrasted with other classes. He declares that what this country needs is a national lending institution or mortgage bank, which will make land in city or country the basis of small long-time loans at an interest rate and upon terms approximating those extended users of capital in huge blocks in this country.

Fifty or even twenty-five years ago there was good economic reason for placing rigid restrictions around land as collateral in America. Booms and inflations were periodic disturbers of values, and responsible lenders were timid of advancing money, save at high rates, under these conditions. Nor had we reached a definite basis of valuation for land in this country, a condition imperative to loans upon lands on a large scale if they are to be properly safeguarded.

Today conditions are altered. Stability, or appreciation, are more and more the factors in American land values. Wild-catting is steadily discouraged, both by state and federal laws, and speculation pure and simple does not make the dangerous appeal it once did. But in face of this improving situation, the land-owner, and especially the farmer, is still heavily handicapped if he wishes to borrow to extend improvements, or for the sake of buying his home or farm. In the city the building and loan associations have opened new avenues to the small borrower, but even here there is room for advancement.

Is it not time for such wholesale and wholesome revision in our banking laws and financial rules as will place land more upon an equality with other factors in the money market? Other borrowers may go into the market with securities running a wide range, and obtain loans at low interest and for long time. The one asset the farmer possesses is his acres and, due precautions being observed, it is about the most valuable that could be offered. It is not likely to prove "blue sky," as many of the securities now accepted as collateral, and it is likely to enhance steadily in value, where the safeguards ordinarily observed in lending are enforced.

Whether the straight-out Raiffersen system, or a system of farmers' national banks, with land as the basis of capital, is organized, or whether a lending institution such as outlined by Mr. Bailey proves the solution, it is evident we are approaching a radical change in our attitude toward the small borrower in America. Every indication is that henceforth his path is, deservedly, to be made easier.

THE FARM AND THE INEBRIATE.

The plan of the Atlanta Associated Charities, advanced at its recent annual meeting, to establish a farm near Atlanta for the treatment of inebriety, is a thoroughly practical one and is likely to receive the indorsement both of city and county authoritites. In several other American municipalities they have tried the system, and it has amply demonstrated its efficiency. New York city is now contemplating a farm-cure for habitual drunkards on a scale yet unapproached in this country.

The treatment of inebriety as a disease rather than as a crime is the twentieth-century principle back of the proposed local institution. The reasoning of the old days condemned the drunkard as a willful wrongdoer, in like manner with the person of unsound mind—and subjected both to such drastic penalties as aggravated rather than lightened their condition and the probability of recovery.

We have since learned that, with the inebriate more especially, the habit has more a physical than a moral basis, though it may be contracted by the first thoughtless yielding to the convivial instinct. Given the proper surroundings—fresh air, healthful occupation, cheerful companionship and medical attention where it is needed—the inebriate, in a large percentage of cases, is returned to the normal condition and becomes a support to his family and a contributor to society, rather than a drain upon both.

The probation system of reaching inebriety has worked excellently in Atlanta, but there is little question that it could be strengthened by the method proposed by the Associated Charities. In the last analysis, the idea is an economic one, since it involves increasing individual efficiency and lessening the toll upon the community. The plan is well worth the consideration of both county and city authorities.

PUBLICITY AND THE CHURCH.

A commission of the leading newspaper men of the country, acting in behalf of the Men and Religion National Congress, has been investigating the relation between the church and publicity and will, as a result, recommend that the churches use the newspapers more extensively to forward religious movements. The class of the commission may be seen when it is said it was composed of men of such prominence, for instance, as Victor J. Lawson, of Chicago; Milton McRae, of Detroit; Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, N. C.; Theodore W. Noyes, of Washington, and others of like reputation.

Every agency for advancement and uplift in this country now realizes the value of and uses the tremendous machinery for development afforded by the press. There is every reason why the church, within proper bounds, should do likewise. If associations devoted to fighting such physical ills, for example, as tuberculosis, can broadcast the country with publicity, why should not the denominations charged with the spiritual welfare of people adopt methods at least approximating these?

It is the complaint, here and there, that the church does not keep abreast of the times, and that it is losing in membership and enthusiasm. We believe that, to a great extent, this sentiment is exaggerated, and that our religious institutions have lost little if any influence with the average American man and woman. But there would be less ground for the belief if the church, in harmony with twentieth-century ideals, yet not sacrificing its dignity, went into the "highways and byways" through the best modern medium—the press—and there prosecuted its work by meeting the world's problems upon the world's own field of battle.

WHEN WOMEN LEAD TO THE LAND.

One of the most significant tendencies visible to the acute observer of today is the instrumentality of women in encouraging the "back to the land" movement. Not only is this impulse expressed in the desire of the city bride, of moderate means, to live in a neat country bungalow, or the ambition of the wealthy housewife to own a country manor and be a sort of vicarious mistress of an agricultural domain. Influences much more practical than these are actively at work.

For instance, there is a recent dispatch from Pittsburg, Kansas, relating that at the interstate corn show held at that place Miss Lada Hudson, a 16-year-old girl, won the prize for the best ten ears of corn over all boy competitors. The exhibition was a test covering not one, but several states. This fact should be borne in mind in arriving at the real value of the evidence in this particular case.

But such demonstrations are national, not sectional. It will be remembered that at the recent Southern Corn Show, held in Atlanta, girl after girl scored over boys in securing the coveted blue ribbon. Wherever the contest conditions had been made with allowance for disparity in strength between the races, the superior persistence of the girl almost invariably showed in the result. Indeed, one of the foremost facts developed by the corn club movement is the tendency of girls, and women, to take an interest in the work equaling, and in some cases exceeding, that displayed by the boys.

When the young women who are to be the wives and mothers of the future generation see the profit in scientific agriculture, and themselves practice it, the effect upon the men cannot be of other than tremendous proportions. It is virtually axiomatic that once the interest of the woman is enlisted, that of the man is bound to follow. We do not say, nor do we expect, that girls should, as a rule, get out and do the drudgery incident to farm-work. But the vital concern they manifest in the scientific side of it must be an everlasting inspiration to the men and a tangible asset to the country.

The more important phase of the new tendency is, however, the fact that it portends an awakening of our women to the imperative necessity of making life on the farm more attractive, more remunerative, better equipped to compete with the lure of the city. With the rising generation leading in this propaganda, we are presented with one of the most hopeful evidences that the problem of turning back the cityward tide is approaching solution.

From an Author's Journal.

The critics tell me I write "just like Dickens,"—that is, on the same kind of desk and paper.

Spent the past week reading "Pickwick," and have since devoted myself to "silence and soda water."

One can hear the wheels of the coach in which Master Dickens rides rumbling down the ages, but I can't afford to take a taxicab to Oblivion.

ACCUSED OF VIOLATING STATE ELECTION LAWS

Baton Rouge, La., February 7.—The grand jury of East Baton Rouge parish was today called to meet in special session on February 15 to investigate alleged violations of the state election laws. This action on the part of Judge Brunnet, of the district criminal court, resulted from the filing of affidavits yesterday against thirteen voters who are alleged to have violated the law in the recent primary election in having accepted assistance in preparing their ballots.

Those named in the affidavits include Mayor Roux, of Baton Rouge, and Charles Fuque, campaign manager for Governor Sanders in his campaign for the United States senatorial nomination.

POTATO IMPORTATIONS MAKE NEW HIGH RECORD

Boston, February 7.—The arrival of the steamer Devonian with her cargo of ninety thousand bushels of potatoes from Liverpool brings the foreign shipments of the tuber into this port since December 1 to 330,000 bushels, a new record.

The Devonian's cargo is in 33,000 sacks each containing 2¾ bushels, to be sold at $2.75 a bag.

PROHIBITION WILL BE ISSUE IN BUTTS COUNTY

Jackson, Ga., February 7—(Special.) More than ordinary interest attaches to the legislative race in Butts county this year, owing to the fact that the prohibition question will likely be the principal issue in the campaign. The prohibitionists declare that they will not support any candidate who does not come out squarely in favor of the Tippins measure or some other such legislation looking to the repeal of the near beer and locker club features of the present state prohibition law.

The indications are at this time that at least four candidates will announce within the next few days for representative from Butts. Judge T. G. Preston, of the city court of Flovilla, has already signified his intention of entering the contest. Hon. J. H. Mills, of Jenkinsburg, has been prominently mentioned in this connection, and it is generally understood that Hon. Threat Moore, the present representative, will stand for re-election. Friends of Hon. Nat H. Greer are urging him to make the race. It is not known just how any of the prospective candidates stand on the prohibition issue, though it is practically certain that the battle will be fought out along this line.

AMERICUS COMPANY AFTER BIG BOND ISSUE

The railroad commission spent the entire day Wednesday hearing the petition of the Americus Gas and Electric Company for the approval of a bond issue of $340,000 and stock issue of $250,000, to be used in meeting outstanding obligations and in making improvements in its plant.

Mayor J. E. Mathis, Alderman Lee Allen, City Engineer John B. Ansley and Hon. J. E. Sheppard, state senator and attorney, appeared representing the majority of the Americus city council, to protest against the approval by the commission of the issue asked.

On the other side there appeared before the commission T. D. Nesbit, of New York, who is financing the company; A. N. Walker, of New York, formerly president of the Americus Railway and Lighting Company, which has been absorbed by the Americus Gas and Electric Company; Electrical Expert W. B. Yereance, of New York; Superintendent J. H. Haggerty, of the Americus company; W. A. Hodson, N. M. Dudley, Thomas Harrold, Alderman C. J. White and Attorney R. L. Maynard, all of Americus.

Messrs. Yereance, Haggerty, Harrold and Ansley were called as witnesses, and the history of the company and its predecessors for the last twenty-three years was gone into. City Engineer Ansley claimed the physical property of the company was worth only $76,000, while Mr. Yereance valued it at $340,000. Mr. Harrold stated his father sold it about five years ago for $85,000 and considered it worth then $120,000. It is stated $100,000 worth of improvements have since been made upon it.

Attorney Sheppard made a brief argument against the approval of the issue. Mr. Maynard replied and the commission took the case under consideration. It involves some very pretty problems and it will probably be ten days or two weeks before a decision is reached.

ARCHITECTS TO HEAR HEATING EXPERT TALK

The Architectural Arts League announces a lecture by Mr. Henry R. Dillon, of Chicago, on low-pressure heating boilers. The lecture is to be given at Cable Hall on Thursday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Scientific men and interested laymen are cordially invited.

Mr. Dillon comes as a well-known authority and the matter discussed is of considerable interest, in spite of Atlanta's low latitude. As the modern building complicates in design, engineers and architects have to expand their knowledge and experience, and recent trouble in the heating systems of the public buildings and schools indicates that a more general understanding of this subject would be helpful to both laymen and designers.

SUDDEN DEATH COMES TO FLORIDA OFFICIAL

Jacksonville, Fla., February 7.—State Comptroller A. C. Croom died suddenly at an early hour this morning in Ocala, where he had gone to address a meeting of confederate veterans, held yesterday. After his address, made in the morning, he made a trip to Dunnellen and appeared in apparently good health.

Shortly after 4 o'clock this morning the family of Judge Joseph Bell, with whom he was stopping, heard a noise in his room, finding upon investigation that he had fallen from bed and was suffering from an attack of acute indigestion. Physicians were called, but he died within an hour.

This is the second death in Governor Gilchrist's cabinet within a week, State Commissioner of Agriculture B. E. McLin, having died suddenly last week.

MRS. HENRY W. TAFT BECOMES A CATHOLIC

New York, February 7.—Mrs. Henry W. Taft, wife of the president's brother, has become a convert to the Roman Catholic faith, says The Times today. She renounced the Episcopal faith and was received into the Catholic church last Friday.

From childhood Mrs. Taft was a devoted member of the protestant Episcopal church. She followed what is known as the high church service. Mr. Taft and his brother, President Taft, are Unitarians as were their ancestors for some generations.

Free Toll Through Canal?

New Orleans, La., February 7.—Resolutions recommending that the board of directors of the progressive union favor free tollage for American vessels using the Panama canal in coastwise trade were adopted at an open meeting last night of the transportation committee of the union. The resolution also favored a drawback for American vessels engaged in foreign trade.

ATLANTA FORGETS A FRIEND

By Fuzzy Woodruff.

Atlanta forgot a friend yesterday. This is not a habit of Atlanta. Atlanta usually shows that there is nothing hollow in friendship. But yesterday was the centennial anniversary of the birth of a man who has probably brought more happiness into more Atlanta homes than any man born since Bethlehem's star shone, and as far as Atlanta's public observance of the day is considered, the day was no more than the usual humdrum twenty-four hours of waking, washing, eating, working and going to bed.

No literary societies of Atlanta happened to remember that 100 years ago Charles Dickens was born, to create a new school of writing. No school teachers saw fit to consider that Charles Dickens revolutionized the methods of pedagogy with his kindly pen. No learned jurist stopped to consider that Charles Dickens did more to make sensible the chancery practice of England and America than all his perriwigged brothers who ever sat on a bench. No philanthropic organization saw fit to honor the memory of the man who brought closer home the doctrine of man's brotherhood to man than the millions of their most generous patron.

Still there was an observance. It was the observance that would have most pleased Dickens. His anniversary was recalled in hundreds of homes. By scores of firesides last night men laughed with Dick Swiveler and the Marchioness and their wives wept with Little Nell and her grandfather. Staid business magnates swept down a dark and dreadful river with Gaffer, Hexam and Rogue Riderhood, while scholarly debutantes, who pretend that they understand Browning, chuckled over the verses of Silas Wegg.

Care-free clubmen suffered with environment-bound Dombey, while persons who have never performed an act without righteous precedent kissed their book with all the freedom of Captain Cuttle to a fair maiden arising from the glowing coals of their grates, while philosophers admitted their shame as they recalled the reasoning of the infallible Bunsby.

Men who had never given away a pinch of salt sacrificed their lives as gallantly as did Carton, while big-hearted brothers, whose charities run into the thousands each year, pinched pennies with Ralph Nickleby.

And even the sternest of prohibitionists smiled their satisfaction and smacked their lips withal as they sat around a groaning table with a steaming bowl of bishop the center of attraction, with Pickwick at the head and Wardle at the foot, with Winkle and Tupman and Snodgrass and the poor relations on either side and Jingle everywhere, and Weller waiting and Mary blushing. He did not cease to smile when Mr. Pickwick threw his glasses on the floor and approved his feat with a beatific grin. Instead, he did a hornpipe of his own, that had not been performed since his boyhood.

All of these things happened last night in busy, prosaic Atlanta, and they were all done by that man of Gad's Hill, to borrow from the immortal O. Henry, "before whom, if you do not doff your hat, you stand with covered pumpkin—aye, sir, a covered pumpkin."

BOUNDING MAIN'S LURE MAKES BOY LEAVE WIDOWED MOTHER

Lured by the call of tropic seas and palmy isles such as Jack London writes of, with the added hope of adventure on the broad ocean and along the coasts of strange lands, young Clyde Roper, the eighteen-year-old son of Mrs. G. L. Roper, 58 Cherry street, gave up his job as shipping clerk with the Carolina Portland Cement company and, without a word of farewell to his widowed mother, enlisted at the recruiting station here, last Saturday, and was sent to Norfolk.

The first intimation that Mrs. Roper had of her son's action was a letter she received from him on Monday, mailed the day before when he left Atlanta for the Norfolk navy yard. In this missive young Roper stated that he thought the navy a good opportunity for him to see the world, and that he would send his mother his monthly salary.

"I just know somebody talked Clyde into going away like this," Mrs. Roper said yesterday morning. "He had a good position, and was making $65 a month. His employers were pleased with him, and told me so. What he made is everything I've got to live on, for my other boy," indicating a thirteen-year old youth who lives with her in their two room apartment of a cottage on Cherry street, "goes to school.

Would Have Boy Back.

"Clyde wasn't a bit wild; he was happy and contented in his home, and never talked about wanting to go off anywhere. It must have been somebody else who put this idea into his head, though I don't know who it could have been. But I've got friends who can help me, and I'm going to get him out."

Young Roper went to the recruiting station in the Austell building last Saturday, filled out the application blank correctly, and as he was of the age required for entering Uncle Sam's naval service, was accepted. He left on Sunday for Norfolk, after mailing his mother the letter telling her in a few words, of his departure out of her life, into the great world of which he wished to learn the ways and customs.

Applies at Recruiting Station.

Mrs. Roper went Tuesday to the station, and laid her case before Lieutenant Hileman, who is in charge in Atlanta. She fancied that Clyde was too young to enter without his parent's consent, and was disillusioned when she learned that he was regularly in, and that the navy department could do nothing towards getting him out. The only consolation offered her was the information that after a year's service, he could buy himself out for the sum of $97.20. His pay, during the year, will be $17.50 per month.

"It isn't right to take children—for that's all they are, that young—into the navy," said Mrs. Roper, weeping restrainedly. "I don't know what I'll do without him; I haven't even got a picture of him with my things here. I'm going to do my best to get him out, though, right away."

GOSSIP OF THE CAPITAL HEARD IN CORRIDORS

Attorney General T. S. Felder was back yesterday from Tallulah Falls, where he spent Tuesday at the conclusion of the survey of the falls and surrounding property, conducted by Professor J. H. Koch, of the engineering department of the state university. As the attorney general will have to pass upon the report after it has been submitted, he took a look over the ground in order to familiarize himself as much as possible with the situation.

The surveying party, which was composed largely of students of the engineering department of the state university, has returned to Athens. It will take about ten days for the engineers to work up the notes of their field operations, and following that Professor Koch will make his report to the governor.

The next step will be to apply the facts as ascertained by the survey to the law in the effort to ascertain whether the state has any property rights in Tallulah Falls or any portion of them. It was the claim that the state had such rights, and that it had never granted the Tallulah river and the falls that led to this survey. The outcome of it will be awaited with no small interest.

Pardon Board Rules.

Governor Brown and the members of the state prison commission, Chairman R. E. Davison, T. E. Patterson and Wiley Williams, held an informal conference in the governor's office yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing rules relative to applications for executive clemency. A series of rules will be drafted in the next few days, and after being approved they will be made public.

In a general way it may be stated that the requirement of thirty days' notice by the applicant, to be posted at the courthouse in the county in which he was convicted, will be included in the rules, to the end that any one desiring to object may be put on notice that the application is to be considered.

The prison commission now gives the first week of each month or the greater part of it to the consideration of applications for executive clemency. It will probably continue this practice, while Governor Brown is considering giving two days to the consideration of its recommendations, the latter part of the month. He will reach some decision on this point later.

In order to avoid any apparent conflict between the commission and the governor, in the matter of decisions on pardon applications, it is probable that the commission will not, in the future, make public its findings. They will be transmitted to the executive office without being given out, and they will not be published until the governor has finally passed upon them. In this way where the governor and commission may differ as to a particular case, their differences may be reconciled by conference, so that the final decision will become the decision of both.

Getting in State Cash.

Comptroller General W. A. Wright, State Treasurer W. J. Speer and other statehouse officials are now working to the end of getting sufficient cash into the state treasury to meet the remaining pension payments by February 15, if possible. It is believed now that they will do this. It will require something more than $550,000.

There are several railroads and other corporations which have not yet paid their taxes and the comptroller general is getting busy with these. They owe the state about $30,000, and it will help just that much to get this in.

The comptroller general is also urging the tax collectors and the ordinaries throughout the state to forward as soon as possible all moneys in their possession belonging to the state. In the large counties the ordinaries collect the near beer tax, and if all that has been collected of this were sent in, it would add something like $100,000 to the fund available in the treasury for paying pensions.

Pardon Sought for Cook.

Among a number of pardon applications argued before the prison commission yesterday was one filed by W. D. Cook, of Fannin county, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or serve 12 months for assault and battery upon a white woman. Cook claims that while acting marshal at Blue Ridge he was called upon to interfere in a fight between husband and wife, that both of them attacked him and that in the melee he may have pushed the woman down, but did not strike her. For his efforts at peacemaking he says he was sentenced for assault and battery. Assistant Solicitor General W. B. Butt, of Fannin, appeared to protest against clemency being granted in this case, which appears to have stirred up considerable feeling in the county.

New Bank Is Chartered.

The People's Bank and Trust Company was granted a charter by the secretary of state yesterday. The new bank will be located in Macon, will have a capital stock of $50,000 and its incorporators are Lee M. Happ, William C. Miller and C. B. Lewis.

BOYS HUNTING RABBIT FIND TIGER IN LAIR

Albany, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Hunting a rabbit—an innocent little rabbit—and finding a tiger—a big, bold blind tiger, at that—is going some for a bunch of youngsters out for a good time.

Yesterday afternoon eleven young chaps, ranging from 9 years to about 14, took a tramp up the river. Just beyond the Georgia Northern trestle they scared up a rabbit and gave chase. The rabbit ran to cover in a hole and the youngsters followed, when lo and behold! they found a blind tiger in place of a rabbit.

There under cover in the hole were 108 half pint bottles of whisky that had evidently been hidden out by some frightened tiger when Mayor Tarver started on his tiger hunt.

The youngsters were brave enough to confiscate every bottle of the whisky and carry it home to their parents. What the parents did with it has not been ascertained. No doubt the papa tigers will be some worried when he finds that his wards have strayed from their home ties and taken up elsewhere.

CITY NEWS

Judge Landrum Better.—Judge S. H. Landrum continued his improvement yesterday, and passed a restful, quiet day. His condition is better than it has been since he was stricken with paralysis some two weeks ago.

Cocaine Peddler Fined.—Hardly six hours after he had reached the state with cocaine in his pockets, George Copeland, a negro, was arrested for attempting to sell it. Yesterday afternoon Judge Broyles sent him out for 30 days in default of payment of a $15.75 fine.

Mr. St. John Was Re-elected.—At a meeting of the water board yesterday afternoon W. G. St. John was re-elected secretary of the waterworks department for two years. Mr. St. John has held the office for two years and has won the confidence of the water board by his efficient service.

Gives Up a City Job.—George T. Bishop handed in his resignation yesterday, to take effect at once, as bookkeeper for the park department and it was accepted by the park commission. The office pays $65 a month and Mr. Bishop gave it up to take a better position. His successor has not been appointed.

Won't Give Up Money.—Two young negroes, both sixteen years old, have been arrested and have confessed to the theft of $50 from the cash drawer of T. F. Wilson, a coal dealer, 397 Peters street, some days ago. They gave the names of John English and Arthur Glass. Although confessing to the theft, they have refused to give up the money, and one of them is said to have hidden it.

Voluntary Bankruptcy.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday with the clerk of the federal court by M. W. Gober and W. A. Waller, located at East Point, this county, and doing business as the Stonewall Milling Company, through their attorney, F. M. Hughes, of Atlanta. The papers placed with the clerk indicate liabilities aggregating $5,787.95, with assets totaling $3,675.

D. R. Buchanan Held—The alleged sale of a bottle of whiskey to a 16-year-old boy will be a double-pronged charge which D. R. Buchanan, of 248 Marietta street, will have to face this afternoon in police court. Buchanan is charged with violating section 1640 of the city code, known as the blind tiger ordinance, and the case of furnishing whiskey to a minor is expected to be developed during the trial.

Vacant House Thieves.—Vacant house thieves, who have been tearing out plumbing fixtures, gas and electric lights and even mantel mirrors, have been alarmed by the arrest of Joe Kemp and Andrew Wright, trash cart drivers, who have been bound over for burglary under $1,000 bonds. Detective Coker investigated the case and has recovered a large quantity of lead pipe, brass and other fixtures from junk houses.

"Squeeze" Case Postponed.—Cases against E. M. Membree and M. Holtz, promoters of a metal polish company, who were arrested on complaint of a young man who had invested his money with them and apparently been "squeezed" out, were postponed until Friday afternoon when called in police court yesterday afternoon. The two men are technically charged with doing business without a license at 10½ Walton street, but detectives say that the case may develop state charges.

E. I. Smith Was Here.—Hon. E. I. Smith, of Athens, one of the most prominent and widely known citizens of Clark county, passed through Atlanta yesterday en route home from south Georgia, where he went ten days ago on important business matters. While in Atlanta three or four hours yesterday Mr. Smith was warmly welcomed and pleasantly entertained by many old Atlanta friends. Mr. Smith has been four times mayor of Athens and is now treasurer of Clark county.

Fail to Get Liquor.—The whisky depot of the Southern Express Company, 62 South Forsyth street, was robbed by two negroes last night, who sought to make their escape in a cab, but were forced to flee, leaving four cases of liquor behind. The negroes piled their loot into a cab along with themselves. It was stopped at Forsyth and Hunter streets, half a block from the express office, by officer Swinney, who was making the round of his beat. The negroes at once jumped out and fled.

THREAT MADE WITNESS CHANGE HIS STATEMENT

Chicago, February 7.—A threat made by District Attorney Wilkerson in the packers' trial today to use the stenographic report of the proceedings of the federal grand jury to show that John M. Chaplin, a witness, was attempting to shield Charles H. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co., and one of the defendants, brought additional answers from the witness.

Chaplin, who has been on the stand two days, declared all instrutcions issued in regard to allowances for by-products in 1907 were issued on his own responsibility, as head of the plant accounting department of Swift & Co.

He denied that Charles H. Swift had ever given him orders in regard to figuring the test cost of beef later than 1908.

District Attorney Wilkerson declared that in testifying before the federal grand jury in January, 1909, the witness had admitted that he received instructions from Charles H. Swift as late as November, 1907.

Later Chaplin, in response to questions by Judge Carpenter and District Attorney Wilkerson admitted that he reported every change in by-product allowance to Charles H. Swift in 1907, and that the vice president had knowledge of all matters pertaining to the test cost of beef.

In view of these answers, District Attorney Wilkerson did not press his right to use the grand jury record in the further examination of the witness.

Chaplin was on the stand when court adjourned, and will be quetsioned further tomorrow morning.

HOSPITAL NURSE TAKEN FOR DOROTHY ARNOLD

Philadelphia, February 7.—Convinced that the young nurse in the New Philadelphia general hospital, who was believed by some of the attaches to be Dorothy Arnold, is not the missing heiress, John S. Keith, of New York, attorney for the Arnold family, and a private detective who accompanied him here, returned to New York. During their stay in this city today they visited the hospital.

Mrs. Hillegas Bean, the nurse who was believed to be the missing heiress, came to this city last December with her husband and 7-months-old baby. The baby was stricken with scarlet fever and had to be removed to the hospital and the mother accompanied it. When the child died she remained as an assistant nurse. She told other nurses that she had pawned jewelry in New York and some of them, thinking she was the missing girl, notified Mr. Arnold.

IDENTITY OF KIRMESS KING INTERESTS MANY

The following rehearsals for the Kirmess will be held today: Garland Girls, 11 a. m.; Spanish dance, 12:30 and 7:30 p. m.; Fairies, Butterflies, Wood Nymphs and Phorty Phunny Phellows, 3 p. m.; A Night in Japan, 3:30; Parisian romance dance, 5:30; Swing dance, 5:45 p. m.; Roumanian dance, 8 p. m.; Carmen dance, 8:30 p. m. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Broughton, Ivy 2845.

Who is to rule the belles and beaux of Atlanta society during the two days of Kirmess revelry?

The King of the Kirmess will not be announced until the opening night, when he will be duly crowned and will then receive the keys of the city and wield his sovereignty over all Atlanta's people.

In the meantime, word has gone forth that the king must be the social lion of Atlanta, and must be a man of regal bearing and splendid physique. The five hundred or more society ladies and girls who are working to produce the Kirmess are all hoping that it will be their husband or sweetheart, as the case may be, who will be acclaimed sovereign lord of the fair city of Atlanta and its territories.

Besides the ladies who are looking forward to the choosing of the king, it is said that at least a dozen men have their eye on the throne seat, and, while they would not think of hinting in any way for the honor, they are hoping hard enough to land the place if that would do them any good.

King or no king, the rehearsals are going on daily with renewed interest and costumes will soon be fitted for all the performers.

MORE POWER FOR TAFT IN MEXICAN SITUATION

Washington, February 7.—Legislation to give to President Taft added power to fully protect Americans along the Mexican border in case of another Mexican outbreak at border points is to be introduced in the house soon by members of the foreign affairs committee.

Representative Foster is formulating proposed laws that will meet the views of the president and the state department as to the powers that should be given the executive head of the government.

Representative Smith, of Texas, democrat, today urged the passage of his resolution to instruct the state department to press claims of Americans at El Paso and Douglas, who were injured or suffered loss on American soil from stray bullets from the battles of Juarez and Agua Prieta.

GOES TO MEND WATCH; TAKES IT TO BAR ROOM

Hal Roberts, a young white man, of 289 Ashby street, was bound over yesterday afternoon on a charge of larceny after trust, in taking a woman's watch and failing to return it. At the same time Dan Moss, who works in a saloon at 35 Decatur street, was fined $5.75 for doing business without a license, in advancing money on the watch. It was said that Roberts had taken the watch, promising to have it mended, and had pawned it to Moss for one dollar. It was recovered by Detectives Fain and Norris.

WHAT HE MEANT BY THAT "GO TO —"

Sam Gompers Says His Injunction to Court Was Merely Shakespearean.

Washington, February 7.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, today told the court which is trying him, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell, for contempt that when he wrote that the court could "go to ——" with its injunction, he had used the expression in the Shakespearean sense and not a profane one.

"I like Shakespeare and had in mind one of his expressions when I wrote that," said Mr. Gompers, "such as 'Avaunt,' 'Go to— with thy prattle.'

"It was in the Shakespearean sense that I used it and I meant no disrespect of this court or its decree. I meant 'go to,' 'wait' or 'stop' with your injunction."

At the conclusion of his direct examination President Gompers exonerated John Mitchell, former vice president of the federation, who was sentenced to nine months in jail for contempt.

Mr. Gompers said Mr. Mitchell did not sign the pronouncement for which the labor leaders are being prosecuted, but that his name had been attached as a matter of course and that he did not see the subject until it had been printed.

When Alton B. Parker had finished examining Mr. Gompers, cross examination by the prosecution began. Mr. Gompers persisted for a time in trying to answer questions to which Judge Parker objected, but the attorneys way prevailed.

Attorney Darlington read the injunction decree to Mr. Gompers and asked why he had not obeyed it, and had permitted articles to appear in the American Federationist in violation of the injunction. Gompers said that he believed his constitutional rights had been invaded and that those portions of the injunction to which he took exception were void.

"You set yourself and your counsel up as an intermediary court of appeals to pass on the injunction," suggested Mr. Darlington. "No," said Mr. Gompers, "The point that we are contending for is the American right of free speech and a free press under the constitution.

"Now who is to decide these points, you or the courts?"

"The supreme court of the United States. I contend that when the court transcends its right that the citizen shall decide for himself. If he is of the opinion that the court went too far, he must decide for himself," said Mr. Gompers.

Unusual precautions were taken to guard Justice Wright. Three policemen and a deputy United States marshal escorted him to his chambers. The justice has received many threatening letters.

The possibility of a noted lawyer being involved in the contempt proceedings with Mr. Gompers was averted by the failure of the memory of the witness. Mr. Gompers had testified that he was advised by counsel that he would not be in contempt of the court if he published articles which were later held in contempt.

"Who advised you?" asked Justice Wright.

"I prefer not to say unless the court compels me," answered the witness. There was a oraning of necks and Alton B. Parker, chief counsel for Mr. Gompers, elucidated the situation for his client.

Justice Wright insisted on an answer. Mr. Gompers named a firm of Washington lawyers, but said he could not remember the individual who had advised him.

Georgia Extends Welcome To Coming Ohioans

Some of the best Ohio farmers are becoming very much interested in the farm lands of Georgia. Wayne county seems to be particularly attractive to them. More than two hundred German families have purchased these lands and gone there from Ohio during the past few months.

The soil of Wayne county is dark, sandy loam with a good clay subsoil, which is probably the best land in the state for general farm use and raising stock. Both the climate and the soil are highly pleasing and the lands are much sought after. In time to come these lands will probably bring as much as the Ohio farm land, selling for $150 per acre.

There is a colony of German Catholics buying lands at Fairfield, Ga., in Wayne county, these farmers being of the opinion they can clear more money on Georgia lands at from $15 to $20 per acre than they can make on the $150 per acre Ohio lands, as a crop can be produced much cheaper and two crops a year can be made with some products.

Georgia is greatly pleased to have such farmers coming among her people and to see them bringing improved farm machinery and fine stock.

DUKE TO QUIT AS HEAD OF THE TOBACCO TRUST

New York, February 7.—James B. Duke very shortly will resign from the presidency of the American Tobacco Company to become chairman of the British-American Tobacco Company, Limited, with its chief office in London, it was announced late today at the American Tobacco Company offices. With this announcement was coupled the statement that he will be succeeded as president of the American Tobacco Company by Percival S. Hill, long a vice president.

Mr. Duke's desire in making the change, it was explained, was to devote himself to the extension of the business of the British-American Tobacco Company, Limited, which now lies principally in China, India, Australia, Canada, South Africa and continental Europe.

PREACHER'S ASSAILANTS SOUGHT BY AUTHORITIES

Fort Worth, Texas, February 7.—The courts today came to the aid of the Rev. J. Frank Norris, of this city, who has twice been the object of murderous attacks and whose church was burned Sunday. Special instructions were given for a grand jury investigation. Rev. Norris' friends assert he has been attacked because of his crusade for law enforcement here. He is pastor of the First Baptist church

It developed today that in filing a speaking engagement at Ennis about 50 miles from here Monday, Rev. Norris traveled in an automobile, his friends saying a train journey would expose him to attacks.

There is a reward out for the arrest of those who burned his church Sunday and attempted to burn the parsonage.

Land Donation Is Accepted.

New Orleans, La., February 7.—The New Orleans City council yesterday passed resolutions accepting the donation of 50,000 acres of reclaimable lands to be held in trust 100 years for the benefit of Tulane university, charity hospital, Salvation Army, and other institutions. The gift was made by Edward Wisner, of this city.

WHY STEEL TRUST BURNED RECORDS

Statement Made by Judge Gary, Head of Combine

Gary Says Burned Papers Had Been Examined by Government and the Trust Officials. Thought Papers Were No Longer Needed.

New York, February 7.—Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, gave out a statement in explanation of the charge made by the government that certain evidence used in the prosecution of the so-called Jackson wire pools, and needed to support the government's suit to dissolve the corporation had been destroyed.

Judge Gary says that the evidence, a trunkfull of "old papers" that had been before the federal grand jury in New York and returned after the indictments in the wire pool investigation had been "disposed of," was ordered destroyed by Frank Baackes, president of the American Steel and Wire company, who "supposed that all the prosecutions growing out of the wire pools were at an end and that the papers were no longer needed for any purpose."

Sorry Government Acted.

After expressing his regret that the government "thought it necessary or desirable" to bring its injunction suit restraining the corporation or its subsidiaries from destroying evidence, Judge Gary says:

"I had never heard of the destruction of these papers until yesterday and upon inquiry I learn that the circumstances were as follows:

"In the spring of 1911 the New York federal grand jury, under the direction of District Attorney Wise, began an investigation into the Jackson wire pools. During the course of this investigation a subpoena was issued directing the wire company to produce all letters and papers bearing upon the transactions under inquiry. The officers of the wire company complied with this subpoena by gathering together from their files all the papers called for. They were very numerous and filled a large trunk. One of the officers brought the trunkfull of papers from Worcester, Massachusetts, where they were assembled, to the grand jury in New York.

"Instead of being retained, in accordance with the usual custom, in the custody of the officer producing them during the recess of the grand jury, these papers were turned over to the district attorney at his request in order that he and his assistants might have opportunity to examine them.

"As I am informed, this examination was made and the papers were catalogued and their contents noted. Upon the examination being completed, and upon the day the indictments were filed, the trunkfull of papers was returned to Mr. MacVeagh (Charles MacVeagh, general solicitor of the corporation) in response to his letter referred to in the petition.

How Papers Disappeared.

"The indictments were all disposed of by pleas of nolo contendere and the papers were never called for again by the district attorney. The trunk remained in the personal charge of Mr. MacVeagh during all of July and until the 25th of August, when he left on a two months vacation. During the absence of Mr. MacVeagh, Mr. Bolling, assistant general solicitor, was in charge of the office. He had been absent in Europe during the month of July and part of August. At the end of September the offices of Mr. MacVeagh and Mr. Bolling were moved from the seventeenth to the sixteenth floor of number 71 Broadway.

"Mr. Bolling then noticed the trunk in one of the offices and directed that inquiry be made at the offices of the American Steel and Wire company, number 30 Church street, New York city, to ascertain if the trunk could not be stored there. Upon hearing that it could, he directed its removal, and it was accordingly removed to the offices of the wire company on or about September 28, 1911. This was done without the knowledge of Mr. MacVeagh.

"When Mr. Colton of the department of justice applied about the end of January for leave to inspect the contents of the trunk, Mr. Bolling made inquiry at the office of the wire company in New York and learned that shortly after the trunk was received at that office it was forwarded by direction of Mr. Baackes to the offices of the wire company at Worcester, Mass., from which it had been originally sent. Further inquiry developed that after its arrival at Worcester its contents were destroyed by order of Mr. Baackes. Mr. Baackes reports that when he ordered the contents destroyed he supposed that all the prosecutions growing out of the wire pools were at an end and that the papers were no longer needed for any purpose."

NO COMFORT TO FAT MAN IN THE 1912 FASHIONS

Buffalo, N. Y., February 7.—Fashion's decree governing men's dress during 1912 offers small comfort to the fat man. The dictum of the customs cutters association of America now in session here is as follows:

"The slender man is to be the mode for 1912. To be considered well dressed and well groomed a man must give the impression of slenderness. If he is not naturally slender his tailor must adopt measures to make him appear so. The effects must all tend to produce slenderness."

Conservatism will be the watchword according to Chairman H. P. Walker. There will be no padded shoulders and tighter fits will be the order of the day. Either plain or striped effects will be correct.

50 Persons Perish in Snow.

Ishim, Siberia, February 7.—A party of fifty persons perished in a snowstorm while traveling along the road in the vicinity of this city. They were caught in a drift, from which forty-four corpses have been dug.

COL. B. W. WRENN DIES IN NEW YORK

He Was Courier Who Carried Confederate Surrender to Grant.

Colonel Beverly Welford Wrenn, the courier who carried tht message of terms of surrender from General Robert E. Lee to General Grant, formerly a resident of Atlanta, and one of the best known railroad men in the country, died Tuesday night in New York from blood poisoning, which necessitated the amputation of a leg.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, Harry, Beverly and Allen Wrenn. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Samuel Stocking, of West Peachtree street, Atlanta. The place of his burial has not yet been announced.

Colonel Wrenn, several years ago, lived in Atlanta, and each of his children was born in this city. He was at one time general passenger and traffic manager for the Plant railway system, but at the time of his death was president of the Kennesaw Motor Company, of New York, which operated sight-seeing motor cars and steamships.

He served throughout the civil war, first as a telegraph operator for General Jackson, and later as an aide to General Robert E. Lee, during service in which capacity he carried the terms of surrender from General Lee to General Grant.

He was born in Culpepper, Va. It is not known whether he will be buried in his birthplace or in New York. He was 65 years old, but up until his last illness he was as active and vigorous as many men several years his junior. The cause of his death was very unusual and very few similar cases have been known. About two weeks ago, while in the bathroom of his home, he stubbed a toe. The abrasion developed into blood poisoning and the attending physician advised that he be removed to a sanatorium. Following his removal, it was found necessary to amputate the infected limb, which was done on Saturday of last week.

NATIONAL COAL STRIKE FEARED BY ENGLAND

London, February 7.—The probability of a national coal strike and complete dislocation of the industry has been greatly increased by failure of the national conference of coal owners and miners to effect a settlement. During the early part of January miners voted on the question of declaring a general strike on March 1. The ballot indicated that 445,801 men were for a strike and 115,291 against it.

ROAD NOT DEFRAUDED OUT OF MILLION DOLLARS

Chicago, February 7.—"The statement that the Puget Sound railroad had been defrauded out of the sum of $1,000,000 or any other sum of money, in connection with the construction and equipment of that railway is absolutely and unqualifiedly false."

This statement was issued late today by President E. J. Earling, and Vice President E. W. McKenna, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, after their attention had been called to a rumor that the company had suffered losses in connection with the extension of its lines to the Pacific coast.

The rumor was heard in New York and Chicago practically simultaneously and told also of an investigation said to have been instigated by a group of stockholders.

After the reports had become public Mr. McKenna conferred with President Earling and said no further statement would be issued.

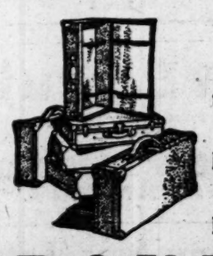

Bath Tub Jury Completed.

Detroit, Mich, February 7.—The jury was completed and the opening statement for the government begun before court adjourned late today after the second day's session of the trial of the governments criminal case against the so-called bath tub trust. Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the attorney general, expects to complete his opening statement tomorrow and the taking of testimony is expected to be well under way before the end of tomorrow's session. Outlining the government's case, Mr. Grosvenor described the alleged monopoly as nation-wide.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY JOSEPHUS DANIELS

Washington, February 7.—Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, N. C., democratic national committeeman from that state, who will have charge of the press section of the democratic national convention at Baltimore in June, today appointed James D. Preston and Charles H. Mann, the superintendents of the press galleries of the senate and house, respectively as sergeant-at-arms of the convention, in charge of the press section.

Mr. Daniels today announced that all applications from daily newspapers for seats for their correspondents at the convention be addressed to Charles S. Albert, chairman of the standing committee of correspondents, senate press gallery, Washington, and that application for reservations for correspondents of weekly publications should be addressed to Mr. Daniels at Raleigh, by March 31.

HE CHARGES KIDNAPING TO HIS POLITICAL FOES

May's Landing, N. J., February 7.—Attempted kidnaping of a laborer in their employ because of his over-activity in politics, is the charge on which Lyman J. Beyers and Charles Smallwood, superintendent and foreman, respectively, of the Atlantic City Water Company, went to trial today. William C. Jones, the laborer, says they got him in an automobile and took him twenty miles out in the country so he might not get back in time to serve as a democratic member of the board of elections in November, 1910. He, however, escaped, daught a train and reached the city in time. Jones testified today the defendant Beyers called him into the office before election day and suggested that he resign from the board, because his political activity was displeasing to several leading citizens.

15,000 VOLTS FAILED TO KILL SCRUDDERS

Johnstown, Pa., February 7.—Knocked unconscious yesterday afternoon by 15,000 volts of electricity that passed through his body, Wilbur Scrudders, aged 42, foreman of the Citizens' Light, Heat and Power Company, here, was carried into a physicians office, apparently dead. He remained in a comatose condition throughout the night, but this morning arose and went to work as usual, complaining only of a soreness of muscles.

DICKENS REMEMBERED BY BRITISH EMPIRE

London, February 7.—The centenary of the birth of Charles Dickens is being celebrated throughout the United Kingdom and the British colonies by commemorative services, Dickens carnivals and festive banquets.

The great novelist's grave in Westminster Abbey is lavishly covered with flowers, including wreaths from many of the Dickens clubs of the United States.

PINCHOT'S BROTHER TURNS TO ROOSEVELT

New York, February 7.—Amos Pinchot, brother of Gifford Pinchot, and heretofore one of the La Follette leaders in the east, has transferred his allegiance to the Roosevelt standard.

"La Follette's withdrawal," he says in explaining his position, "leaves his followers free to get behind Roosevelt and continue the old fight with another leader. Many La Follette men feel that Roosevelt is not as advanced as La Follette, but it is clear that La Follette and Roosevelt are agreed upon most fundamental points.

"La Follette's withdrawal was the only sure means of uniting all the progressives and of insuring the nomination of some progressive."

Gifford Pinchot is in Canada and is not expected back for several days.

Catholic Priest Expelled.

Detroit, Mich., February 7.—The Rev. Waclaw Kruzka, pastor of St. Albertus church, Milwaukee, was this afternoon expelled from the Polish Catholic priests' convention, now being held in this city. It was charged against Father Kruzka that he has written "articles for and catered to anti-Catholic Polish press."

PHINIZY-SPALDING WEDDING IS MOST BRILLIANT EVENT

..., Ga., February 7.—(Special.) This evening at 8:30 o'clock occurred the marriage of Miss Boiling Phinizy and Mr. Hughes Spalding, of Atlanta, the wedding taking place at the palatial home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billups Phinizy, on Milledge avenue in this city.

The beautiful and impressive ceremony of the church was performed by Father Gunn, of Mississippi. The attendants were Mrs. Hammond Johnson, of Norfolk, matron of honor; Miss Martha Phinizy, maid of honor; Miss Nellie Phinizy, first bridesmaid. The other attendants were Miss Mattie Wilson DuBose, Miss Mary Gerdine, Miss Louise Phinizy, of Augusta; Miss Marguerite Wright, of Augusta; Miss Harriet Calhoun, of Atlanta; Miss Elizabeth Rawson, of Atlanta; little Miss Louise Phinizy, flower maid. Mr. Jack Spalding, of Atlanta, was best man; the groomsmen were Mr. Tate Wright, Mr. Thomas Fleming, Mr. Jackson Dick, Mr. Louis Wisdom, Mr. Albert Thornton, Mr. Jesse Draper, Mr. Otis Young and Mr. Winship Nunnally.

The Phinizy home was a brilliant scene of beauty with the loveliest and most elaborate decorations ever seen in Athens. From the sidewalk extended a canvas archway to the entrance of the inclosed veranda, with electric lights shaded in red suspended from above. The spacious verandas were radiantly beautiful with the graceful network of smilax and hundreds of electric light bulbs shaded in red petals representing soft-toned flowers in a graceful arrangement overhead and garlands of green vines forming a delicate tracery against the white canvas. The long hall carried out the same rich coloring with a wealth of Richmond roses, Easter lilies, the background of palms, festoons of smilax and asparagus ferns. The archways were hung with rope of smilax tied back with bows of white tulle, beautiful electric baskets were suspended from the ceiling and filled with graceful vines and a burst of tiny electric lights shaded in red. A myriad of lights gleamed and twinkled out from every nook and corner. Great baskets of roses and Easter lilies were on mantels and pedestals. The graceful ropes of smilax and feathery ferns were used throughout the lower floor. In the living room baskets of American Beauty rases with the lilies were gorgeous in their beauty and charming in their arrangement.

The dining room was in pink and green; baskets of Killarney roses and Easter lilies were banked on mantel and buffets. The bride's table was a dream of beauty in all its handsome appointments, over the snowy cloth of damask an exquisite lace centerpiece was used, resting upon a pyramid of pink roses and valley lilies extended to the drop light, which was fringed in smilax and festoons of tulle. Four silver candelabra held the tapers, tipped with delicate pink shades. The mints were white, embossed with pink roses.

The bride's cake was very beautiful, heart shaped and had the same "fairy bride" that was used on her mother's and her sister's wedding cakes. A wreath of smilax surrounded it. The white and gold china and the silver goblets were elegant accessories. The small cakes were pink roses. The place cards were handpainted in various designs, flowers, cupids and otner appropriate ones. Tiny white satin boxes tied with ribbon holding cake were at each place. A sumptuous hot supper was served. The drawing room, which is elegant in its furnishings of white and gold, was very beautiful in exquisite decorations of white and green with graceful green and gold and white baskets of Easter lilies. An aisle was formed from the den (which was lovely in red and green) of white ropes tied to white pedestals with huge bows of tulle and bunches of lilies. The ropes were twined with smilax. This lovely arrangement ended at the improvised altar. The large front window was banked with tall palms and baskets of lilies alternating with the brass candelabra which held waxen tapers, at the base a white satin altar, with its cushion, completed the elaborate and exquisitely beautiful room where the young people made their nuptial vows.

The bride was lovely in her bridal robe of charmeuse satin, elaborately trimmed in real lace; her flowers were a shower bouquet of orchids and valley lilies. Her only jewel was a diamond necklace, the gift of the groom. Mrs. Hammond Johnson, a sister of the bride, wore her wedding gown of rich satin trimmed with real lace and diamonds. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids were gowned in pale green charmeuse satin trimmed with lace and silver and carried bouquets of Easter lilies tied with streamers of white tulle. The bride was given away by her father and the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Jack Spalding. The orchestra was placed at the head of the stairs in an improvised balcony which was screened with smilax and innumerable red lights, and rendered a lovely program during the entire evening.

Mrs. Phinizy received her guests wearing a lovely creation of lavender satin trimmed with real lace and a corsage bouquet of violets and valley lilies.

Mrs. Spalding, as Miss Phinizy, has been a belle in southern society, beautiful, gifted and accomplished, crowned with all the graces of lovely, lovable young womanhood. Mr. Spalding is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Spalding, of Atlanta, very prominent and popular socially and professionally, being one of the progressive young lawyers of the capital city. The marriage of these young people unites two of the very old and influential families of the south and the occasion this evening was one of the most brilliant and notable events in the social history of Athens. Mr. and Mrs. Billups Phinizy were royal hosts and many out-of-town guests were present for the interesting occasion. A score of Athens homes entertained socially prominent people this week who are here for the wedding. The wedding presents were among the handsomest ever displayed—consisting of everything in silver, cut glass and china. Mr. and Mrs. Phinizy gave an elegant chest of flat silver; Mr. and Mrs. Spalding, silver service; Mrs. A. D. Phinizy, a dozen silver plates. There were silver dishes, trays, goblets, pitchers and, in fact, everything complete, beautiful gold and white china in endless variety, scores of pieces of cut glass and many tables of various other gifts useful and exquisitely beautiful.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, of Atlanta, Hon. and Mrs. Pleasant Stovall, Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Phinizy, of Augusta; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spalding, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith, Mrs. William Rawson, Hon. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Mr. and Mrs. William Oglesby, Atlanta; Mrs. Orme Campbell, Mr. Eugene Haynes, Mr. Dan McDougal, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. William Shroder, Atlanta; Hon. and Mrs. Julian McCurry, Hartwell; Miss Louise Phinizy, Augusta; Miss Marguerite Wright, Augusta; Miss Harriet Calhoun and Miss Elizabeth Rawson, of Atlanta; Father Gunn, of Mississippi; Messrs. Albert Thornton, Winship Nunnally, Otis Young, Louis Wisdom, Jesse Draper, Thomas Fleming; Miss Sarah Rawson, Atlanta; Mr. Ed Allfield, Mrs. Anderson, Dr. Spalding, Mrs. W. P. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Will Spalding, Miss Corrie Hoyt Brown, Mr. Robert Woodruff, Mr. Charles Sciples, Mr. Coles Phinizy, Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alex King, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Paine, Mr. and Mrs. Will Kiser, Mr. J. B. Oglesby, Mr. Oscar Underwood, Miss Esther Smith, Mr. Carl Ridley, Mr. Ed Gay, Mr. Stewart Witham, Mr. Hubbard Allen, Miss Mary Cooper, all of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford Lipscomb.

Cox-King.

Of wide social interest was the wedding last night of Miss Katherine Cox and Mr. Henry King, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., which took place at the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Black, on Peachtree road.

The ceremony, at 8.30 o'clock, was performed by Dr. Daniel, of the First Baptist church, and it was witnessed by an intimate company of relatives and friends.

Miss Evelyn Orme was maid of honor, Mr. Jettow King, of Tampa, was best man, and Misses Julia Black, Callie Orme, Sarah Orme and Rebecca Orme were a charming group of flower girls. Masters Grady and Charles Black were pages, and Messrs. Harmon and Charles Cox, the bride's brothers, were ushers.

The bride was a picture of youthful freshness and beauty in her wedding gown of white satin elaborately hand embroidered. It was trimmed with duchess lace, and the yoke and corsage drapery were of exquisite lace made by her grandmother after she was 75 years old. Her flowers were a shower of orchids and valley lilies.

The maid of honor wore a white lace gown and her bouquet was of pink roses, showered with valley lilies. The flower girls wore lingerie dresses and carried French bouquets of pink rosebuds and valley lilies.

Mrs. Albert Cox wore an elegant toilet of black lace, and Mrs. Eugene Black wore white chiffon cloth embroidered in crystals.

The bridal party was grouped for the ceremony in the library, which was handsomely decorated with palms and white carnations, and there was a tasteful use of foliage plants and flowers throughout the house.

In the dining room the bride's table had as its centerpiece a basket of pink roses and white hyacinths, the silver candlesticks burned pink candles, unshaded, and the places were marked by gilt wishbones tied with pink ribbons, on which were the names of the guests in gilt letters. The favors were pink satin rosebuds filled with rice.

An orchestra provided the wedding music, and the occasion was one of elegance and beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. King left after the wedding for Florida, and later they will go to Cuba and Panama before going to make their home in Murfreesboro, where he is a prominent and popular citizen.

The bride, who is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Albert H. Cox, represents two of the most prominent families in the state, and is herself a young woman of exceptional dignity and sweetness. While she has made her home for several years at Belmont, the beautiful country residence of her parents, 50 miles from Atlanta, she has a host of friends in the younger set, of which she has been a popular member since her debut.

To Visiting Ladies.

Mrs. Charles E. Harman entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Capital City Club, the ladies from a distance who came to Atlanta for the Cox-King wedding last night.

The party included Mrs. J. M. Butler and Mrs. C. V. Ragland, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., Mrs. W. E. Brock of Chattanooga, Miss Evelyn Orme, Mrs. Charles H. Black, Mrs. Eugene Black, Mrs. A. J. Orme.

Stag Luncheon.

Mr. Charles H. Black and Mr. A. J. Orme entertained at luncheon at the Capital City Club yesterday, the gentlemen from out-of-town who attended the Cox-King wedding last night.

Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C.

The regular meeting of the Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C., will be held Thursday afternoon, February 8, at 3:30 o'clock, at the Woman's Club. This will be a combined social and business meeting as the musical program will be a very enjoyable one and at this time a nominating committee is elected to nominate at the April meeting new officers for the coming year. The term of the present officers expires at that time. Much interest is being manifested at the present time, under the able leadership of the president, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson; new interest has been taken in the chapter work. In behalf of the present treasurer and the treasurer to be elected in April, your press chairman urgently requests all chapter members whose dues for the year have not been paid to send as soon as possible, your check for dues to the treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Mobley, 180 Juniper street. This will save very much work for the treasurer, as letters will have to be sent to all members who have not paid for the current year. As a new treasurer comes in on April 1, the present treasurer is very anxious to make as fine a report as possible at that time, and will greatly appreciate a prompt answer to this request. Dues can be paid at the [illegible] meeting also. A full report from the medal committee, Mrs. Lloyd Teaford, will also be given at this meeting.

THE DAYLIGHT CORNER

W. C. T. U.

The Atlanta Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular session Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school room of Trinity church. Members are expected and visitors are cordially invited to be present.

Mary L. McLendon, president; Jane A. Adkins, recording secretary.

Mrs. Manry Entertains.

Mrs. J. M. Manry was hostess at a delightful bridge luncheon yesterday at her home in West End.

Jonquils and narcissi were artistically used in decorating.

The centerpiece of the table was a pretty arrangement of jonquils and the place cards were hand-painted in jonquils, and all of the details were in white and gold.

The prize for top score was silk stockings. The guests were Mrs. E. W. Woodfin, Mrs. D. A. Small, Mrs. A. M. Eaton, Mrs. Kate Bartlett, Mrs. John Arnold, Mrs. M. M. Davies, Mrs. W. J. Govan, Mrs. J. A. Farnsworth, Mrs. George Ramey.

For Mrs. Hubbard.

Mrs. Mary Bloodworth entertained a matinee party yesterday afternoon at the Atlanta in compliment to Mrs. Melvin Hubbard, of Indianapolis.

Church Entertainment.

The Silver Bell Society of the Georgia Avenue Presbyterian church will give their annual valentine entertainment and bazar at the church Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Admission 10 cents.

Immediately after the entertainment the bazar will be held at 355 East Georgia avenue, where fancy articles, valentines and candy will be on sale.

Those who have ever attended any of the Silver Bell entertainments will need no second invitation.

For Mrs. McClung.

Mrs. George Hurt entertained at a box party to see "The Pink Lady" in compliment to Mrs. Calvin Morgan McClung, of Knoxville.

The guests were Mrs. McClung, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Adair, J[illegible], and Mr. and Mrs. Warner Martin.

Matinee Party.

Mrs. Joseph Farrar Bradfield entertained at a matinee party Monday afternoon at the Forsyth in compliment to Miss Frances Ficklen, of Washington, Ga., who is the guest of Mrs. Greer Martin.

The guests included Miss Ficklen, Mrs. Benjamin Morris, Mrs. E. Travis Douglas, Mrs. J. E. Spurlock, Mrs. W. J. Hodges, Mrs. Yancey Bryant, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. Greer Martin, Mrs. Edwin Black, Miss Wimbish.

Mitchell-Brooks.

Columbus, Ga., February 7.—Miss Shatteen Mitchell, of Atlanta, and Mr. William Walter Brooks, of Rome, were married at 8 o'clock this evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd G. Bowers, in Wynnton, a suburb of Columbus, and for many years the home of a number of the wealthiest and most prominent families of this section of the state.

The wedding was marked by quiet simplicity. Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta, was the officiating minister, and among those in attendance were members of old, aristocratic families of this section and friends of the couple from Atlanta and Rome.

The bride represents two of the most prominent and aristocratic families in Georgia. Her mother was the sister of Mrs. L. G. Bowers, Sr., and for a number of years the lovely Bowers residence was the home of Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Mitchell.

The bride for some time was a student of dramatic interpretation, and was an instructor of note throughout the south.

Mr. Brooks is a prominent lawyer of Rome, and a philanthropist of note.

A reception followed the wedding last evening, and two hours later Mr. and Mrs. Brooks left on the Seminole Limited for Palm Beach, Fla., where they will spend two months.

"PEOPLE ASK ME WHAT I DO"

Mrs. Warwick Does Her Work And Takes Care of Her Three Little Children Without Difficulty.

Kokomo, Ind.—"I had been sick for twelve weeks," says Mrs. Matilda Warwick, of this place, "when I commenced to use Cardui. I was almost dead. I could not sit up, and nobody thought I would get well.

I had three of the best doctors in Kokomo but they did not help me a bit. I was getting worse all the time, when a lady friend of mine told me to try Cardui. My husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and a few doses relieved my trouble.

If it had not been for Cardui, I believe I would have been dead. Now I am feeling well and strong. I can do my housework, and take care of three little children.

People ask me what I do to have such good health, and I tell them I use Cardui. One of my friends is using it now, and is getting along fine. I will never be without Cardui in my house."

Cardui is a vegetable extract, composed of valuable medicinal ingredients, which build up vitality and strengthen the womanly constitution.

During the past 50 years Cardui has helped thousands of weak women to health and strength. If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, try Cardui. It will surely help you.

Our financial secretary, Mrs. Oscar Ragland, reported forty-two new names added to our list of membership during the year.

At present, our president, officers and members of the association are deeply interested in getting up a "Kirmess," from which we hope to increase the funds for our work. In closing our report we wish to thank all of our friends and patrons for their many kindnesses to us during the year that has passed, and for their warm support of our efforts to increase the comfort of these poor unfortunates.

MRS. WHITEFOORD RUSSELL, Secretary.

Home for Incurables Association.

The annual meeting of the Home for Incurables' Association was held at the Home for Incurables on January 31, the president, Mrs. Sam Inman, presiding.

There was a large attendance, and much interest was shown in the work. Our superintendent's annual report shows that we have cared for sixty patients during the year. Mrs. Floyd McRae, chairman of the lady board of managers, made an interesting report of the work accomplished. She said in part, "Lady Board of Managers of the Home for Incurables for the Year 1911: The year 1911 has been one of activity and prosperity for the Home for Incurables. We have never, as a board, worked as unceasingly to raise means to keep things moving on. The greatly increased food, the cost of providing nurses (for many of our patients are utterly helpless, requiring even to be fed), have necessitated the raising of more money than we ever did before. Early in the year we were enabled to promote a pure food show and cooking school with such a success that we have been able to put about $2,000 worth of permanent improvements on the home. We have installed electric lights, overhauled all plumbing, painted the house inside and out, moved the laundry, bought new range for cooking and did many other things which have added to the comfort of the inmates and to the appearance of the home.

"The opening of the state sanitarium for tuberculosis has relieved us of the care of this class of patients, and has given us more room. This added room enabled us to open a children's ward—something we have long desired. With the help of the Debutantes' Club, these wards have been furnished and are ready for occupancy. Up to this time there has been no place in the city where these unfortunate little ones could be cared for. The home is in a better condition than it has ever been. The house is attractive and clean; the inmates cheerful and contented. We owe much to our efficient matron, Mrs. Rosenberg, who has helped up in many ways. We gratefully acknowledge the services rendered by our house physician, Dr. Brown; the nurses and our staff of physicians."

Meeting of Women of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

On Friday and Saturday of this week, February 9 and 10, there is to be an important meeting of the women of the Southern Presbyterian church. Representatives are coming from each synod, and from many of the Presbyterian organizations to confer with the systematic beneficence committee, which is to meet here on the same dates, in reference to better organization and the appointment of a woman's secretary.

On Friday meetings will be held in North Avenue Presbyterian church house, at 9:30 a. m. and 3 p. m., to which all synodical and Presbyterian officers are invited. Saturday morning the synodical officers will meet with the systematic beneficence committee, but there will probably be another meeting arranged for Saturday afternoon.

On Friday night, at 8 o'clock, there will be an open popular meeting at North Avenue Presbyterian church, at which time representatives from each of the assembly's committees will speak. This is an opportunity that the Presbyterians of Atlanta have never had before of having the whole beneficence work of the church presented at one time, and all the Presbyterians of Atlanta are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to find out what the church is doing both in the home and the foreign fields.

Don't forget the time and place. Friday night, 8:30 o'clock, North Avenue Presbyterian church.

On Saturday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, the Ladies' Aid Society of the North Avenue church will give a reception to the visiting ladies. To this reception are invited, beside the ladies of North Avenue church, the Presbyterian pastors and their wives, the members of the systematic beneficence committee, the secretaries of the assembly's committees and the presidents of each missionary society in the Presbyterian churches of Atlanta and vicinity.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The Y. W. C. A. Bible class met Wednesday at 6:45 p. m., with a good attendance. This class is making splendid progress in their line of work.

The noon-day prayer service will be conducted Thursday from half past 12 to 1 o'clock. All business women are invited to drop in at that hour.

The mission study class will meet Thursday at the Y. W. C. A. home, 19 West Baker street, at 6:45 p. m. All young women are invited to become members of this class.

Afternoon Reception.

A beautiful expression of hospitality yesterday was the afternoon reception given by Mrs. David W. Morgan and Miss Alma Stanley in compliment to their guests, Mrs. Hodge Malone, of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Robert L. Saville, of Dawson, Ga.

The house was decorated with artistic taste and the music of an orchestra was a bright feature.

In the reception hall variegated foliage was massed on the mantel and out of the center was a burst of full bloom Killarney roses, while tall vases were filled with the deep pink buds. Palms were placed with effect at the foot of the stairs and in appropriate nooks, and they lined the way to a small parlor in the rear, where punch was served from a bowl hung with Malaga grapes and smilax, the table banked with fruits and ferns.

In the drawing room the decoration with palms, ferns and Killarney roses was continued, and delicious refreshments were served from the dining room where the round table had as its centerpiece a huge low basket of Killarney roses, the handle tied with pink satin ribbon. The silver candlesticks had pink shades and the candied and ices were pink.

In the receiving party, Mrs. C. B. Wilmer wore gray charmeuse and Chantilly lace. Mrs. Virgil E. Perryman wore a black lace gown embroidered in jet beads. Mrs. Charles Whitner wore a white lace gown over pink satin. Mrs. James J. Williams wore a black satin gown trimmed with lace and rhinestones. Miss Allison Badger wore white marquisette and Irish lace. Mrs. J. Walter Andrews wore pink satin charmeuse trimmed with gold embroidered lace. Mrs. B. M. Padgett, Jr., wore a white lace gown. Mrs. John Maddox wore pink chiffon cloth and lace.

Among those calling, Miss Bessie Fitzpatrick, of Brookline, was admired in black chiffon cloth, its finish of green velvet and in her small black picture hat a touch of the green velvet was introduced. Miss Georgia Watts wore an amethyst velvet gown with panels of amethyst embroidered chiffon and her velvet hat was trimmed with white plumes. Mrs. George Tigner wore a nattier blue silk gown trimmed with marabou and her hat was a model in black velvet with lace and French roses. Miss Katherine Lovette was gowned in blue silk and Persian embroidery, and her black hat was trimmed with plumes. Mrs. Mary Aldredge Moore wore black embroidered net gown over blue satin, the corsage showing a touch of cerise, and her velvet hat was trimmed with plumes. Mrs. E. H. Goodhart wore French blue charmeuse embroidered in gold, and her picture hat was trimmed with blue plumes. Mrs. Paul Johnson wore a black velvet suit with white cloth collar and cuffs and a black velvet hat with white plumes.

To Miss Crooks.

Miss Helen Crooks, of Alabama, who arrived yesterday to visit Miss Nora Terrell in Decatur, will be the guest of honor at a tea to be given next Tuesday afternoon by Misses Nora, Annie and Sarah Terrell.

Mrs. Eugene Martiniere will give a matinee party next Wednesday, and there will be a number of other affairs.

Reception and Musicale.

An informal program of music will be a feature of the reception to be given Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lynch, on Ponce de Leon avenue, by the ladies of the Altar Society, Sacred Heart church.

The Marist College Orchestra will play and there will be several attractive solo features. Delicious refreshments will be served.

Ponce de Leon Restaurant.

Committee No. 2, of which Mrs. L. G. Neal is chairman, will be in charge of the restaurant conducted by the ladies of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church at 77 Peachtree street today. Mrs. Neal's committee includes the following ladies:

Mrs. E. H. Dunn, Mrs. M. A. Davis, Mrs. Paul Etheridge, Mrs. L. H. Daniel, Mrs. J. P. Daniel, Mrs. Ellison Green, Mrs. George P. Moore, Mrs. H. N. Nichols, Mrs. Virgil Perryman, Mrs. Harvey Padgett, Mrs. C. R. Padgett, Mrs. Howard Pace, Mrs. Julien Rodgers, Mrs. Sam Smith, Mrs. E. C. Thrash, Mrs. J. A. Thomas, Mrs. N. H. Wiggs, Mrs. Charles Barnwell, Mrs. George Coates, Mrs. W. A. Callaway, Mrs. Walter Callaway, Mrs. Tom Callaway, Mrs. J. D. Carter, Mrs. A. Cassetts, Mrs. Richard Battle, Mrs. B. W. Reeves, Mrs. Hartsock.

The following menu will be served today, dinner being 50 cents:

Turkey with dressing and cranberries, rice, baked beans, aspic salad, hot rolls, coffee, ice cream, cake, pie.

The luncheon, for 25 cents, will consist of oysters, rolls and coffee. Hours from 12 to 3.

To Miss Cowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Everhart will give a Valentine dance next Wednesday evening at their home in Decatur in compliment to their guest, Miss Mary Cowan, of Opelika. One hundred of the unmarried set are invited.

Miss Sarah Franklin Montgomery will give a theater party on the nineteenth. Mrs. Everhart will entertain one hundred married ladies at "500" on the twenty-second, and Miss Adelaide Everhart and others will entertain.

Kirmess Rehearsals.

The Spanish boys and girls will meet today at 12:30, and the Garland girls at 11.

MRS. FISHER ENTERTAINS.

Newnan, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Mrs. H. C. Fisher, of Atlanta, and Mrs. H. M. Fisher, of Newnan, were hostesses at a brilliant reception in honor of Mrs. C. C. Parrott and Miss Ruth Hardaway, a bride-elect, at Mrs. H. M. Fisher's home here today. About 150 guests were received during the afternoon.

Out-of-town visitors present were Miss Nannie Carlton, of Richmond, Va.; Miss Fannie Joe Dent, of Maryland, and Mrs. James Hall, of New York. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Delicious refreshments were served.

MEETINGS.

There will be an entertainment at 33 Bradley avenue, at Sister Sausby's, Friday night at 8 o'clock, given by the ladies of the Ponders Avenue church in the interest of the church.

This will be a leap-year musical box supper. Everybody invited. Come and enjoy some good music. Music will be lead by Prof. J. M. Pierce. Everybody come and enjoy this social gathering.

The executive board of the Atlanta Woman's Club will meet on Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the committee room of the club house on Baker street.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet Thursday, February 8, at 3:30 p. m. The executive board will meet at 3 o'clock.

EX-GOV. HERRICK NAMED AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE.

CLERK CHARGED WITH KEEPING FIRM'S MONEY

Collecting money without being authorized to do so, and failing to turn it in to his firm, was the complaint made by T. W. Walton and Brother, grocers, of 309 Ponce de Leon avenue, which last night caused the arrest of J. A. McMichael, one of the clerks.

The amount of money involved is not known, but it was said at headquarters when he was locked up, that it was considerable, and that McMichael had been "hitting up" some of the best customers of his employers. He admitted to the police that he had collected the money, but beyond this made no statement.

McMichael was arrested January 5, on complaint of his wife, who alleged abusive treatment. He made a counter complaint, alleging in court that she had come to his place of business and tried to kill him with a knife, and when he prevented her had attempted to chop him with an ax, which was in the store. He was fined $10.75. Last night, only a few minutes after his arrest, a woman who said she was his wife, called up and asked if she could see McMichael if she came to the police station.

For Corporation Commission.

Washington, February 7.—A bill to establish a federal corporation commission with powers to license all interstate corporations doing an annual business in excess of $1,000,000 was introduced in the house today by Representative Martin, republican, of South Dakota. The proposed commission would consist of five members to be appointed by the president with power to closely regulate the affairs of interstate corporations.

THEATERS

Blanche Ring.
(At the Grand.)

Blanche Ring has been termed by the press as her own spotlight. She is famous the country over because of the inimitable manner in which she sings her songs. In her new musical comedy, "The Wall Street Girl," in which she will be seen at the Grand Opera House, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, she is sure to draw one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the season. Included in her list of new songs will be "Deedle-Dum-Dee," "The Indian Rag," "I Should Have Been Born a Boy," "I Want a Regular Man," and "Daddy." Harry Gilfoil has the chief comedy role, while others of note include Charles Gotthold, Clarence Oliver, Charles Winninger, Florence Shirley, Maude Knowlton and Cross and Josephine. The chorus is composed of an aggregation of captivating girls with dainty winsome ponies.

"The Fortune Hunter."
(At the Atlanta.)

This morning at 9 o'clock seats will be placed on sale at the Atlanta theater for the engagement of "The Fortune Hunter," which will open a three-day stay Monday night. This comedy is coming to Atlanta with the indorsement of the best critics and public to back it in its appeal. It is a clean play which carries a fine moral. It is played by a company of rare merit with William Rosell at its head. Albert Travenier, seen here last season in "The Climax," is a prominent member of the cast, while the other players are thoroughly capable of the requirements. The comedy has been one of the most tremendous hits of the past ten years and is sure to be welcomed by large crowds during the auto show week.

"The Pink Lady."

The gorgeousness and immensity of "The Pink Lady," now at the Atlanta theater has set Atlanta and surrounding territory agape and each night the new theater de luxe is packed with those anxious to pay tribute to the beauty of the production and its women. No show this season can compare to "The Pink Lady," with the single exception of the Anna Held organization in the matter of beautiful women. The present attraction is more splendid than Miss Held's and much richer in the furnishings, costumes and appurtenances. The principals who sing the comedy are all possessed of excellent voice and are doing much to carry the production through with a sweep, which will set a record which it will be difficult to reach in the future.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

At the Forsyth this week there are acts that are cleverer than many that have been seen here this season. That means the show is one of exceptional merit, and that there is much to the performance that is interesting. The bill possesses all sorts of novelty in comedy, dance, song and in the modern playlet that is so generally acceptable.

Next week will be Dickens week at the Forsyth. The feature of the program will be the presentation of "Scrooge," an adaptation from Charles Dickens, "A Christmas Carol," by the Terris English Players, who are said to be very clever.

Little Emma Bunting.
(At the Lyric.)

Little Emma Bunting is scoring a great personal triumph at the Lyric this week, and entertaining audiences that are crowding the theater at all performances. The popular favorite has never had a part that suited her better than that of "Paulette Divine." "The Blue Mouse." Clyde Fitch has written some great successes, but none that eclipse this play. Miss Bunting has been associated with some splendid companies, but none superior to the organization supporting her at the Lyric. It is a positive treat in every way and one of the greatest attractions the Lyric has ever offered.

An outlet for the overflow population of Cairo, which has almost doubled in ten years, and now numbers close to 1,000,000, has been provided by the building of the modern suburb of Heliopolis, completed last year on the site of the ancient city of that name. In less than four years, on land that formerly comprised 5,000 acres of desert sands, 5 miles from Cairo, has been built a town of 400 houses.

BABY'S DISFIGURING ECZEMA CURED

All Over Face and Hands. Hard Crust Formed. Scratched and Made It Bleed. Entirely Cured by Cuticura Ointment with Cuticura Soap.

McKinley Ave., Ballston, Va.—"Ever since my baby was four months old she was troubled with eczema. A rash would come out over her face which I thought was a teeth rash. The eczema went all over her face and hands. First it was just little sores and then it was a hard crust formed all over it. She would scratch and make it bleed, which of course made it worse. Her face was terribly disfigured by running sores. She could not sleep and I did not know what to do. After I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap her face was as clear as it could be, and has been ever since. I have always used Cuticura Soap since, and shall use no other as long as I can get Cuticura, for my baby was entirely cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. L. B. Cox, Sept. 7, 1911.

RASH ITCHING AND PAINFUL

Face and Arms Scaly Masses. Skin Red.

115 Pleasant St., Gloucester, Mass.—"A rash began coming on my face and arm. It was itching and painful and used to burn. My face and arms were in scaly masses and the skin was rough and red. It would keep me up nights. I got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and soon it was entirely well." (Signed) Miss Viola Richardson, Nov. 16, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

Munson to Manage.

"Red" Munson, whom Atlanta fans will remember as a catcher on the Nashville team last year, has been signed by the Morristown club, of the Appalachian League, to manage the team during the coming season.

LETTER AT BASEBALL OFFICE FOR RED SMITH

There is a letter at the headquarters of the Atlanta Baseball Association for J. Carlisle ("Red") Smith.

Carmichael Canned.

Pitcher Carmichael, of the Chattanooga team, is to receive the pink slip, information from Chattanooga being to the effect that Manager Billy Smith has asked for waivers on the big right-hander.

Rome Boxer Here.

Rude Kreider, of Rome, Ga., is in Atlanta and wants to take on any of the lightweights or welterweights that the local clubs have on their string. He may be matched in the near future.

Wants Return Bout.

Jack Murphy, of Pittsburg, who was defeated at Staten's club on Tuesday night by Clarence English, is not altogether satisfied with the outcome of the bout and is anxious for a return engagement. He may be given it. If he is, it should prove a mighty classy card.

L. S. U. in Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., February 7.—(Special.)—The Louisiana State University basketball team will be the opponents of the Birmingham Athletic Club team here on Friday night.

The final series of games in the Atlanta and Fulton Basketball Leagues will be played, and with their playing the season come to an end, the schedule of sixty games being completed.

The season has been a success from every standpoint. Better basketball has been played, the games have been closer contested, some good material was developed and the crowds have all been large.

The Fifth Regiment will win the pennant in the Atlanta League and the Wesley Memorial team will cop the rag in the Fulton League. Both had teams that were easily the class of their respective leagues.

Whiffs

Shows Last Too Long.

GOOD BOXING is a great sport. The cards as presented by the Gate City Athletic club and Harry Staten's on Tuesday night were all right, except that they lasted a trifle too long. No one wants to stay in a fight club three hours. Or if the majority of the fans really do demand so much boxing, as it is doubtful, then it is up to the promoters to start the bouts earlier. A lot of the fans were complaining of the lateness of the hour when they left the two clubs Tuesday night.

Get This, You Promoters.

BOXING WILL pay in Atlanta. But boxing will not pay enough for two clubs to operate on the same night. There must be no factional fight between the promoters. We suggested in this column a few days ago that one of the two clubs change their night, but received no response. There are more reasons than one that could be cited as to why the change would be beneficial. Unless the rival promoters stop their scrapping and get together on some mutual agreement beneficial to both, operating on separate nights, the game is going to be killed here. A word to the wise is sufficient.

McGraw Got Angry.

RUBE MARQUARD is getting in mighty bad with John J. McGraw, his manager. The big southpaw's refusal to sign has peeved the little Napoleon. Marquard and McGraw were to have had a conference on last Saturday, but the Rube failed to show up. Unless Marquard does something definite in the next few days, McGraw has threatened to suspend him indefinitely and not reinstate him until he has signed at McGraw's own terms.

Wants a Change.

VINC CAMPBELL, the old Vanderbilt football and baseball star, has refused to sign up with Pittsburg during the coming season. The ex-Commodore has expressed a preference for playing with the Giants or the Phillies, particularly the former. Maybe Clarke and McGraw can arrange a deal. Surely McGraw wants such a splendid hitter and fielder, but Clarke is not going to let him go for nothing.

Sued for Divorce.

FRANK BOWERMAN, the old Giant receiver, is being sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Kate Bowerman. They were married last April. Mrs. Bowerman claims that the ex-Giant would be away from home for days at a time; that he abused her, and at times declared that he did not want to have anything to do with her.

Only Four Unsigned.

THE VOLUNTEERS are not slow in signing up their contracts for the coming season. Manager Bill Schwartz announces that but four of the players on the reserve list have not sent in their documents and these four will sign up shortly, the mere formality of signing being all that remains to be done.

Veteran as Mogul.

DEACON PHILLIPPE, the Pirate veteran twirler, is the latest player who is mentioned for the position of manager with the new outlaw league. He is said to be the first choice for heading the Pittsburg club of the United States league. Phillippe has all the qualities necessary to make a good mogul. His friends hope he gets the place and succeeds.

McGuire With Tigers.

DETROIT FANS are delighted with the arrangement that brings Jim McGuire back to the fold of the Tigers, where he was a catcher a few years ago. McGuire is going to act in practically the same capacity as Kid Gleason will for the White Sox. He is going to take charge of the Tiger youngsters on the training trip, and do some scout duty for the Bengals after the season opens.

Sandlotters' Line-Up.

A GALAXY of stars can be corraled from the big leagues if you go over the list of players who come under the description of "Sandlotters." By this is meant the boys who have no alma mater, but learned the game on the back lots of their home town. How is this for an all-star sandlotters' team: Speaker, Cobb and Jackson in the outfield; McInnes, Lajoie, McBride and Baker in the infield; Stanage, catcher; Johnson, Walsh and Wood in the pitcher's box. Maybe they would not make it interesting for some pennant contenders. What?

A Unique Contract.

PITCHER GARDNER, of the Pittsburg club, was probably tendered the most unique contract ever handed to a baseball player. His contract provides that Gardner must bring his wife and baby to Pittsburg to live. Gardner lives in California, and last season he had so many spells of homesickness that it interfered with his work, and Owner Dreyfuss is guarding against any such repetition this season.

Among the Holdouts.

DICK HOBLITZELL is a star holdout. The Reds are having trouble making him sign. The star first-sacker claims that he can make $6,000 yearly with his dental forceps, and is not anxious to sign at the figure offered him by Hank O'Day, the new Reds' mogul. But it looks like the same old tale. "That's what they all say."

FRANK DESSAU READY TO COME

Pitcher Writes Hemphill That He Awaits Training Signal.

Manager Charley Hemphill was in receipt of a letter from Pitcher Frank Dessau yesterday that made the local mogul feel good all over. The big hurler is anxiously awaiting the call of the opening gong of the season.

"I am sure glad that you bought me, Charley," wrote Dessau. "When are we going to start training? I'm ready for the tap of the gong and want to get to work. I am pleased with my contract, pleased over the prospect of playing in Atlanta and will show 'em something worth while."

Hemphill has touted Dessau highly as one of his "regs" on the hurling staff, and if the big pitcher is so well pleased and has the ability that Managed Hemphill claims he has, then everything looks rosy from that line.

FAST GAMES IN JUNIOR LEAGUE

Junior City League.

CLUBS.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.

Results Last Night.

At Wesley Memorial Courts—Y. M. C. A. 26, Boys' Club 24; Capitol Avenue 17, Wesley Memorial 16.

By Ogle Grice.

The fourth series in Atlanta's newest basketball league—the Junior City—was played last night. The two games were marked for the sensational passing and team work of the teams. The four teams in this league play more scientific ball than any teams in town. They work as a unit, and that is the reason the scores are always so close. One of the games was won last night by 1 point and the other by 2. Good, clean, fast playing has prevailed in all the games played.

Y. M. C. A. Cops Fourth Straight.

The Independent Athletics of the Y. M. C. A. won their fourth straight victory last night by winning a snappy game from the second Boys' Club five, 26 to 24, the winning goal being a sensational goal shot from the middle of the floor one minute before the end of the game by the "star" of the league—Hargrave.

The score at the end of the first half was Y. M. C. A. 9, Boys' Club 17, thus indicating that the Y. M. C. A. had a "come-back" in the second half, the score in that half being Y. M. C. A. 17 to Boys' Club 7. The line-up and score:

BOYS' CLUB.	Position.	Y. M. C. A.

Capitol Avenue Wins for First Time.

The Capitol Avenue quintet won its first victory this season last night by defeating Wesley Memorial third team 17 to 16. The Wesley team was handicapped by the absence of their star center, Simmons, and forward, Hyer. Spurloc played brilliant ball for Capitol Avenue, making some sensational goals. Martin won honors on the Wesley team, doing unusually good guarding. The line-up and score:

NEGRESS SUMMONED FOR JURY SERVICE

Spokane, Wash., February 7.—Dorothy Coates, a negress, summoned for jury duty in the superior court here today, is believed to be the first woman of her race to be called to such service in the United States. She is a large property owner.

TIPPO PEDDY WITH COLUMBUS

South's Greatest Forward Will Be Seen Here on Saturday.

The appearance of the Columbus Young Men's Christian Association basketball team here on Saturday night at the Atlanta Athletic Club is auspicious, as it gives Atlanta fans the chance to see the greatest basketball forward in the south in action again.

Tippo Peddy is this youngster's name and any game in which he plays is well worth the price of admission. He is fast, a brilliant goal shooter and one of the best all-around basketball players the south has ever developed.

Peddy is to southern basketball what Ty Cobb is to big league baseball. He is always pulling off some sensational stunt. Be sure to see this lad in action, or you will miss a great treat.

JACKETS' NINE START WORK

The first workout of the Georgia Tech baseball candidates was held yesterday with a regular lecture at 5 o'clock. These workouts will be held every day until the regular work outdoors is begun. The workouts are being held in the new baseball cage in the old shop building.

TECH ROAD RACE ON MARCH 15

The annual road race of the athletes of the Georgia School of Technology will take place on March 15. Several attractive prizes have been offered. The course will be from the flats to the Hemphill pumping station and return.

TROUBLE THREATENING ATTELL AND MANAGER

New York, February 7.—Application has been made by the state athletic commission to Attorney General Carmody to investigate the testimony of Abe Attell and his manager, given during the recent hearing in the Attell-"Knockout" Brown fight here, as the result of which Attell was convicted of "faking" and barred for six months from boxing in this state. The commissioners referred the matter to the attorney general, believing the conflicting testimony might involve a charge of perjury. Today Mr. Carmody replied that his deputy in this city will look into the case.

The commission today barred "Ty" Cobb, a Philadelphia lightweight, from boxing in this state for ninety days. Cobb, it is charged, failed to appear for a scheduled bout with Patsy Kline.

Gentlemen, your wearables will ever be in readiness when they are washed at the Capital City.

CASHMAN NO MATCH FOR MIKE GIBBONS

New York, February 7.—Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, tonight knocked out Young Cashman, a local welterweight, in the fourth round of a bout at the Empire Athletic club.

The fight was to have been a ten-round affair. The knockout came after one minute's boxing in the fourth round, and was caused by a right swing to the jaw. Previously the westerner had sent Cashman to the canvas for the count of eight, with a left to the face.

Cashman was a punching bag for Gibbons after the first round, in which he was the aggressor. Gibbons started to work in the second, and with hard lefts and rights to face and head, brought blood freely from Cashman's nose. He repeated this in the third and had Cashman so badly off that the bell alone saved him from a knockout.

RAILROAD LEAGUE MEETS TONIGHT

The Railroad League of Atlanta will hold its meeting at the College Co-Op store on Peachtree street tonight for two purposes. Firstly for the purpose of granting franchises to the teams that want to enter the league, and secondly to discuss the proposition of registering the players in amateur standing.

The Amateur Athletic Federation of Fulton County is a new organization that has been established here, and its purpose is to keep professionalism out of all amateur sports in Atlanta, acting as the governing body on all cases.

WILLIE HOPPE DEFEATS SUTTON AT BILLIARDS

New York, February 7.—Willie Hoppe, for the second time in a few months, successfully defended his title of world's 18.2 balk-line billiard champion against George Sutton, of Chicago, as challenger, here tonight. The final score was 500 points to 280 and the champion's average was 29 7-17, with high runs of 96, 88 and 78. Sutton never threatened to annex the title and his cue work was disappointing. His average was 16 8-17 and his best run 67. Hoppe closed his string with an impressive run of 78.

BY WAY OF GOOD MORNING

ENTHUSIASM IS OFTEN MORE THAN ABILITY

SERPENTS' TEETH ARE STILL SHARP IN 1912

By FUZZY WOODRUFF

Things look lusciously lovely, baseballically speaking, about these diggings at the present period of the flight of time. They usually do. February is no time for faint hearts in any city where there is a grass diamond and a grandstand. Pennants can even be flapping in the future for St. Louis in this merry month, which marks the birthday of the man who made America, the land that made baseball.

But here in Atlanta there is real cause for cheer and absence of foreboding. Let it not be understood, much to be inflicted upon reader, that championships are being Cracker-claimed at this day and time. No man can tell what a ball team will develop from its paper strength. A bear in March may be a lamb in June. But you can get a line on that thing that counts more than fielding skill, batting prowess or pitching arms—the spirit of a ball club.

Right now it looks like spirit will be abundant about Ponce de Leon this summer and, mark you, there is no final "s" to the "spirit." The final "s" had a lot to do with the position of the Crackers of 1911.

Hemphill seems, by a sort of absent treatment, to have aroused a fine esprit de corps (French for I'm for you, kid) among his Cracker possibilities. Right now that old warhorse, Otto Jordan, is daily working at the Ponce Park, despite the icy tang of this winter wind. Whitey Alperman writes that he is eager to report and Pitcher Dessau has sent word that nothing will be more welcome to his ears than the tick of the telegraph instrument that tells him to pack his spiked shoes and well-worn glove and turn southward.

Here are the three star men of the 1912 outfit, not only failing to hold out, but anxious to work. It means more than the simple words tell.

Mesdames Goneril and Ragan, two esteemed married daughters of an ancient monarch, who answered to the name of Lear, for years have had to bear the burden of being the embodiments of ingratitude. Goneril and Ragan can look anybody in the face now. A new exponent of the art of wailoping a beneficiary has arisen that would make these ladies look like Fido, the faithful pup, wagging his tail when the man who had kicked him gave him a bone. That new exponent is none other than the celebrated "Rube" Marquard.

Goneril and Ragan did nothing more than double-cross their senile progenitor out of a couple of kingdoms, while Mr. Marquard has metaphorically slapped the face of a man who has permitted him to see his name handed down in history, who has so developed him as to permit of his wearing diamonds instead of overalls.

Four years ago John J. MGraw, of the New York Giants, startled the world by paying $10,000 for a left-handed and unknown pitcher. That hurler was Marquard. He went to New York and for three years proved the most veritable of snares and delusions. So poor was his work that had McGraw put him on the market, he could not have connected with a good minor league club. But McGraw was patient. He schooled this Marquard. He labored with him day in and day out and last year he blossomed forth as a regular pitcher.

The world yelled his renown. But for three years he had been drawing a princely salary and for the first time he was earning. He got an opportunity to get a whack in the world's series receipts and had his picture printed in all the papers. Now what does he do? Does he thank McGraw? Hardly. He tries to stick him up for more money. Will he get it? Well, maybe.

COLUMBUS FIVE PLAYS MERCER

Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—The Columbus Young Men's Christian Association basketball team will meet Mercer University Thursday night at Macon in a return engagement, the Mercer boys being defeated in the game played in Columbus recently.

This is the first of a long series of games on the road that the Columbus team is taking. They play in Atlanta on Saturday night.

MERCER FIVE PLAYS COLUMBUS TONIGHT

Mercer University, Macon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—A hot game is scheduled to come off in Mason Thursday night when the Mercer five stacks up against the strong Columbus Y. M. C. A. team. It is expected to be one of the fastest and hardest contested games of the season. Columbus has one of the beste teams in the south and are strong contenders for the southern championship.

Columbus has been defeated only twice this year, once by Mobile, in Mobile, and once by the Birmingham Athletic Club in Columbus. They defeated Mobile recently in Columbus and will tackle Birmingham again on this trip. They open up the trip with Mercer in Macon and it is certain that they will go after this game especially hard to start the trip off well.

ELBERFELD IS BOUGHT BY CHATTANOOGA TEAM

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 7.—(Special.)—Norman Elberfeld, the veteran infielder and native of Chattanooga, was purchased today from Washington. He will be second baseman and captain of the locals if agreement can be reached as to salary.

Otherwise a youngster from Detroit, on whom an option has been secured, will be signed. Waivers have been asked on Pitcher Carmichael.

TWO SOCCER GAMES HAVE BEEN PLANNED

The Atlanta Soccer Club has two games on its schedule. On Washington's birthday they will go to Chattanooga for a game with the team in that city. On the first Saturday in March they play Auburn at Auburn, Mike Donohue's lads having taken up the great English game recently.

GILLEM TO CAPTAIN SEWANEE BALL TEAM

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 7.—(Special.)—Jenks Gillem was elected captain of the Sewanee baseball team tonight, captain-elect Ensley failing to return. The Tiger star will not consider brooklyn offer until after college season.

ENGLISH MEETS ERNIE ZANDERS

Wakefield No Free Agent.

Cincinnati, February 7.—A decision of the National Association of Minor Baseball Leagues, in which it refused to declare Player Howard Wakefield, of the Victoria club of the Southwest Texas league, a free agent, was approved today by the national commission.

O'ROURKE IS A BIRD, SAYS CHAMP ATTELL

"That O'Rourke is a bird," declared Abie. "He's as square as an apple. Say, honest, if you drove a nail through O'Rourke's head it would come out a corkscrew.

"He's that slippery they've got to put ashes in his bed every night so that he won't slip out.

"Tom has a 1,000-horse power pull with the boxing commission in New York. Just think of it, they ruled me off, sat me down for six months because I said a certain doctor in New York doped me. And he did dope me. He gave me a shot of dope that would have flattened an elephant."

NEW FOOTBALL AT TECH FLATS

The changes in the football rules as made at New York recently will be given a thorough trial at Tech flats on Saturday afternoon, when Coach Heisman, of Georgia Tech, will have a couple of teams out to play the game according to the proposed changes. This should prove an interesting test.

The game will be in the nature of a school championship, too, the sophomore team and the freshman team lining up in battle array for the title. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock sharp.

CLARENCE ENGLISH MAY MEET CREGAR

Nashville, Tenn., February 7.—(Special.)—Jack Cregar, the local welterweight, will probably be matched with Clarence English, the eastern veteran, at the Hermitage Athletic Club before long, according to an announcement made by Manager Fremont this morning. English has fought all the best boys in the country, both the lightweight and welterweight class.

BERKEL WANTED BY MANY CLUBS

Evidently Johnny Barkel, the ex-Cracker shortstop, has at last found himself and has developed into the great player that he looked to be at times here. Johnny has been purchased by the Detroit Americans, his terms being accepted by Jennings, the little shortstop signing with the Tigers in preference to several other clubs.

In a letter to the sporting editor of The Constitution Berkel tells of his progress. He writes:

"Friend Dick: Thought maybe you would like to learn of the good news. Yours truly is now a big leaguer, having signed with Detroit. Have been playing in the winter league out here and going fine and have had numerous offers to sign up. Have been playing third base.

"Was highly recommended to McGraw and Jennings and heard from latter first. Was surprised he accepted my terms. Had three other good contracts in my pocket, but decided that the Detroit offer was the best.

"Having a good time out here and like the country. Regards to all my friends. Yours, etc.,

"JOHNNY BERKEL.

Golf at Pinehurst.

Pinehurst, N. C., February 7.—Three 19 and two 20-hole matches added to the interest of today's play in the St. Valentine golf tournament. Survivors in the first division who play in the order given tomorrow are: N. W. Doan, of Oklahoma, and C. L. Becker, of Woodland; Dr. C. H. Gardner, of Agawam, and Herman Wendell, of St. Davids; Henry C. Fownes, of Oakmont, and Robert Hunter, of Weburn; C. N. Phillips, of Atlantic City, and B. T. Allen, of Fox Hills.

Pitcher La Fitte Signs.

Detroit, Mich., February 7.—Pitcher Lafitte, of the Detroit American League baseball club, has signed his 1912 contract, according to official announcement today.

Letter for Jarvis.

There is a letter at the sporting department of The Constitution for J. J. Jarvis, manager of the Gate City Athletic Club.

Pitcher Moore Signed.

San Francisco, February 7.—The San Francisco team, of the Coast League, has signed Pitcher William J. Moore, of San Antonio, Texas. Moore is 25 years old, stands 6 feet, weighs 200 pounds and is left-handed.

Babb to Manage Altoona.

Memphis, Tenn., February 7.—(Special.)—Charley Babb, formerly Memphis manager, and who managed Norfolk, in the Virginia League, last year, announced that he had signed to manage the Altoona, Pa., team of the Tri-State League, for the 1912 season.

Old Soldier's Find.

Canton, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Considerable interest is manifested in a recent find by P. D. Post, an old confederate soldier, who is not able to do much to make a living. He has discovered a spring on a small tract of land that he managed to save, that shows great medicinal qualities in the water. He sells the water at ten cents per gallon and is making him a very good living for himself and wife.

Little Items of Georgia Cities

Tift Committee Elected.

Tifton, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—A mass meeting of the democrats of Tift county was held in the courthouse today for the purpose of electing a new executive committee to serve for two years. C. W. Fulwood was elected chairman, with W. W. Bryan, secretary. The membership of the committee by districts: Brighton, Henry Sutton; Brookfield, A. B. McMillan; Chula, I. M. H. Fletcher; Docia, George Ford, Sr.; Eldorado, T. E. Phillips; Omega, Joe Marchant; Ty Ty, W. E. Williams. The committee will meet Saturday morning to fix the date of a primary for county officers.

Early Primary in Pike.

Zebulon, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) The executive committee of Pike county met here today for the purpose of fixing a date of a primary for the nomination of county officers. In deference to the wishes of a large number of citizens that an early primary be called, the committee named March 26 as a suitable time for the primary. All the county officers, with one or two exceptions, will stand for re-election.

Pulled as Gamblers.

Albany, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) Deputy Sheriff Tarver and Officer Denson, of the local police force, arrested four white men, Earl Mercer, G. W. Culpepper, O. C. Sindersine, of Albany, and C. O. Hall, of Leesburg, last night on the charge of gambling in a room in the Eatman building, on Pine street. The officers got wind of the game and after listening in the hall several minutes made a raid. The men gave bond and were released at once.

Bennet Brothers Complimented.

Albany, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) A high and unusual compliment to the ability and character of three brothers, one of whom is a citizen of Albany, has just been paid by Judge Emory Speer, of the United States court for the southern district of Georgia. The three brothers are Stanley S. Bennet, of Quitman; Joseph W. Bennet, of Brunswick, and Samuel S. Bennet, of this city. These three well known lawyers of south Georgia are among seven recommended by Judge Speer as men able to succeed Marion Erwin as district attorney in this district. All three of them have practiced a great deal in Judge Speer's court, and he, therefore, has had opportunity to form the opinion as to their ability, on which he bases this unusual recommendation.

Thomasville's Health Board.

Thomasville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—At the meeting of the Thomasville city council last night the following board of health was elected to serve during the coming year: Dr. A. D. Little, Dr. H. B. Ainsworth, Dr. W. B. Cochran, W. I. MacIntyre and B. W. Edwards. Dr. A. D. Little was made chairman of the board. In the fire department R. L. Dawkins was elected chief, H. A. Linton, assistant chief; W. J. Castleberry, C. J. Hannen and Oscar Davis, firemen. The salary of the chief was made $1,060 per annum, the assistant chief will receive $70 per month, and the firemen $60 per month each.

Peach Trees Bloom.

Thomasville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—In spite of the fact that the monthh of January was an unusually cold one for this section, a number of peach trees can be seen around Thomasville in full bloom. The cold of the past few days does not seem to have wilted their blooms at all, either, and they look as fresh and bright as though it was springtime. The growers of LeConte pears are rejoiced that the cold has kept back the blooms of those trees, as last year they put on an immense crop of blooms early in February and the cold which came along some weeks later caused quantities of the young pears to drop and cut short the crop very much. This crop has again become quite an important one in this section of south Georgia, and the growers have been realizing good money from it, even the small crop of last year bringing in fine returns.

Flag Day at Thomasville.

Thomasville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Georgia day, which comes on the 12th of this month, will be observed here on Saturday, instead of Monday, by a Flag day. A number of young girls will be delegated by the John B. Gordon chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, to pin tiny flags on whoever will allow them, and so raise money for the mountain school at Rabun Gap. Flag day has always been very successful here, and a good sum has been realized each year for educational work among the mountaineers.

Council to Plant Trees.

Thomasville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—The city fathers of Thomasville have decided to go into a tree planting campaign and will start out in a few days to put in a large supply of young trees in all parts of the town where there are none or where they have become thinned out. In all the towns throughout this section of the state there is a greater tendency than ever before toward civic improvements.

Hook Worm Appropriation.

Thomasville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—At their monthly meeting here yesterday the commissioners of Thomas county decided to appropriate the money necessary to establish a dispensary here for the treatment of hook worm. One hundred and fifty dollars was the amount appropriated for the purpose, but Dr. Jacobs, the expert here in charge of the hook worm campaign, said that it was, hardly probable that the whole amount would be needed. In Lowndes county, where a most successful campaign was conducted, it was found that only $90 of the $150 was used. It was thought best, however, to give the whole amount, or at least place it at the disposal of the experts in case it should be needed.

Central Agents Want Raise.

Savannah, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—A committee of telegraphers and station agents of the Central of Georgia railway from points in Georgia and Alabama swooped down on Savannah today and will camp on the trail of the road officials for several days. The intention of the committee is to gather data to be presented to the management showing why an advance should be given them in pay. Those in the committee are D. M. Rogers, of Register; C. H. Linsey, of East Point; O. L. Travis, of Atlanta; J. H. Randall, Jr., of Smithville; A. H. Warlick, of Opelika, Ala.; F. S. Baskerville, of Macon, and O. M. Bledsoe, of Lafayette.

Cherokee Primary, March 29.

Canton, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) The democratic executive committee for Cherokee county met here yesterday and decided on the primary for county officers to be held on March 29. For several offices there has been no candidate announced yet. For county treasurer, there are ten candidates. This office pays about twelve hundred dollars, and there is little work attached to the office, and there is a prevailing opinion here that the pay is out of all proportion.

Walton Primary on May 1.

Monroe, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) At a well-attended mass meeting of Walton county democrats held in this city yesterday a county democratic executive committee for the ensuing two years was elected, with Hon. Orrin Roberts as chairman and Editor Ernest Camp, secretary. After organizing the committee named Wednesday, May 1, as the date for holding the primary for county officers in Walton and the chairman of the state committee will be requested to allow our people to express their choice for president at the same time.

Negro Boy Kills Self.

Monroe, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) George Edmunds, the 17-year-old son of Jake Edmunds, colored, of this city, committed suicide by swallowing a quantity of carbolic acid near his home in this city this morning. It is said that the young negro some time last fall forged a check on his father, and that after obtaining the money on same, he left town, having spent the past few months in Tennessee. He returned to Monroe this morning and took the poison while enroute to the home of his father, stating to a negro woman that he was tired of life and hated to face his father after his wrongdoing.

W. W. THRELKELD TAKES OWN LIFE

Prominent Farmer of Maysville Commits Suicide by Cutting His Throat.

Maysville, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—W. W. Threlkeld, a well-known citizen of Banks county, committed suicide this morning by cutting his throat.

No cause has been assigned for the act, which has created much sensation throughout this section. Mr. Threlkeld was a successful farmer and a prominent Mason.

Arising early this morning, Mr. Threlkeld kindled the fire and did various little chores about the house. When other members of the family had dressed for breakfast he was found dead in a room with a deep gash across his throat.

EXPERTS ORGANIZING FIGHT ON BOLL WEEVIL

Americus, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Thomas G. Hudson, commissioner of agriculture; Lee Worsham, state entomologist; A. C. Lewis, assistant entomologist, and Dr. Arthur Fort, hook worm expert, are in Americus tonight, coming from Marion and Schley counties, where today they addressed large assemblages and organized farmers' clubs for the propagation of boll weevil resistant cotton seed. Tomorrow they will address farmers of Stewart and Webster counties, and will organize a Sumter county club Friday.

Entomologist Worsham declares the farmers greatly interested and cheerfully agree to use and distribute the resistant cotton seed. The boll weevil, he asserts, will appear in southwestern Georgia two seasons hence, and preparation is thus made to combat it.

LUMBERMEN PLANNING ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

New Orleans, February 7.—A considerable portion of the second day's session of the Yellow Pine Manufacturers' Association was taken up by a discussion as to whether this association should contribute $20,000 to a fund which the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association is raising to open an advertising campaign in favor of the use of wood for various building purposes in place of substitutes, such as cement and steel. In the discussion on this question the reliability of the steel railroad cars in case of accident was brought strongly into question, as was also the use of steel in buildings in case of fire.

The opinion of most of the largest manufacturers that the business during the past year had been extremely quiet, but in view of the heavy curtailment of production on account of labor and weather conditions there would shortly be a healthy demand. This was predicated to some extent on the unusual demand by the railroads for lumber of all kinds.

A feature of the day's session was the raising of $3,000 in about five minutes for the industrial work of the national Y. M. C. A.

Officers will be elected tomorrow and it is expected that strong resolutions will be adopted condemning the existing prosecutions of lumber associations by the federal government.

NOTORIOUS DANCE HALL CLOSED BY NEW YORK

New York, February 7.—The Haymarket, a notorious dance hall in the tenderloin district, is no more. After a long crusade by vice exterminators for the suppression of the place the commissioner of the bureau of licenses today revoked its dance license. The Haymarket probably was the best known of New York's 700 dance halls and one of the remaining reminders of the tenderloin district as it was years ago. Slumming parties frequently included the Haymarket in their itinerary of "interesting" places to be visited.

FARMERS OF TIFT HEAR LECTURE ON LIVE STOCK

Tifton, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Experts from the United States department of agriculture and the State Agricultural College, lectured at the Second District Agricultural School Tuesday to an interested audience of the pupils of the school and a number of farmers from the section surrounding. The subject for the day was the care and breeding of live stock.

Dr. E. M. Nighbert, of the United States bureau of animal industry, lectured on the cattle tick, as well as other insects that threaten the welfare of live stock. He said the dipping vat was the best and most effective method of getting rid of the cattle tick, whose ravages in the south were of an extent perhaps not fully understood. Dr. Bahnson, state veterinarian, talked on live stock, their breeding, selection and feeding.

The visitors were entertained at dinner in the school dining hall, being served a delicious and substantial meal prepared by the cooking class of the department of domestic science.

In the afternoon, the Jefferson Powder Company, of Birmingham, Ala., gave a demonstration on the school farm of the use of dynamite for blasting stumps, felling trees, excavating for tree planting and subsoiling. The demonstrations were superintended by J. B. Brown and were valuable object lessons to all who saw them. The use of dynamite for subsoiling is new and the demonstration showed that the cost of subsoiling an acre of land was but little more than that with the plow and the work was much more effective, the ground being broken deeper and more thoroughly pulverized.

WHO HAS CONTROL OF THE INDUSTRIAL FARM?

The question of jurisdiction over the Fulton county industrial farm was raised at a meeting of the board of commissioners Wednesday morning when Philip Weltner, assistant solicitor of the children's court, applied for additional funds to improve the detention home at 164 Central avenue.

After a long discussion the board decided to turn the matter over to the committee in charge of the industrial farm and this committee will hold a consultation with the judges of the superior court and decide the question of jurisdiction.

The report of Officer Gloer, who is in charge of the detention home, showed that ninty-seven children were handled at the home during the past month and their cases disposed of in different ways.

USED HOT IRON ON BABY TO BREAK HIM OF HABIT

Johnstown, Pa., February 7.—Edith Ford, housekeeper for Adam Sheets, of Naseby-Gloo, twelve miles from this city, was committed to jail in default of $400 bail here today, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery on the allegation that she seared the back of Sheets' 3-year-old son with a hot poker. The Ford woman said she burned the child to break him of a habit, but did not know the implement was so hot.

1,500 DELEGATES IN CHATTANOOGA

Address on China Features Session of Presbyterian Convention.

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 7.—The feature of the morning session of the convention of the Layman's Missionary Movement was the address of the Rev. W. H. Hudson, Kashing, China, a missionary on leave of absence. His theme was a discussion of the situation in China, the external and internal causes of the revolution. He said that the external causes were expansion of western commerce and the impact of western civilization.

The internal cause was the manifestation of the racial outbreak between the Chinese and the Manchus and the reorganization of a new national life. The present status of the revolution, he said, was an entire breakdown of the old order, political, social and commercial. The entire national life is in a state of solution, and there is now a crisis in leadership, with the advantage on the republican side. The outlook involves the greatest problem that the world has ever seen, the hope of capacity of the Chinese people, the constructive power as to Protestant Christianity.

The attendance of today's session showed marked increase over that of the first day, and it is estimated that fully 1,500 delegates were present.

The women in attendance on the convention held a special meeting this morning and heard addresses on "The part the women have contributed to our missionary work," by Rev. S. H. Chester, D. D., Nashville; "What the women may do in the future," Rev. R. O. Flinn, D. D., Atlanta; open conference, presided over by Mrs. J. Calvin Stewart, Richmond, Va.; "Our share in the China famines," by Rev. B. C. Patterson, Suchien, China.

MORGAN GIVES $50,000 TO GERMAN UNIVERSITY

New York, February 7.—To enable the University of Goettingen, Hanover, Germany, to retain the supremacy claimed for its library as a continental center for American and English literature, J. Pierpont Morgan has handed over $50,000 to the university at which he was a student in his youth. This announcement was made here tonight by Dr. Thomas C. Hall, professor of Christian ethics at Union Theological seminary and another former student at Goettingen, who acted as intermediary in the bestowal of the gift.

Condition of King Frederick.

Copenhagen, February 7.—Hope was revived this evening by the bulletin issued by the attending physicians concerning Frederick's condition. It reads:

"The pulmonary inflammation has not increased and the cough is abating. The king passed a quiet day. His appetite and strength are good."

MADE ARRANGEMENTS FOR HER FUNERAL

Upon being told that she would die from tuberculosis, Miss Alta Stephens, aged 30 years, who lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stephens, in Druid Hills, last week supervised all funeral arrangements from the construction of her shroud to the selection of a grave. With a smile on her lips, she expired Monday afternoon.

Miss Stephens had been ill for several months, and the attending physicians, upon discovering her condition to be hopeless, informed her of the fact. She accepted the forecast of her fate calmly, and immediately afterward consulted her relatives about funeral and burial arrangements. She first selected the pallbearers, which were named as six of her girl friends, and chose an honorary escort of six from her male companions. She then explained her choice of a shroud, and how it should be made, and selected the church in which her funeral would take place, and asked that her body be buried in the church yard.

The funeral was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the Peachtree church, and the interment took place as she requested.

She was a relative to young Carl Brownlee, who last summer was drowned in the lake at Piedmont park.

REDUCTION FOR COUNTY PROPERTY TAX URGED

A reduction of 15 per cent on county property tax payers was urged by Judge John S. Candler and J. R. Nutting, chairman of the city finance and city tax committee, at the regular meeting of the board of county commissioners Wednesday morning. This reduction, stated the two city officials, would result in many tax payers giving in much of the personal property which has heretofore been unlisted in the tax returns.

The request was that on personal property the county tax payer should be made to pay only 75 per cent of the assessed city valuation, which is 60 per cent of the property value. This would cause the county tax to be collected on a 45-per cent of the actual value basis, while at present it is collected on a 60-per cent basis.

After there had been much discussion, Commissioner Anderson ruled that the body was without authority to pass upon such a resolution.

STUDENT INJURED BY NEW PUSHBALL

Athens, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) The first time the big new pushball was taken out on Sanford field this afternoon for practice, one student was seriously hurt. Bird Little, a freshman from Duluth, was struck by the tightly inflated sphere and immediately had convulsion after convulsion. It was thought that his neck was broken, but it has developed that a severe concussion of the brain was the injury.

Late tonight he was showing signs of coming to himself, though it is not known how badly he may be injured.

CHINESE REPUBLIC ISSUES PAPER MONEY

Seattle, Washington, February 7.—Three new ten-dollar treasury notes of the "Chung Haw Republic" with its capital at Nanking, China, have been received here. The bills contain on their face the following in English:

"The Chinese Haw Republic promises to pay the bearer ten dollars in gold on its formation at the state treasury or its agents abroad.

"Sun Wen, president.

"Lee Chenone Hop, treasurer."

There is also a picture of the blazing sun with rays of light radiating to the four corners. The back of the bills are engraved in Chinese and contain a picture of the republican flag.

COTTON SCORES ANOTHER ADVANCE

Last Prices 19 to 23 Points Higher—Market Closed Steady.

New York, February 7.—There was an active and more or less excited advance in the cotton market today, with all positions making new high records for the movement, owing to firmness in Liverpool, and reports of a continued spot demand in the south. The close was steady and last prices were from 19 to 23 points net higher.

The opening was firm at an advance of from 13 to 23 points, in response to the very bullish showing of the Liverpool cables and heavy covering by recent sellers, who appeared to have been rendered nervous almost to the point of panic by the renewed firmness of the English market, and the failure of overnight advices from the south to indicate any such weakening of the spot situation as was talked of here late yesterday. Stop orders were caught on the initial advance, but some of the recent big buyers took profits very freely at the opening figures, and the market eased off 8 or 9 points from the best during the late forenoon in consequence. The undertone, however, was by no means weak and exports of higher southern spot markets caused a renewal of the covering movement during the afternoon, when there was also more support from leading trade sources, and the highest prices of the day were reached on the late trading with May contracts selling at 10.05 or 24 points above the closing price of yesterday, about 34 points above the low level of yesterday morning and 135 points above the low records of the season made last December. Closing prices were within 2 or 3 points of the best.

Private cables from Liverpool attributed the strength there to light offerings and active covering, while it seemed the general impression in the local market that the upward movement was attributable to the firm ruling of the southern spot situation and a better demand from domestic spinners. Reports that the Lawrence, Mass., strikers were threatening to bring about a general textile strike in New England appeared to be without influence.

Receipts today 60,016 bales, against 57,067 last week and 38,371 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 12,192, against 5,452 last year; at Galveston, 13,494, against 10,372 last year, and at Houston 8,692, against 6,765 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet, 25 points higher; middling uplands, 10.15; do gulf, 10.40; no sales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, February 7.—Spot cotton closed firm, 1-16 up; middling, 10 1-16; sales, 2,270; to arrive, 800; low ordinary, 6¾, nominal; ordinary, 7 3-16, nominal; good ordinary, 8⅝; strict good ordinary, 9; low middling, 9 5-16; strict low middling, 9 11-16; middling, 10 1-16; strict middling, 10⅝; good middling, 10¾; strict good middling, 10 13-16; middling fair, 11⅛; middling fair to fair, 11½; fair, 11⅞, nominal; receipts, 12,192; stock, 283,341.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 10 to 19 points. The English market was much higher than due and the local market rose in sympathy. Private cablegrams said that the rise across the water was due to the strength exhibited on the close by the American markets yesterday. The weather map was again very favorable and the forecast promised continued fair weather, which had a tendency to hold the new crop deliveries down. Soon after the call, prices were 12 to 21 points up, the near months showing the widest advance. Longs were heavy profit-takers and their offerings caused a small reaction.

At the end of the first half hour of business, prices were 9 to 14 points up.

The market was unsettled and nervous during the greater part of the morning. Shorts were inclined to increase their lines, but the market did not have much selling power. Many telegrams and letters were received from the interior of the cotton belt, stating that the better weather, good condition of the soil and, above everything, the comparatively high prices now ruling, were leading farmers to abandon all thoughts of depressing their acreage this spring. News of this sort was freely circulated by the bear side, but its only effect was to hold the new crop deliveries from taking on the full advance seen on the old crops.

Late in the morning, buying orders were well distributed around the ring and the market immediately responded, standing 15 to 21 points up at noon.

In the afternoon session the market still maintained its advancing tendency. At 2 o'clock prices were 18 to 24 points over yesterday's close.

Dry Goods.

New York, February 7.—The cotton goods markets were stronger during the day. Jobbers are doing a more active house trade. Worsted and cotton yarns are advancing. Knit goods are growing firmer in consequence of the steady advance in yarns.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, February 7.—Closing spot cotton good business done prices 6 points higher; American middling fair, 6.37; good middling, 5.99; middling, 5.73; low middling, 5.43; good ordinary, 5.05; ordinary, 4.79. Sales of the day were 15,000 bales, of which 2,000 were speculation and export and included 13,600 American. Receipts, 11,000 bales, including 10,400 American. Futures opened firm and closed barely steady.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, February 7.—An active demand in Liverpool with small offerings from the south, caused an advance abroad of 10 to 11 points which, with slight fluctuations, was maintained in that market. Here, the opening showed the presence of several large buying orders, so prices advanced some 20 points at the start; then half the advance was lost on realizing profits, with the close firm at 22 points higher than yesterday. Many northern parties are buying on the belief that the forward engagements out of this crop have relieved the pressure of the largest crop on record, and that spinners, finding this to be the case, will finally pay much higher prices. The south is meeting the advance, selling its cotton freely on an ascending scale, but the northern speculation absorbs all the offerings and feels confident of its position. They look for 5 points advance in Liverpool tomorrow and a higher market here.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, February 7.—Cotton seed oil was active and higher on covering of shorts in March owing to the scarcity of crude offerings, speculative buying of later months and in sympathy with the strength in cotton. Spot closed 16 points higher and futures generally 8 to 9 points up from last night.

Spot—Prime crude, 4.54@4.90; do summer yellow, 5.50@5.75; prime winter yellow, 5.65@6.00; prime summer white, 5.60@6.00. Futures ranged as follows:

New Orleans, February 7.—Cotton seed oil prime refined, in barrels, per pound, 5.00; choice meal, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $28.50; choice cake, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $27.50.

STOCKS HEAVY; TRADING LISTLESS

Market Seems To Be Awaiting Developments at Washington.

New York, February 7.—The tone of the stock market was heavier today, but trading was too listless to effect substantial changes in the level of prices. Operations on the short side were resumed and for a time the attack on the list met with a fair degree of success. Later the market reversed itself and losses were largely made up. The movement, as a whole, was of the indecisive character to which traders have become accustomed during recent weeks. Outside participation remains extremely limited and the larger financial interests, to which the street looks for initiative, betray no inclination to take a part.

The disposition to await developments in Washington before making definite commitments was more pronounced today, owing to the expectation of a decision as to the congressional investigation of the "money trust." The latest turn in the government's contest with the United States Steel Corporation, also, was a factor in the market, the possibility of criminal prosecution of officials of the corporation being utilized as a reason for bear pressure. The general list was influenced, to a great extent, by the action of United States Steel, which was the heaviest of the leaders. Republic Steel issues also were weak. A heavy cut in the steel tariff, it was argued, would effect the independent companies more severely than the Steel Corporation.

Statistics of the country's output of pig iron in January were encouraging, as they showed a production slightly in excess of December and the largest since last April, with the exceptions of October and November. Operations of many furnaces were interfered with by severe weather conditions and it is regarded as probable that the present month's total will be larger. The January output foreshadows an increase in unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation in the monthly report to be made next Saturday. Estimates of the increase range from 400,000 to 500,000 tons.

The exportation of gold to Paris continued today with the engagement of an additional $2,000,000. Exchange rates were somewhat lower. In the money market the tone was easier, despite the further outflow of gold. Trading in bonds was more active. Another railroad offering was announced, the Chicago and Northwestern having put out $15,000,000 4s of the Milwaukee, Sparta and Northwestern.

Some of the inactive stocks again moved widely. Central Railroad of New Jersey sold at 380, an advance of 5 points and a new nigh record. Texas Company rose 5 points and May Department Stores, American Malt preferred and Mackay companies made heavy substantial gains. American Tobacco slumped 7 points, owing to disappointment that the directors took no action on dividends at their meeting today. Later the loss was largely recovered. Third Avenue and Sears Roebuck also were especially weak.

The bond market was fairly steady. Distillers' securities 5s were weak. Total sales, par value, $3,903,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Coffee.

New York, February 7.—Coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5@7 points, in sympathy with easier cables than expected, but offerings were light during the early trading and the market rallied on covering of shorts and buying by a prominent Wall street interest, which, however, was most generally believed to be for the account of leading trade interests, rather than stock exchange people. Prices worked up to a net advance of about 2 to 6 points on this demand, but later the market eased off again, under realizing and local bear pressure with the close steady at a net decline of from 1 to 5 points. Sales, 58,750 bags.

LACK OF DEMAND SENT WHEAT DOWN

Market Closed One-Eighth to One-Quarter Lower—Corn and Oats Off.

Chicago, February 7.—Although sympathy with foreign markets carried wheat upward for a time today, prices later sagged in a decided manner, owing to absence of both export and domestic demand for the cash grain. Closing prices were at a decline of ⅛@¼ to ¼c, under last night. Latest trading left corn ⅛c down, oats unchanged to a shade off, and hog products varying from the same as 24 hours before to a loss of a dime.

Wheat speculators on the bull side found themselves put to rout by a statement that No. 2 red of standard grade could be purchased in Baltimore at 8 cents a bushel less than the cereal would cost in Chicago. Besides, Minneapolis reported that cash inquiry there was unmistakably slow. In this connection, no one had the hardihood to assert that business was brisk at the sample tables here within easy view of the pit. Commission houses that were buyers on account of an advance at Liverpool, became heavy sellers later, wiping out all the early gains and something more in addition. Behind the rise at the British port was belief that Argentine shipments would be light, but this was largely offset by later news that the dock laborers at Buenos Ayres had concluded not to strike. The refusal of the French government to discuss a reduction of duties counted also in favor of the bears. Between the opening and the closing, May fluctuated from $1.03⅝ to $1.04⅜, with latest figures steady at $1.03⅝@1.03¾, a decline of ⅛@¼c net.

Fine weather making corn shipment easy took away all the benefit of an advance which that grain scored in the first part of the session. Illinois stations were reported crowded to the limit with farmers' loaded wagons. Primary receipts were much in excess of a year ago. May ranged between 67⅞ and 68⅝, closing steady, but ⅛c off at 68 cents even. Cash grades were easy at the finish. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 65½@66 for car lots.

Canadian shipments, duty paid, competing successfully in New England with forwardings from here, had a bearish effect on the market for oats. The bull leader in this city was said to have begun unloading. Outside limits touched for May were 52⅝ and 51¾@51⅞ with the close 51⅞@52, a net loss of a shade.

Provisions succumbed to the influence of the weakness in hogs and grain. At the final gong, pork was down 5 to 10c, but lard and ribs had not declined to exceed a nickel.

HERO OF NOVEL "MOHUN" PASSES IN CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, N. C., February 7.—Major Edwin Sully, hero of John Esten Cook's novel, "Mohun," confederate veteran and son of Thomas Sully, whose pictures adorn the Corcoran art gallery at Washington, D. C., died suddenly tonight at his home in Rockingham, N. C., following a stroke of paralysis. He was a native of Richmond, Va., and the remains will be taken there tomorrow for interment. He was 74 years old.

sentatives in congress, interstate and foreign commerce and judiciary.

Underwood for Integrity in House.

Mr. Underwood pointed out that the integrity of the house should be guarded against interference though this talk was entirely impersonal. Others who championed the Underwood substitute were not so reserved. They broadly stated that Mr. Bryan had tried to force the democratic congress to conduct an investigation of his own proposal, and in his own way.

Representative Pujo, of Louisiana, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, frankly declared that he never was a Bryan democrat, although he had voted for him.

Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, a member of the rules committee, criticised Chairman Henry for taking initiative action in the matter without consulting his colleagues on the committee. Others who declared they "would not put on the Bryan yoke," were Representatives Stevens, of Mississippi; Glass, of Virginia, and Garner, of Texas.

Ollie James, of Kentucky, senator-elect, and long-time friend of Mr. Bryan, was Mr. Henry's chief lieutenant in the debate and followed Mr. Underwood in closing the discussion. He urged the necessity of a special investigation.

Bryan Sent a Telegram.

A feature of the caucus was the reading of a telegram from William J. Bryan to Representative Henry, of Texas, who led the fight for investigation by a special committee. The telegram was as follows:

"I regard the caucus on the money trust inquiry as a crisis. Its results will largely affect our chances in the coming campaign. Please say to anyone who values my judgment that I am heartily with you in a demand for a special committee. There are many objections to an investigation by regular committees, but it is enough to know that Wall street prefers regular committees. We cannot afford to allow accused parties to select this jury. Success to you. If our party is afraid to offend the powerful financial interests that have fought us since 1896, we cannot expect public confidence.

"WILLIAM J. BRYAN."

that benches and swings be purchased from the improvement fund at a cost of not more than $300.

Grant Park: Your committee reports adversely upon the motion of Mr. Wilby to appropriate $250 for the widening of the walk on the west side of Lake Abana. We also recommend the following immediate purchases and improvements:

Painting Park avenue pavilion and benches at cost of	120
Purchasing and installing three drinking fountains	100
Purchasing benches and swings	200
Construction of arch at Sidney street entrance	350
Purchase of two 2-horse and one 1-horse wagons and harness	300
Repairing greenhouse by the department carpenter.

Your committee also recommends that the general manager be given authority to hire teams and proceed at once with the work on the 44 acres in the north end of Grant park according to plans already adopted.

Shot Out Old Grudge.

Mount Sterling, Ky., February 7.—When Richard Wright and Thomas Pitts, prominent citizens of Menifee county, both armed with shotguns and harboring an ancient enmity, met today they opened fire simultaneously on sight. Wright dropped mortally wounded, and both of Pitts' eyes were shot out.

my past masters," commented Colonel Roosevelt. "You may recollect that on several occasions I have said that I had nothing to say.

"'If I were to labor a month,'" he read from Lincoln's private and confidential letter of October 29, 1860, to G. D. Prentice, "'I could not express my conservative views and intentions more clearly and strongly than they are expressed in our platforms and in my many speeches already in print and before the public.'"

Referring to General Politics.

Colonel Roosevelt interrupted the reading here to say:

"I am not speaking now of my immediate problems, but referring only to general politics." He continued:

"'And now, my friend, do not misunderstand me. I have not decided that I will not do substantially what you suggest. If I do finally abstain it will be because of apprehension that it will do harm. For the good men of the south—and I regard the majority of them as such—I have no objection to seventy and seven times. But I have bad men to deal with, both north and south; men who are eager for something now upon which to base misrepresentations; men who would like to frighten me, or at least to fix upon me the character of timidity and cowardice. They would seize upon almost any letter I should write as being 'an awful coming down.'

"'I intend keeping my eye upon these gentlemen and not to unnecessarily put any weapons in their hands.'

"The politicians of those days," Mr. Roosevelt said in closing, "had much the same sort of problems confronting them as we have today."

GOVERNOR ALDRICH URGES ROOSEVELT FOR PRESIDENT

Lincoln, Neb., February 7.—That republicans should unite in supporting Theodore Roosevelt, is the closing statement of a synopsis of the presidential situation given out here today by Governor Chester N. Aldrich. Governor Aldrich originally was a La Follette man, but his delection to Roosevelt had been expected.

Secretary P. F. Corrick, of the La Follette League, after reading Governor Aldrich's statement in favor of Roosevelt, said the La Follette campaign would not stop short of the primaries.

Governor Aldrich asserts that the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt would prevent the unrest usually associated with a presidential campaign because his position towards business is known.

"In my judgment the evidence on every hand shows that the sentiment is rapidly crystallising around our ex-president, Theodore Roosevelt."

Governor Aldrich's statement is of great interest in this state, because of the meeting to be held next Monday of the progressive forces, at which the proposition of sending a delegation before the primaries, divided equally between Roosevelt and La Follette is to be considered.

WILLIAM TAFT INDORSED BY TERRELL REPUBLICANS

Dawson, Ga., February 7.—(Special.) At a mass meeting held in the courthouse here yesterday by Terrell county republicans, resolutions were adopted indorsing the administration of President William H. Taft and favoring his re-election. The following were elected as delegates to the approaching state convention of the republican party: Ben J. Davis, J. C. Styles, Lewis Jeffers and James Weston. Delegates were chosen to the third district convention as follows: B. J. Davis, J. C. Styles, R. F. Fitzgerald and E. J. Matthews.

REPUBLICANS OF HARALSON DO NOT INSTRUCT DELEGATES

Tallapoosa, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Republicans of Haralson county met at Buchanan at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, W. H. Kimball, chairman of the county committee, presiding. The following delegates were appointed: W. H. Kimball and Dr. E. B. Hutcheson, to the state convention to be held in Atlanta, February 14, 1912, and C. C. Howland and A. P. Bush to the district convention. A resolution was passed heartily indorsing the present administration, although the delegates were not instructed.

WILLIAM H. TAFT INDORSED BY REPUBLICANS OF WARE

Waycross, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—Delegates from Ware to the state republican convention were today instructed to vote for President Taft. Resolutions indorsing the present administration were passed and G. P. Washington, of Waycross, indorsed as chairman of the republican executive committee for the eleventh.

TAFT TRIES TO HARMONIZE REPUBLICANS OF VIRGINIA

Washington, February 7.—President Taft and Secretary Hilles made a determined effort tonight to assure peace among the republican factions in Virginia. At a conference with Republican National Committeeman Alvah H. Martin, of Norfolk, and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Cabell, who was formerly postmaster at Richmond, the president made it clear that he expected republican leaders in the state to "get together," forget factional differences and do their fighting for a "Taft" delegation to the republican national convention. According to friends of the administration, there has been some trouble between Mr. Martin and Mr. Cabell over the question of leadership in the state.

EXPLANATIONS ARE MADE OF THE FLORIDA G. O. P. SPLIT

Jacksonville, Fla., February 7.—Later advices from Palatka are that in reality, there was no split in the republican state convention held there yesterday. The independent convention which selected delegates to the national convention instructed for Theodore Roosevelt, was made up of contesting delegates who did not have credentials and who were refused seats in the regular convention.

These contestants then went to another hall and held a convention of their own. The regular convention was harmonious and enthusiastic for Taft, strong resolutions endorsing the Taft administration and instructing the delegates to the national convention to vote for Mr. Taft as the standard bearer of the party in 1912, being adopted without opposition.

EX-BANKER CARLISLE MUST SERVE IN PEN

Richmond, Va., February 7.—By affirming the verdict in the lower court at Charleston, S. C., the United States circuit court of appeals decided today that Milton A. Carlisle, former president of the National Bank of Newberry, S. C., must serve five years in the federal penitentiary for misapplying funds of the bank. Carlisle was indicted on 162 charges. He was acquitted by a jury on 157 charges and convicted on five. He appealed, but the higher court held that the South Carolina court had not erred.

WOODROW WILSON ON STANDPATTERS

They Are Half a Generation Behind the Times, Says the Governor.

Allentown, Pa., February 7.—Woodrow Wilson tonight delivered an address at the belated Jackson day celebration of the Lehigh Democratic Club. The club wanted Governor Wilson as its orator, but when he found it impossible to be here January 8 because of the dinner in Washington, the club awaited his convenience.

Governor Wilson declared there are fundamental errors in classifying men in party lines. Men of like opinion have found it hard to get together within the same party. He invited his hearers to a consideration of the state of the country.

"The stand-patters," said he, "are behind the times. Business has been advancing so rapidly that the law-makers are half a generation behind.

"Privileged business is obliging all men to fall in with the privilege. Today business is new. Politics is new. We must square politics with the facts and state of thinking."

Born a democrat, Mr. Wilson said he is now a convinced democrat with a firm adherence to the principles of democracy. The republicans, he said, would have this country governed by trustees, not by the people, but only for the people, to which he said he absolutely dissents.

The speaker said he "did not object so much to the size of corporation as to the use they made of the size. There should be a legal responsibility. It should be determined who controls and to whom they are responsible."

Abe Ruef to Testify.

San Francisco, February 7.—Abraham Ruef, former political leader of San Francisco, now serving a 14-year sentence for bribery, arrived today to testify in the trial of former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz for bribery. He will take the stand later. The venire was exhausted today and adjournment was taken until tomorrow, when a new venire of twenty-five names will be returned. Seven veniremen have been passed temporarily.

G. O. P. FACTIONS NAME DELEGATES

Roosevelt Crowd Meet in Afternoon—Taft Faction at Night.

At a meeting of the Taft faction of the republican party in Fulton county, six delegates, three white and three colored, with alternates, to the fifth congressional convention of February 14 were selected, and six delegates, three white and three colored, with alternates, to the state convention of February 14, were chosen. They are as follows:

To the state convention: White, H. S. Jackson, C. P. Goree, H. L. McKee, delegates; Judge J. J. Martin, J. F. Race, M. O. Markham, alternates; colored, H. L. Johnson, William Driscoll, E. L. Collier, delegates; R. T. Davis, C. McHenry, alternates.

There was a complete reorganization and a new county executive committee was selected, with H. L. Johnson as county chairman and S. A. Peters as county secretary.

The anti-Taft faction of the party met yesterday afternoon to name delegates to the two conventions.

Before electing delegates, the convention placed itself squarely and emphatically in the Roosevelt column for nomination. They also denounced lynching and urged that congress make lynching treason and that cases of that kind be tried by the nearest United States court.

The six delegates elected to the fifth district convention are L. G. Watts, Rev. C. Max Manning, T. K. Gibson, C. H. Townsley, A. Brown and T. H. Slater.

CARRIED OFF JEWELS VALUED AT $20,000

Chicago, February 7.—A man walked into a jewelry store here today, picked up two sample cases full of jewelry, walked out and has not been found by the police. In the cases were jewels worth $20,000, owned by a New York firm. They had been taken to the store by G. A. Holbrook, a salesman. As the man was leaving a footman stopped him, but was told the salesman had directed that the cases were to be taken back to a hotel. Later Holbrook appeared and learned the jewels had been stolen.

Third Victim of Riot.

Vidalia, Ga., February 7.—Jesse Flowers, colored, died today, the third victim of the riot yesterday at Cedar Crossing, this county. One of the trio was lynched. Officers today arrested Monk Peyton, a negro, and dodged a mob that was close behind him, landing him in jail at Lyons.

EXPECTED TO BE HANGED; GIVEN A LIFE SENTENCE

Marion, Ind., February 7.—Cecil Fordyce, 20, whose father lives in Derma, Miss., was today sentenced to life imprisonment for murder to which he pleaded guilty. Eleven days ago Fordyce shot and killed Clarkson Willcutts, a wealthy retired farmer, at the door of the man's home in an attempted hold up. Today he was indicted for first degree murder by the grand jury and pleaded guilty immediately. Fordyce said he was satisfied with life sentence, as he expected to be hanged for his crime.

ON THE EAST LAKE CAR LINE we offer a six-room bungalow that is a perfect gem of a home. First of all, it's well built, and with the very best material throughout. Is situated on a beautifully shaded lot, 50 by over 200 feet in depth. The lot is level in front, with a gradual slope to the rear, and is just ideal for chicken raising on a small scale.

Make a memorandum of this, and see us at once.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

An exchange of Atlanta real estate, involving approximately $30,000 worth of property, was the leading announcement in real estate circles on Wednesday.

M. C. Kiser's agency has sold for O. C. Long to J. F. Askew No. 347 North Jackson street for a consideration of approximately $20,000. Mr. Long took as part payment No. 639 Edgewood avenue, valued at about $10,000, in the trade. The exact consideration of both places was withheld.

The North Jackson street place is a frame apartment house, consisting of four six-room apartments. The lot fronts 53 feet on the east side of the street, between Angier avenue and Pine street. It has a depth of 112 feet.

No. 639 Edgewood avenue is a frame dwelling on the south side of the street, between Spruce street and Druid circle. The lot has a frontage of 80 feet with a depth of 190 feet.

Acreage Sales.

With the opening of the spring season of the real estate market, acreage seems slated to play almost as important part in the market as city property. Several sales and exchanges have already been announced this season, Tuesday's announcement of $30,000 worth of Putnam county acreage figuring in an $80,000 deal being followed yesterday by the announcement of more acreage sales aggregating $12,700.

They are as follows:

Johnson & Young have sold for Arthur T. Smart, of Dallas, Ga., to Fred Miles 100 acres on the Chattahoochee river for $80 an acre, or a total consideration of $8,000.

The land lies one-half a mile below the Bull Sluice dam, in Fulton county, and about 14 miles from Atlanta. Of this land about 25 acres are under cultivation and the rest is in timber.

The same agency has sold for F. M. Kinney to Mrs. M. C. Taurman 17 acres at Clarkston, Ga., for a consideration of $3,500.

The entire tract is of fine farm land and brought approximately $206 an acre.

The property is improved by a two-story frame dwelling and barns.

A third piece of acreage, consisting of 80 acres, in Bartow county, has been sold by Johnson & Young for B. S. Crane to Sam Wolf and Ike Minsk, the consideration being $1,200. The property consists of mineral lands.

Negro Apartments Sold.

J. H. Whitten, of M. L. Thrower's agency, has sold for Adler, May & Co. to two separate purchasers Nos. 174 and 176 Hilliard street for a consideration of $6,000 cash.

Wall Wight bought No. 174 and Mrs. Adah Chapman bought No. 176, paying $3,000 each.

The property consists of two adjoining negro apartment houses, each having four three-room apartments. The lots are 30x90 feet each. The property lies on the west side of Hilliard street at the corner of Lyons avenue.

Smaller Sales.

The following smaller sales were announced yesterday:

Johnson & Young have sold for Frank Lerele to John R. Pattillo and others the southeast corner of Washington and Randall streets, in East Point, for $800. The property consists of a vacant lot 150x175 feet.

The Harper Realty Company has sold for Miss Clara Perry, of Madison, to John C. Allen the southwest corner of Tenth street and Bedford place, a vacant lot, 50x180, for a consideration of $3,000.

The Atlanta Suburban Realty Company has sold for G. Lee to Dave Martin, a vacant lot, 45x170, on Randolph street, for $750, and through S. W. Haines to H. Luke, a lot, 50x223, on Paxton street, for $300.

Much Residence Building.

An aggregate of about $50,000 worth of small residence construction was announced yesterday:

Miss Lella Ross Wilburn announced the following buildings, for which she has drawn plans and which are now in the course of construction, the total cost being $28,000, of which amount $25,000 is for local work:

For W. H. S. Hamilton, a two-story house for $3,500 and a bungalow for $2,000, both in Decatur; for George Word, a two-story house in Ansley Park for $4,500; for W. Ellison Richards, a two-story house in Decatur for $3,500; for H. B. Chamberlin, a bungalow on Cypress street for $3,500; for H. N. Hurt, a two-story house on Spring street for $4,500; for J. S. Jenkins, a bungalow on North avenue for $3,500, and for E. A. Davison, a two-story house in Murphy, N. C., for $3,000.

The Grace-Lawrence Building Company announces the construction of five houses on Lake avenue, two houses on Douglas street and one on Vevado way, the total cost of which will aggregate $25,000.

al amount of stock and distributed same to its stockholders by way of dividends or without further charge therefor.

Petitioner shows that said stock has so rapidly increased in value that said company is paying dividends upon the par value thereof and the selling price of same has increased to something like $180 per each hundred dollars of stock.

Petitioner is further informed that said company is undertaking to sublet or lease its business and rights in the city of Atlanta to another company and in consideration therefor the stockholders in defendant company will receive shares in the sum of $150 for each hundred dollars worth of shares held in the old company, with a guarantee of 8 per cent per annum upon the stock now held by them in defendant company.

Petitioner shows that this rapid increase in the value of the stock of defendant company has been due entirely to the enormous income received in the operation of its properties in the city of Atlanta.

Charges Discrimination.

Petitioner shows that the prices of current and power charged by said defendant company, as hereinbefore set out, are the customary prices at which the public is supposed to be furnished service, and a small discount is allowed if same is promptly paid. Petitioner shows that defendant company discriminates in its service and furnishes current to some customers at a price less than others and that while the public is charged 10 cents per kilowatt-hour for current, that in some instances current is furnished at five or six cents per kilowatt-hour to particular customers. Petitioner charges that defendant company makes different charges to different customers and in this way there is an unfair discrimination and that the public is compelled to pay a very high price for the service rendered, but the defendant company undertakes to furnish, in particular instances, current at different rates and at less rates than those at which the service is generally rendered, and which are supposed to be the regular prices.

Petitioner shows that there is no uniformity in the matter of charging for service not only in the matters particularly mentioned.

The petition closes by asking for a rule nisi against the company to show cause why the prayer of petitioner should not be granted, and to produce all books and papers necessary to show what its expenses are and what volume of business it does in the city.

The report of the committee will go before council Thursday afternoon and as soon as adopted will be presented to the railroad commission which will set a hearing within a few weeks.

Loan Treaty Is Shelved.

Washington, February 7.—The United States-Honduras loan guarantee treaty, under which this country was to guarantee a $10,000,000 American loan to Honduras to refund its public debt, was shelved today by the senate committeee on foreign relations. The New York financial interests that were to make the loan have notified this government that the time within which their agreement was to be confirmed had expired and that it is no longer binding upon them.

ADVERTISING TALKS.

TISERS whom they patronize.

This organization is only four months old, but, AS THE RESULT OF ITS EFFORTS, similar organizations are already being formed throughout the country.

Mrs. Mary Craft Gallup, President of the Women's Publicity Club of Boston, at a recent meeting said:

"It is our hope to VISIT AND BECOME THOROUGHLY ACQUAINTED WITH THE NATIONAL ADVERTISERS who have factories or branch factories in Boston, so that we may know whether they are telling the truth in their advertisements or not. The day will come, I am sure, when ADVERTISERS WILL BE COMPELLED TO DESCRIBE THEIR WARES AS ACCURATELY as, under the Pure Food Laws, the sellers of canned goods and medicines are obliged to describe theirs."

If the women of the country will ORGANIZE to protect themselves against fraudulent advertisers it will not be long before there won't be any fraudulent advertising, for whatever women undertake to do they generally accomplish.

It is a well-known fact that WOMEN READ ADVERTISEMENTS VERY CAREFULLY AND CRITICALLY, and they can tell when they are fooled quicker that the average man. The firm that does fool them once or twice might as well close its doors, because when women make up their minds that a firm is not giving them a square deal they will let the whole world know about it.

If, in addition to the men's advertising clubs that are forming so rapidly in all parts of the United States, the women of the different communities organize to protect themselves against deceptive and fraudulent advertisements, THE FIGHT IN BEHALF OF INTEGRITY IN ADVERTISING WILL BE WON IN A VERY SHORT TIME.

"Altogether, I am confident that the party that leaves Athens at 1 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon will be truly representative of northeast Georgia. I could not say more and if the entries continue to come in as they have this first day, there is no telling how many cars will be in line for a number of farmers on R. F. D. routes telephoned the office that they would join the procession."

It was voted that the famous Kilties band, in full costume, be sent out to Buckhead on large automobile trucks and act as the advance guard in leading the procession through Peachtree and Whitehall streets and to the end of the run at the auto show doors of the auditorium.

Mr. Rogers thanked those present for this most unexpected tribute and assured them that it would mean almost the depopulation of northeast Georgia when this latest honor was made known, as everyone would insist upon being a member of the party.

Manager Homer C. George made a most enthusiastic talk and reported the very last detail as having been properly arranged.

The following were named as a special reception committee to go out to Buckhead and welcome Tht Athens Tribune sociability run Tuesday afternoon: Wylie West, chairman; B. S. Abbott, C. H. Johnson, Frank Steinhauer, J. D. Palmerlee, L. S. Crane, E. L. Scoonten, B. H. Ooley, J. W. Goldsmith, Jr., E. P. Horton, E. P. Northcutt and M. T. LaHatte.

To the Electric Chair.

Newark, N. J., February 7.—Allis MacFarland, found guilty of murdering his wife, Evelyn, by giving her cyanide of potassium, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair at Trenton in the week beginning March 17. As had been expected, counsel filed notice of an appeal this afternoon. This will act as a stay of execution, unless the case be finally disposed of before March 17, which is unlikely.
